FLOOD DEATH LIST NEAR 150

REHABILITATION AND RELIEF WORK UNDER WAY

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 20.—Earlier this year the Republican National Committee prepared a series of radio skits designed to show up the New Deal. It did not seem possible that anything more vapid could be conceived, but that conclusion was reached without taking into account boondoggling.

If the first radio offering of the Interior Department's office of education is a sample of what is to follow, the WPA has the G. O. P. beaten to a stand-still. An old fashioned joke book has by comparison the wit, sophistication and philosophy of Anatole France.

It has been said that the average intelligence of the radio audience is that of a 12-year-old, but if this program was evolved on that basis it is a mean slur on the mental capacity of the young.

The broadcasting companies that objected to the Republican effort because it dramatized political issues should ban this for fear it might give the babies bad dreams. They have instead given it $2,000,000 worth of free air. "Idiots' Delight" would be a good title for the series.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One certain man didn't mind yesterday's sloppy weather. On Pollock avenue, Thursday, Young Pa Newc observed a man washing his car, on the street.

* * *

A young lady told Young Pa Newc this morning that she observed a flock of ducks flying exceptionally low above North Mercer street, Thursday.

* * *

Mrs. Lawrence Stevenson gives enthusiastic praise to the excellent work being done by the Margaret L. Henry children's home and the happy, home-like atmosphere that has been created there by Miss Henry and her helpers, Mrs. Madge Place and Mrs. Lyda Green. When Mrs. Stevenson stopped at the home the other day the 9th birthday of Patricia Churchfield was being celebrated. Every child's birthday is marked in some special way—often by having ice cream and cake at the dinner tables.

* * *

Pa Newc is informed that road conditions were much worse in Ohio than they were in this vicinity. Local people, accustomed to drive back and forth from Youngstown, were unable to get through until yesterday.

* * *

Someone, either maliciously, or unintentionally started a rumor yesterday that the Pymatuning Dam was in danger, and that a flood was expected here. If such a thing occurred we would have ample warning in New Castle, and citizens would be notified. Fortunately, the dam is in no danger whatever. It is an unusually substantial structure.

* * *

Mrs. C. J. Roeder, of Buffalo, N. Y., who is visiting friends here, talking with her husband, a street car operator there, states that storm conditions in Buffalo were unusually severe. Twenty inches of ice and snow cover the streets of Buffalo.

New England Held In Grip Of Record Flood

Hundred And Fifty Thousand Are Believed Homeless In Area

DAMAGE PLACED HIGH IN MILLIONS

National Guards On Duty To Prevent Looting In Large Cities

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mar. 20.—Wallowing in the worst flood in history, with a death toll of 23, scores missing, 150,000 homeless and more than $150,000,000 damage, New England today struggled against famine, disease and looting.

With flood waters expected to reach their peak today, many sections of the inundated areas were placed under virtual martial law.

National guardsmen patrolled streets of cities, including Lowell, Haverhill, Lawrence, Springfield and Hartford, Conn., with orders to shoot looters on sight. All boats were ordered seized in Springfield and manned by navy sailors rushed there from a warship in Boston. Thirty thousand were homeless in the Springfield area.

Plan Reconstruction

Governor James M. Curley launched plans to raise $5,000,000 state bond issue to finance reconstruction. Other millions of dollars were expected to be transferred from WPA projects for flood damage reconstruction throughout New England.

Worst danger of disease from polluted water centered around Holyoke, where a large quantity of antityphoid serum was taken by a national guard airplane. The State Department of Health advised all citizens to be inoculated. Outbreak of typhoid was also feared at Brunswick, Hallowell, Randolph and Gardiner in Maine.

Nearly half a million factory and mill hands were out of work as waters flooded the plants and power companies, shutting off power. Many communities, including all of

Pittsburgh Bridge Has Not Collapsed—Rumor Runs Wild

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Thousands of persons massed in the down town section were thrown into a frenzied panic today when a false report spread that the Sixteenth street bridge, one of the city's chief traffic arteries over the Allegheny river, had collapsed while crowded with pedestrian and motor traffic.

In less than half an hour the false rumor, running like wild fire, had raced all over the lower section of the city.

Thousands of persons speed to the district near the bridge. Police cars

Peace Issue Is Up To Germany Declares Eden

Tells House Of Commons Of "New Locarno" Plan Reached In London

BRITAIN AND ITALY PLEDGE MILITARY AID

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Mar. 20.—Great Britain, France, Belgium and Italy have plainly placed the issue of peace up to Germany, the fifth Locarno power, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden informed the House of Commons today, and if the Reich refuses their proposals she will be faced by a virtual four-power military alliance.

Outlining the "new Locarno" plan reached in London this week, which already has been approved by the British, French, Belgian, and presumably the Italian governments, Eden declared it was "unfortunately necessary" to envisage the possibility of failure of the new Locarno negotiations, and that therefore Britain and Italy had pledged military aid to France and Belgium under certain circumstances.

These circumstances would include invasion by Germany.

The new plan as outlined by Eden—it was being laid before parliaments of other concerned powers simultaneously—provides nature in

Edenburg Viaduct Bids Are Asked

Construction of the long awaited Edenburg viaduct seems fairly well assured following the advertisement today of the opening of bids for the construction of the viaduct and nearly a mile of highway by the state highway departmen.

The advertisement states that sealed proposals will be received in the office of the secretary of highways, room 506, north office building, State Capitol, until 10 a. m. eastern standard time April 3, 1936 at which time they will be opened and schedule, and contracts awarded as soon thereafter as possible.

The bids will include a plate girder and reinforced concrete bridge, approximately 174 feet in length, a steel truss and plate girder bridge approximately 495 feet in length, the construction of approximately 5027 linear feet of bituminous surface on a native stone or modified crushed aggregate base, 18 feet wide, and 38 feet of borrow surfacing 18 feet wide and 100 feet of shoulder grading. The construction will be on route 444 section 1, and route 37010 spur E.

The notice of the opening of bids is another step in the endeavor to eliminate dangerous grade crossings and also eliminate several bad curves. The new viaduct will be another link in the Benjamin Franklin highway which runs from Huntingdon, Ind., to Philadelphia.

Following the opening of the bids the contracts are expected to be awarded and it is hoped that construction will start sometime this spring.

Death Date For Bruno, March 31

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 20.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's execution was set today for 8 o'clock on the night of March 31, it was learned today when principal keeper Mark O. Kimberling issued invitations to news correspondents and official witnesses.

Charles Zied, convicted of the murder of William Feitz, a Camden city detective, is also scheduled to die that night and probably will precede Hauptmann to the chair unless he wins clemency from the court of pardons on an application to be heard March 26.

Youth Charged With Murder Says He Was Not Near Murder Scene

JURY MAY RECEIVE CASE BEFORE NIGHT

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Mar. 20.—Late this afternoon the fate of LeRoy Palmer, 28-year-old Grove City youth on trial in Mercer county court for the axe murder of Howard Sidley, gas station proprietor, on March 16, 1935, may rest in the hands of the jury.

Indications were this afternoon that the case may go to the jury late in the afternoon. There is a possibility it may not be turned over for deliberation until tomorrow.

Defense witnesses this morning testified that Palmer was slaughtering beef at the farm of Wilbur Hoffman, near Grove City, when the murder of Sidley occurred.

The blood stains found on Palmer's clothing, testimony brought out, was from the blood of the animals being butchered.

The youthful defendant took the stand to tell the jury that he was at Hoffman's farm, and Hoffman and Mrs. Palmer also testified to his presence there.

Former District Attorney J. W. Nelson took the stand and told the court and jury that Clyde Hovis, of Blacktown, had told him that he had positively identified Palmer as the man in the car at the scene of the murder the morning Sidley was killed.

Inundation Is Worst Flood Disaster In History Of Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Confronted with prospect of a water famine by nightfall, Leslie M. Johnston, director of public works, today appealed to citizens of flood ravaged Pittsburgh to obtain individual water supplies as quickly as possible from streams near their homes.

Johnston issued his appeal to "all civic organizations and service clubs" but also urged all citizens to take the same step.

"I urge you to go to the streams nearest your homes," the public works head said, "with all available containers and obtain all the water possible. The water can be brought in and made safe for drinking if it is boiled."

President Delays Vacation Start

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—President Roosevelt awaited last-minute reports from the stricken flood areas of eleven eastern states this morning before giving the word to start the train southward which will carry him to an 18-day fishing vacation in the Gulf stream.

It was anticipated the president would embark this afternoon on the vacation jaunt he postponed yesterday to take personal charge of organizing federal emergency relief for the flood sufferers. His special committee, headed by Secretary of War Dern, was given full authority to utilize every government agency to provide aid and comfort to the thousands made homeless by the spring torrents. A meeting of the federal flood committee was scheduled in the executive's office before noon for further instructions.

PENNSYLVANIA'S LOSS IS TREMENDOUS

Rehabilitation Work Is Now Being Launched In Affected Districts

With flood waters receding rapidly in the vast agricultural-industrial region from New England to the Ohio Valley, eleven stricken states counted their known dead at 141 today and, the menace of new fatalities removed by falling streams, turned from rescue to rehabilitation work.

The death toll was expected to rise during the day, however, with many of the missing—there are at least 72 persons unaccounted for at Johnstown, Pa., alone—being added to the list of known dead.

Sunny skies prevailed over most of the flooded areas, drying up much of the water left by receding streams and removing the threat of immediate new rainfall.

Zuk Is Facing Life In Prison

Guilty Of Murder In First Degree Is Verdict Of Jury

LIFE IMPRISONMENT PROVIDED BY JURY

Imprisonment in the penitentiary for the balance of his life faces Dimitri Zuk, found guilty of the murder of his wife Zina on December 10, 1935. At 3:35 Thursday afternoon the Lawrence county jury trying him brought in a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree with life imprisonment.

The jury had taken the case at 10:05 and deliberated it for about five hours. F. O. Alexander, who was the first juror selected, was named as foreman of the jury and returned the verdict.

Standing with his hand upraised, Zuk heard Mr. Alexander pronounce the findings of the jury but the verdict concerned Zuk but little. His counsel asked for the jury to be polled, which was done, and Zuk was retired to the county jail.

It is likely that his counsel will ask for a new trial within the next few days.

Johnstown Plunges Into Gigantic Task Of City Reclamation

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Mar. 20.—Believe me, Johnstown can "take it." The way this city is picking itself up after being knocked down by a flood only a whisper less disastrous than the almost legendary 1889 inundation is truly remarkable.

The town is virtually in ruins; property damage is very conservatively estimated at $25,000,000; at least 20 persons are known to be dead, 72 are missing. And yet Johnstown is plunging into the business of reclamation today with high heart and no complaints. There's a great deal of the early pioneer spirit that helped build this country in these hardy Western Pennsylvania steel and coal industry workers.

Flood Recedes

The flood waters which rose almost to the high mark of the 1889 disaster had completely receded from the city streets today, but disease, famine and vandalism and looting presented new dangers to the stricken populace. Mayor Daniel J. Shields told me this morning that 14 persons had been

Local Citizens Give Generously To Aid Sufferers

With contributions of food, clothing and money pouring in from every section of the city and county, New Castle and Lawrence county citizens were responding most generously to the appeal of the American Red Cross for help in the stricken areas of Pennsylvania.

Already this morning, the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, reported that contributions of money totalled $1,200 and the New Castle district was well on its way toward securing the quota of $4,250 assigned them.

Supplies On Way.

Following a conference called by Mayor Charles E. McGrath yesterday morning, which was attended by Red Cross officials, and interested citizens, a truck load of food was gathered up and early in the afternoon was on its way to Johnstown.

This morning, two big truck loads of clothing and another truck load of food was on its way to the Pittsburgh district, and more was coming in every minute.

Citizens were responding generously to the appeal for usable garments, and the two receiving depots in the Cathedral were visited by people bringing in more.

The American Railway Express company stated this morning that their trucks would stop and bring food or clothing to the receiving de-

EARLE SURVEYS FLOOD AREA

Makes Flights Over Districts

Finds Widespread Damage In Central Part Of Pennsylvania

BELIEVES WORST OF FLOOD OVER

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Leading his state's fight against forces of nature that have taken an alarming toll in flood victims, Gov. George H. Earle today planned to make his second airplane survey within two days of the water-devastated areas of the commonwealth.

Weather conditions permitting, the chief executive was expected to hop off for an airplane study of the lower Susquehanna valley and probably of the heavily-damaged Wilkes-Barre area in the northeast.

In personal surveys of the Susquehanna's west branch district, following his visit to the Johnstown area, the governor said he found "widespread destruction and distress" but added "there is every indication that the worst is over."

The governor's report on flood conditions was made in a state-wide radio broadcast upon his return from the air trip. Giving assurances that present conditions would not be permitted to occur again, the governor asserted:

"I have issued orders that all state departments are to cut red tape and proceed wherever conditions require quick action—without waiting for authority from Harrisburg. All officials in the field will be expected to act first and report afterward—and I will see personally that they are upheld and their actions approved."

Surveying the upper Susquehanna region under threatening and dangerous conditions, Governor Earle said he believed conditions were as bad in communities of that area, particularly at Williamsport, as he found them at Johnstown, although "there was no threat of a dam bursting such as we had at Johnstown."

FIRE CHIEF HOME FROM JOHNSTOWN

the streets are now covered with a layer of mud several feet deep. Fire trucks are pumping water from cellars and the work of cleaning up the city is going forward.

Although it was dark when they arrived in Johnstown, at 1:30 this morning, Chief Thomas was equipped with a powerful searchlight and was able to see the condition of things.

The entire business section and part of the residential district were ruined by the flood waters, buildings were collapsing and a scene of desolation presented itself on every hand.

There were no people about, however, the homeless ones having been taken in by their more fortunate fellow-citizens. Supply trucks were coming into the city in a steady stream, and the wants of the people were being well taken care of.

The reason many commodities imported from British possessions are packed in such odd-sized amounts as three and one-half or seven pounds, is that these weights represent respectively one-fourth and one-half of a "stone", legal English unit of weight equivalent to 14 pounds avoirdupois.

become a social force for the extension of the Kingdom of God."

In carrying out this purpose the Y. W. C. A. offers opportunity for talking over life's problems with other young people—encouragement to young women in developing a personal Christian philosophy of conduct in modern life—Stimulating young people to face realistically the daily human problem of racial, cultural and national differences, and helps girls with suggestions and stimulating for creative and happy use of free time—Training in the arts, hobbies and handicrafts—Sports and recreation for pleasure and the development of health and wholesomeness.

The Y. W. C. A. also helps with vocational advice in work adjustment—informal training for new skills—general educational background—finding jobs with real interest.

Clubs are organized for women and girls with common interests—a meeting place for friends—parties and good times for both boys and girls—opportunities for girls to meet with different but interesting backgrounds.

The mission of the Y. W. C. A. is expressed for all of us by the president of our national board, Mrs. Frederick M. Paist, when she says: "The association should be a group with which young people may discuss any problem. Our job is not to spread propaganda of any kind. No one element is going to run away with the Y. W. C. A., because we have women representing all walks of life at our helm. I feel we should stand by youth. Its plight is our greatest concern. It wants to know about today and tomorrow and rightly so."

Besides the fellowship of its members, this year the New Castle Y. W. C. A. is in serious need of the financial support of all its members in order that its work with over 5,000 women and girls may go forward in discovering a more abundant life.

The board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. are: Mrs. C. R. Balph, Miss Nancy E. Bechtol, Mrs. J. Glenn Berry, Mrs. O. P. Brown, Mrs Elder Bryan, Mrs. Mabel Douglas, Miss Virginia Duff, Mrs. Robert Eckles, Mrs. John E. Elliott, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Mrs. W. R. Hanna, Mrs. H. M. Kirk, Mrs. Roy Long, Mrs. C. militiamen patrolling the flood stricken towns.

Pennsylvania

Pittsburgh—48 known dead. Water rationing expected as supplies dwindle and, in one instance, are exhausted. No food shortage. Sporadic instances of power restoration. Water receding, reconstruction work started. Steel mills idle. Little looting.

Johnstown—20 known dead, 72 missing. Fourteen looters arrested, one reported shot. Virtual martial law in effect. City streets free of water. Residents warned to boil all water. Food supplies reaching city.

Central Pennsylvania—18 known dead. Rivers falling. Governor Earle plans new aerial survey of Susquehanna Valley. Rescue work proceeding at Wilkes-Barre. Williamsport hard hit with seven reported dead and refugees packed like sardines in schools and churches. An entire downtown block at Williamsport was reported destroyed by fire. Nearby Sunbury reported completely isolated.

Connecticut

Four known dead in Connecticut River Valley with river reported swollen to 35-foot depth. Hartford power on and off intermittently. Bulkeley bridge on main Boston highway under water. National Guardsmen patrolling flood area. Water still rising.

New England

Twenty-three reported dead. Rivers rising in some sections, receding in others. Virtual martial law in many areas. Many communities isolated. Hundreds of industrial plants closed. Fire in Ohio Carpet Company at West Warren, Mass., spreads to nearby dwellings. Rivers dropping in Vermont and recession expected to extend to Western Massachusetts and Northern Connecticut.

West Virginia

Ten dead in Ohio Valley, including Wheeling area. Rivers dropping. Sixteen thousand homeless refugees sheltered in auditoriums and churches. Wheeling Island, nine miles long, still under water.

Virginia And Maryland

New York State

Only one known dead. Rivers dropping. Binghamton, one of the hardest hit cities, nearing normalcy with food supplies coming and water supply expected to be restored by nightfall.

Washington, D. C.

Potomac dropping rapidly, danger past. Congress lays plans for long-range flood control program while pleas for millions in relief appropriations pour in. The house was asked to appropriate $50,000,000 to relieve flood-stricken Pennsylvania alone. President Roosevelt delayed his southern fishing trip awaiting latest flood area reports, meanwhile authorizing every government agency to provide aid for flood sufferers.

Red lights were placed along the east side of Highland avenue in the vicinity of Norwood Ave. last night, where a leak in a gas line developed.

* * *

With their 18-foot power boats loaded on trucks, members of the Great Lakes Coast Guard detail went through New Castle Thursday evening bound for the Ohio river. The intention was to put the boats into the river at Aliquippa and work on up to Pittsburgh.

John Kenney, of the Union Brewery, isn't in training, but should be able to compete in stair climbing contests for a while. Mr. Kenney was marooned in the Pittsburgher Hotel in Pittsburgh, and was located on the nineteenth floor. Elevator service was discontinued and the only thing to do was walk up and down, which he did.

Floods must have chased the stork out of the Pittsburgh district. Five lusty young citizens were reported born at the Jameson Memorial hospital since yesterday.

JOHNSTOWN PLUNGES INTO GIGANTIC TASK OF CITY RECLAMATION

arrested for looting and that one shooting had occurred, although details of this were lacking.

The mayor declared the city was under martial law, but there seemed to be some doubt about the technical accuracy of this statement in the part of officers of the regiment of militiamen who are here, who said they were taking orders from the mayor.

Martial Law In Effect

Be that as it may, the town was under martial law in effect. All liquor sales have been suspended, all business appertaining to anything but rehabilitation work has been halted and no one is permitted on the streets after 9 o'clock at night except policemen, national guardsmen and such officials and private individuals who have passes personally signed by the mayor.

From 9 o'clock last night until daylight, Johnstown resembled a ghost city . . . one of those abandoned communities that dot the mining areas of the far west. There was no light anywhere, except that given off in lightning-like flashes by the glistening bayonets of the militia, who stood unobtrusively in doorways and on corners.

I had one of the mayor's passes and was able to move about freely although frequently halted by a bayonet pressed at my chest while a stentorian voice boomed out a request to view my credentials.

Fire companies from twenty surrounding towns have their equipment in various parts of the city pumping water. One company came from Myersdale, almost sixty miles away.

Awaits Call From President

Mayor Shields, who has not been to bed since Sunday night, waited a phone call from President Roosevelt. Late yesterday the mayor put through a call to the White House in Washington and appealed to one of the president's secretaries for special aide for the stricken city.

The mayor is especially fearful for the 21,000 men who are on industrial payrolls here. None of them will be able to work for at least several weeks and some means of taking care of them must be found in the meantime.

Some 4,000 CCC and WPA workers have been pressed into service shoveling mud off the streets, which ranges in dept from 6 inches to 10 feet.

Sixteen major refugee stations have been set up, with from 3,000 to 5,000 homeless being cared for in them. The other 25,000 homeless are housed in private homes which escaped the flood and in hospitals and other institutions.

Hundreds Aid

It is virtually impossible to estimate the number of Red Cross workers, who have been rushed here from all nearby points. These include doctors, dentists, nurses and special attendants. Fifty local physicians have also been pressed into services by Dr. H. T. Kahle, national medical officers of the Red Cross.

Last night another false alarm was circulated that the Quemahoning dam had gone out and the result was painful to behold. Refugees, shaken already almost to the breaking point by a succession of shocks and suffering, were in a state of panic until authorities could convince them the report was untrue. Several hundreds were admitted to hospitals suffering from hysteria and one man is known to have suffered a heart attack when the news that the dam had given way was broadcast.

The Westmont Grove, a skating and dancing pavilion, has been transformed into a first aid station. The dance floor is filled with CCC cots on which some 600 people, men, women and children, are huddled, with blankets and whatever clothing and rags they could salvage draped about them.

Here and there between the cots are piled high with medical supplies and even dentistry supplies and equipment.

Hunts Lost Boy

When I was there late last night, William Laughlan, a forlorn old man, was running around frantically while doctors and nurses tried ineffectually to comfort him. He had lost his 11-year-old boy somewhere in flood waters.

Three births have occurred thus far among the refugees taken to this aid station. One occurred in the pavilion, with doctors and nurses standing close against each other to provide a human screen for the mother. Another birth occurred just outside the pavilion as the mother was being rushed to a hospital. The third birth took place in a private house. Two more flood babies were born during the night at Memorial hospital.

Dr. D. H. Matthews, who is in charge of the dentistry detail at the Westmont pavilion, performed 12 emergency extractions last night.

One case of scarlet fever was reported here, a child, who was rushed to Memorial hospital as soon as it was discovered. There was also one emergency appendicitis case and two or three cases of broken legs.

There has been one definitely known death in the last few hours and five unconfirmed ones.

Anthony Gallando, aged 5, died from pneumonia in Memorial hospital. The five others who died are tentatively listed as Mary Englehart, 63; Mrs. Coysler, Mrs. Quinn, Thomas Kastoff and Joe Renko. Details as to how and where they met death were not available.

The town is filled with escaping gas and there is grave fear of explosions. Open manholes jot the business and residential sections.

Robert E. Bondy, national relief director of the Red Cross, terms this one of the worst disasters in American history. While the fatalities of this flood in nowise compare with the 2,200 deaths in the 1889 flood, the present calamity, in Bondy's opinion, is in some respects worse than the original one. For example, from 7,000 to 8,000 homes are estimated to have been destroyed by the rampaging waters and from 25,000 to 30,000 made homeless. In 1889 Johnstown was a much smaller city than it is today.

Bondy said the general health conditions was fair, everything considered. There has been one reported case of diphtheria and quite a few children are known to be suffering from colds and sore throats.

The Red Cross executive warned residents against the danger of typhoid and urged that all water be boiled.

Vandals Try To Rob Liquor Store

(International News Service)

MILTON, Pa., Mar. 20.—National guardsmen patrolled this flood-ravaged Susquehanna river town today after vandals, roving in the wake of high waters, were balked in an attempt to rob a local State liquor store.

Police interrupted a band of vagrants as they were trying to gain entrance to the retail liquor store, one of many closed by order of Gov. George H. Earle. The would-be robbers were chased and there were no arrests.

Northampton, were without light, and scores of sections were isolated.

Rivers Still Rising

Rivers were still rising. Maine faced the worst flood situation in its history. More than 100 bridges were out and only one highway, along the coast, was passable to through traffic. Many hundreds were homeless. Wyman Dam, at Bingham, the largest dam in New England, was threatened.

In New Hampshire, Nashua was without lights and under virtual martial law. Two-thirds of Concord was under water. Thousands were homeless. All stores were closed in Manchester, where the Amoskeag Dam was threatened.

Gov. Charles M. Smith, of Vermont, ordered national guardsmen to duty at stricken points. The Vernon Dam still held with legionnaires and national guardsmen fighting to save it with sandbags.

In the Blackstone Valley of Rhode Island, 17 industrial plants were closed, with 12,000 workers idle. Scores were forced to flee homes at Pawtucket and Woonsocket as the Pawtucket river overflowed and the Lippitt Dam gave way.

Hartford, Conn., was threatened with loss of light and power. National guardsmen were called out to aid in evacuating hundreds of families from the flooded east side of the city.

A large dyke was swept away today unleashing a new torrent.

Water rushed with strong current through the streets of the city proper but light and power was maintained except on the east side. Only one patched up trunk telephone line maintained contact with the outside world.

FALSE REPORT ON BRIDGE COLLAPSE

and ambulances, sirens screaming, careened through the packed streets, their crews apprehensive of a new disaster in this flood-ravaged area.

The rumor originated when two gigantic timbers, floating down the Allegheny, struck a pier of the bridge, jarring the structure. Hundreds of foot passengers on the bridge raced for the shore, shouting the structure had collapsed.

One of them telephoned North Side Police Superintendent Jacob F. Dorsey and the radio patrol system which flashed a general alarm.

Deaths of the Day

George E. Mittinger.

George E. Mittinger, 66, former general superintendent of the New Castle Stamping & Enamel company here, is dead at his home in Cleveland following a short illness. Death occurred in his home at 2628 Fenwick road, University Heights, Cleveland.

From 1908 to 1912 he was superintendent of the stamping works here and from 1912 to 1922 he was general manager and vice president of the Petroleum Iron Works in Sharon, Pa. From 1922 to 1928 he was connected with the American Steel Container company of Cleveland. Mr. Mittinger was the inventor of the steel bilged barrel, common oil container.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. in Gesu Catholic church, Washington and Miramar boulevards, University Heights. Solemn high mass will be celebrated by Rev. Joseph Milet, S. J., assisted by Rev. B. J. Rodman, president of Carroll university.

Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Cooper

Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Cooper, aged 79 years, of 132 Elm street, died at 2 o'clock this morning after an extended illness. She had resided in New Castle for the past 23 years and was an active member of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church.

She leaves to mourn her, one daughter, Mrs. Lottie Guy, this city, and one son, by a former marriage, Thomas Edward Smith, of Geneva, Ohio.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Monday at St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, with the pastor, Rev. N. L. Meeks, in charge. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

Nicholas Uram, Sr., Funeral

Funeral services for Nicholas Uram, Sr., were conducted from the family residence on Atlantic avenue, Thursday at 9 a. m. Later the funeral cortege proceeded to the St. Nicholas Grove City church where impressive services were celebrated, with Rev. Joseph Milly officiating At the conclusion of the requiem mass the minister delivered a very touching sermon.

Interment was made in St. Nicholas cemetery, with Michael Lukacs, Stephen Ufnar, Sr., Stephen Ufnar, George Hrebik, John Hromyak and Andrew Dutko serving as pallbearers.

Mrs. Conway Funeral.

A requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock this morning for Mrs. Patrick Conway, of County Line street, by Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson.

Pallbearers were Leo Whalen, Patrick Ronan, James Reynolds, J. F. P. Kennelley, Thomas Scanlon, and Daniel Sullivan.

The body was taken to the McGonigle funeral home and will be shipped to Salem, Mass., Saturday morning, at 7 o'clock ,for interment.

PEACE ISSUE IS UP TO GERMANY DECLARES EDEN

Expect German Opposition

Germany is asked to take part in all negotiations, but also is told an international force of British and Italian troops would be garrisoned in the Rhineland—a provision she is expected to oppose violently.

Envisaging German rejection of the proposals, the four remaining Locarno powers outlined a course of action to offset this. They would go ahead with their own substitute for the now-shattered Locarno treaty, and the substitute would provide for close collaboration of the general staffs of the four powers.

"The House will agree the proposals are not ill designed to meet the present grave emergency,," Eden said. "The British government is prepared to accept these proposals, and it is our earnest hope the German government will also look upon them in this light.

The German government has stressed their wish for relaxation of the tension which can only lead to disaster. It is now for them to show what contribution they are willing to make to this end.

"In the conversations between the Locarno powers the British object has been two-fold. We have sought to meet the peril—it has been a real peril—of the immediate and gravely critical international siuation, and we have sought to create opportunity of settlement of western Europe on a firm and enduring foundation.

"In these arduous tasks we believe we have made important progress."

RAIL SERVICE TO PITTSBURGH IS RESUMING TODAY

P. R. R. And B. & O. Operating Again; P. & L. E. Is Repairing

The first Pennsylvania railroad train to run into Pittsburgh since Wednesday morning left here at 11:30 a. m. today and the second left here at 12:10 p. m., the railroad announced.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad's Pittsburgh train service also resumed this morning, regular trains being routed over its former main right-of-way through Ellwood City, Zelienople and Evans City.

"No service as yet" was word from the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie shortly after noon. Sections of its tracks were still under repairs.

The Pennsylvania and P. & L. E. announced that large emergency crews were clearing their right-of-ways as rapidly as they could. Tests were being made to determine the safety of train operation over affected areas.

Later announcements were expected from the roads this afternoon.

The B. & O., between New Castle and Pittsburgh, now uses the P. & L. E. ordinarily. In this emergency it is making use of its former main line.

OPPORTUNITY

Little David, visiting at the home of a neighbor, was given a piece of bread and butter, and he smiled a polite: "Thank you."

"That's right, David," complimented the lady of the house. "I like to hear little boys say "Thank you.'"

"Well," said David after a little thought, "if you would like to hear me say it again, you might put some jam or jelly on the bread."

"Sight-Seers Stay Out Of Flood Zones"

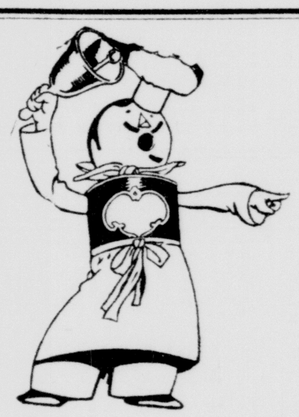

—HIGHWAY PATROL

Roads Clogged By Automobiles According To Reports

"Sight-seers, especially in automobiles, should stay out of the flood zone. The cars are congesting the highways. No person should drive to the Pittsburgh or Johnstown districts unless they are going there on official' or emergency business, said a bulletin issued today by members of the State Highway Patrol.

"We have received a great many telephone calls asking road conditions in the Pittsburgh and Johnstown districts. The greater majority of the calls came from persons who wish to go there for sightseeing.

"No one should travel to any of the flood zones unless they are going there on official or emergency business," the patrolmen stated.

BREWSTER-LEAVERTON WEDDING ON THURSDAY

In the First Presbyterian church Thursday, March 19, at 12:35 o'clock, the wedding of Ethel J. Brewster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Brewster, of the Hileman apartments, and D. Lorne Leaverton, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Leaverton, of Painesville, O., was solemnized.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. McIlvaine, D. D., and attendants were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leaverton, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, and Fred G. Brewster, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a becoming costume of midnight blue crepe de chine with contrasting accessories, and a shoulderette of gardenias and sweet peas. Her attendant was attired in a dark blue dress, with contrasting accessories, and her flowers were roses and sweet peas.

A wedding dinner was served at 1:15 to the immediate families in the home of the bride. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Leaverton left for a short wedding trip concluding which they will reside in Painesville, O.

The bride attended New Castle schools and is well and popularly known in this city. The groom attended Painesville public schools and is a graduate of Painesville high school, class of '26. He is a member of the National Honor society.

1916 Kensington

Members of the 1919 kensington will be entertained at a 7 o'clock dinner next Tuesday evening in a downtown tearoom, by Mrs. D. D. Valiensi, of Lincoln avenue. This is a change from the usual evening meeting with refreshments after the evening's pastimes.

ELKS CARD PARTY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Even though the weather was undesirable Thursday evening, still a fairly large number of men and women attended the card party in the Elks club for members and friends. Hostesses were Mrs. E. C. Foster and Mrs. Bart Flynn.

Twelve tables were in play for cards, winners of lovely awards being as follows: Bridge, Mrs. Earl Wallover, Mrs. G. Airesman, F. D. Taylor, Dr. Howard Smith; 500, Mrs. Jack Hannon, Mrs. Edward Garner, Joseph Crable, S. H. Hannon; bingo, Mrs. Harry Wettich, Mrs. Cliff Colgan, Lillian Moran, Katherine Frey, Mrs. Elmer Fehl, Sam Ross, Ben S. Agnew, Mrs. E. F. Ryan. Refreshments concluded a very delightful affair.

The next party will take place on April 2, with these hostesses in charge: Mrs. J. Earl Dukes, Mrs. C. H. Buell, Mrs. Ben S. Agnew, Mrs. Edward F. Ryan.

LEGISLATIVE GROUP TO MEET THURSDAY

Legislative committees of the Woman's club and New Castle section, National Council of Jewish Women will meet in the home of Mrs. W. L. Cosel, North Mercer street, next Thursday afternoon, March 26. Efforts are being made to secure a speaker for the afternoon.

Kumfy Klub

A meeting of the Kumfy Klub will take place tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinney, Croton avenue.

CHILDREN'S PARTY ON THIRD BIRTHDAY

Eight happy little boys invaded the home of Mrs. Harold Simkins in Logan street on the afternoon of March 17 to celebrate the third birthday of her son, Ronald Eugene.

Various toys were provided for the boys, while their mothers passed the afternoon playing bridge. When lunch time arrived, Mrs. Simkins grouped the youngsters on the living room floor for a daintily appointed lunch in green and white tones. A large birthday cake with three lighted candles featured.

Aides in entertaining were Ronald's grandmother, Mrs. E. M. Johnston, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. H. H. McCombs. The little chap was presented with many lovely gifts to honor the occasion.

JUNIOR READING HAS FIRST ANNIVERSARY

At small tables centered with flowers suggestive of spring, daffodils and roses, places were arranged for 24, including several special guests, Mrs. Charles Greer, honorary president of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Laura Parker, past president of the Senior Reading circle, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, state chairman of Conservation, Federated Women's clubs, Mrs. E. D. Marvin, sponsor of the Junior Federation was unable to be present.

These were introduced by the president, Miss Edith Cleaveland and after-dinner speeches from the prominent club women were instructive and much enjoyed. They spoke of the work other Junior groups are doing and encouraged the younger women for future activities. In brief remarks by Miss Cleaveland, the group was told it is a well known fact "that the first year is always the hardest," but the way would be easier from now on.

When the evening's entertainment was concluded, a group of the girls visited the home of Miss Elizabeth Milholland, on Winter avenue, and presented her with the beautiful flowers. Miss Milholland, who was the first president of Junior Reading circle, has been ill for several months, but was able to come down stairs to greet the girls last night.

B. N. W. Club

Mrs. Elmer Giering, of the Youngstown road, entertained the B. N. W. club at her home Wednesday evening.

Special guests were Mrs. R. W. Harris and Miss Margaret Dimond. The high honors for bridge were won by Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Bessie Evans.

Later refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be April 8 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hawk, Englewood avenue.

Woman's Club Sponsors Annual Fashion Parade

Refreshing as the early days of Spring, the annual Parade of Fashions for Easter and summer of 1936, held Thursday evening, in the New Castle Dry Goods Store, was a distinct pleasure for the nearly 200 people attending as well as a success for the sponsors, the Woman's club of New Castle.

Darling kiddies, pert sub-debs, beautiful women and most attractive matrons modelled smart ready-to-wear in ginghams, organdies, knit wear, suits and coats of both the tailored and dressy types, afternoon dresses, formals for dinner and dancing, with accessories that were snappy and up-to-the-minute.

Models to whom the club is deeply appreciative for their efforts were: tiny tots, Mary Alice Falls, Barbara and Jerry Bintz, Winifred Kisthart, teen-age group, Carolyn Cosel, Marjorie Thomas, Carol Henderson, Marian Book; young women, Misses Ruth Stevenson, Mary McBride, Mary E. Wilson, young matrons, Mrs. David Connery, Mrs. James Hurst, Mrs. R. E. Conner, another little older group, Mrs. Ben S. Agnew, Mrs. Ray Horchler, Mrs. Harry Dinsmore, Mrs. Clarence L. Davis. Mrs. W. A. Pond, who was chairman of this committee also made an especially good model.

The show was climaxed by a bridal party depicting a bride and bridesmaid twin set suggesting the Gay Nineties period. The bride, Mary Jane Metzler was in white dotted net with the finger tip veil falling from a cap with off-the face brim, and her long train was carried by little Barbara Bintz, who wore a frock of nile green net. Jane Allen and Betty McConahy, in nile green and petal pink dotted net with hats to match, were the bridesmaids. Winifred Kisthart was flower girl in ankle length yellow taffeta.

Mrs. Verie Lee of the ready-to-wear department, had charge of the display, assisted by Miss Hannah Rubenson of the millinery department; Miss Hannah Richards, subdebs, Miss Dennison, tiny tots. Harry J. Culliford was announcer and cooperating with them were store managers and several department women to all of whom, together with the committee from the Woman's club, much credit is due for an outstanding event.

After the style parade, cards were in play on the second floor with Mrs. Gayl Blim, chairman of this committee, and others assisting. These included: Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, Mrs. George W. Short, Mrs. Edgar Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Ramsey, Mrs. H. N. Drio, Mrs. Ray D. Rhodes, Mrs. Lyle Hughes, Mrs. Charles E. Allen, 32 tables were in play with prizes for each table.

As general chairman for last night's event, Mrs. John E. Elliott was most efficient and she was assisted by other capable club officers and members, Mrs. R. S. Tannehill, president, Mrs. R. F. G. Harper, Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, Mrs. Orville Brown, Mrs. Earl W. Guy, Mrs. W. A. Pond, who formed the reception line. Harry C. Urmson assisted with the tickets.

WILLING WORKERS CLASS WHITE ELEPHANT PARTY

Mrs. C. J. Kenehan was a pleasing hostess at her home on Federal street Thursday evening, when she entertained members of the Willing Workers Bible class of the Croton Avenue M. E. church. About 20 members were present.

In the absence of Mrs. T. C. Armstrong, Mrs. VanHorn led the devotionals. After a short business meeting in charge of Mrs. Alice Patterson, president of the class, a social time was enjoyed and was conducted by Mrs. C. H. Hauger.

The main feature of the evening was a travel talk given by Mrs. Annie Williams, who has recently returned from Florida, where she spent three weeks in company with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams, of this city. Mrs. Williams had many pictures of places of interest to show the group, also some specimens which she brought home with her. Her talk was interesting and well given.

The next feature on the program was the "white elephant party" which was unique as well as amusing, at the conclusion of which refreshments were served by the committee in charge consisting of Mesdames Kenehan, Kincaid, Munnell, McCreary and Millikin. This brought a pleasant evening to a close.

The next meeting of the Willing Workers Bible class will be held at the home of Mrs. Alice Patterson on Crawford avenue, April 16, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Ross will lead the devotionals.

G. Club Meeting

At the home of Clara Suscaynski, on Miller avenue, recently, the G. Club was entertained. Plans were made for an Easter party in the near future at the home of Sallie and Sophie Street. Various Easter games are being planned for this event, especially preparing for a colored Easter egg contest. A prize will be offered for the most beautiful and the most unusual entrant.

Lunch was served after the business session in honor of the club's new member, Sophia Akstulewicz who attended for the first time. Various games were played afterwards. The Easter party will mark the next meeting, April 5, in the home of the new member.

HERSHEY STUDY GROUP HEARS MRS. McILVAINE

Hershey Study group met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy W. Hazen on Sheridan avenue, and listened with keen interest to a talk by Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine on the subject, "Christian Youth In Action."

In this book the author relates that the world of today is not the happy place it was a generation ago. With changing viewpoints and conditions, it is hard for the young person of today to find his place in the world of affairs. Even though a graduate of college and having a degree, does not always insure a fine position.

The peace phase is dealt with and it was brought out that the church must be alive to the many problems of today. Youth and age must discuss things together. There must be a fellowship between old and young.

This meeting marked the final gathering for the season of this study group which has met regularly throughout the winter. Refreshments added to the afternoon's pleasures.

Octo Bridge Club

Two tables of cards were in play for Octo Bridge club associates Thursday evening, in the home of Virginia Weaver, on Cumberland avenue. The prize was won by Dorothy Cane, who with Vivian Hamill, was a special guest.

A green and yellow color theme was used in the dining room where refreshments were served. Spring flowers formed the table centerpiece.

The next meeting will be in the form of a dinner-dance on March 31.

Amerita Club

Mrs. Andrew Nocera, Cameron avenue, proved a charming hostess Thursday night when she received Amerita club members in her home.

Following a delicious ravioli and chicken dinner, the group whiled away the hours playing bridge. Angeline Iacobucci was high scorer and the club token was awarded to Mrs. Nicholas Altobelli. The hostess was assisted by Angeline and Amelia Iacobucci.

In two weeks Mrs. Norman Cuscino, Reynolds street, will entertain the club.

Thursday Afternoon Bridge.

Mrs. Harry McClintock was a hospitable Thursday afternoon hostess to the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club at her Highland avenue residence.

Honors for the card games were captured by Mrs. Arthur Heisman and Mrs. William Hamill.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Al McKissick, Cunningham avenue.

Teachers' Party

Teachers of the Shenango consolidated school will have their last of a series of parties on Wednesday, March 25, with Miss Frances Ackerman as the general chairman, assisted by an able committee.

P. E. O. Tea Postponed

P. E. O. Sisterhood has postponed indefinitely, the benefit tea which had been planned for Saturday afternoon, in the home of Miss Iretta V. Dart, East Washington street.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. John Burnside, 928 East Washington street, entertained a group of friends and relatives in her home Thursday evening, in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Games were the popular pastime, prizes being awarded to Mrs. William Van Eman, Mrs. Nettie Foringer, Ted Hoover and Mrs. Samuel Houk. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served, by the hostess, assisted by her two daughters, Mrs. James Hogue and Mrs. George Morrow. An attractive cake formed the centerpiece.

The honored guest was the recipient of many useful gifts.

Saturday

G. T. E. club and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Muder, Jr., Lathrop street.

Daughters 1812, Mrs. J. B. Waddington, Albert street.

J. P. G., Vera Skanesky, Mahoning avenue.

Kupple Kard Klub, Mr. and Mrs. Veldon Zeigler, Rose avenue.

Evening Bridge.

Mrs. Ralph Rodgers of Ray street entertained at a shower for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Stroeble, last evening. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Freda Brickner and Mrs. Irene Quigley and the bingo prizes went to Miss Viola Sankey and Miss Mabel Mershimer.

In serving delicious lunch Mrs. Rodgers was assisted by Mrs. Verna Sankey. Mrs. Stroeble received lovely gifts.

RESPONSE IS COMMENDABLE

COMMENDATION is due the citizens of New Castle who speedily gathered at city hall yesterday and responded to the appeal for help for the distressed city of Johnstown in such a way that a huge truckload of foodstuffs was enroute from this city in the afternoon, to be distributed by relief agencies at the stricken city.

In addition plans were made for a speedy, energetic campaign to raise further funds and collect clothing and other aid to be forwarded in the immediate future, through the local Red Cross.

New Castle and Lawrence county have been truly fortunate in the present flood disaster that has swept the eastern states, and it should be an easy matter for many here to express that gratification in the shape of contributions to this fund or to this aid collection of articles of clothing.

Speed counts in this matter. Act at once!

FLOOD DISTRESS AND PREVENTION

With all of the apparent effort in years past at what is known as flood prevention in the eastern states, the past week has demonstrated that as yet little real headway has been made towards solving the great problem of controlling the elements when they grow unruly.

Here in New Castle and Lawrence county, it is believed that the Shenango Valley district has been saved a lot of probable flood damage as a result of the completion and use of the great Pymatuning dam and reservoir. This dam was built with that as one of the chief aims. However, the fact that the Shenango Valley received its huge precipitation of the week in the shape of a couple of feet of snow, instead of a two day steady downpour of rain, as other parts of the eastern United States, may have accounted for the situation in part.

With many of the larger streams in Pennsylvania and New England rising to higher stages than the previous known highest flood marks, there is room for a wide study of the matter of effective flood prevention. And certain it is that some work of this kind should be planned at once. This would be effective use of funds of the government. Preventing even a part of the loss of life and tremendous property destruction of the week's floods would be an achievement that would be universally approved.

It will be many months before the traces of the inundations of the week are erased, and in many cases, years. Much of the loss sustained is total, and anything that can be done in the way of a movement for halting the flood ravages should be attempted.

FEDERAL PAYROLL OF 11,000,000

Mysteriously reticent concerning a reasonably accurate estimate of the number of jobless, the federal government is no less so with regard to the number of persons who now draw their income, in whole or part, from the treasury. However, the National Industrial Conference Board calculates the total army of those in the pay of the government at 11,120,925. This figure represents somewhat more than one-sixth of all the gainful workers in the United States.

Comprising the 11,120,925 are 2,017,532 in the regular government establishment and 9,103,393 in the emergency agencies says the Philadelphia Inquirer. The paper continues: The latter category includes more than 3,000,000 employed on works projects and almost 6,000,000 on farm aid and direct relief. Nor are these figures static. They appear to be steadily on the increase.

For instance, the number of employees in the executive branch of the government is given as 816,185 in December, 1935, or 247,840 more than in December, 1932, under President Hoover, and 211,474 more than in January, 1934. Here is indicated an increase in federal jobholders that may well give pause to every taxpaying citizen.

The 11,120,925 recipients do not include an uncalculated number of persons engaged in the manufacture of materials purchased by the government. Some one has estimated that counting all these, their dependents, the government pensioners, the war bonus beneficiaries and their families, by mid-summer more than a third of the country's population will be receiving all or part of their income from Uncle Sam.

SPRING IS HERE

Back for a six month's stay in the northern hemisphere, the sun escorted spring into these latitudes today. The period of the vernal equinox is always welcome and always wonderful. The rescue of the earth from the death-like grasp of winter each year is an old, old story, but an ever new one in its beauty. The other seasons have each their special loveliness, but spring has youth, freshness, a charm which its elder sisters and the year cannot rival.

Even within the stone-bound streets of the city the hardy, rowdy sparrows become turbulent with warmer blood and their matings on the house tops are done to lyrical shrieks. The parks simulate the annual resurrection of the broader countryside and reveal to city dwellers some of the beauty with which the fields beyond the city gates will soon be decking themselves. The adventurous robin flaunts his plumage in the squares before the admiring eyes of urbanites, and man responds to the season and with quickened step and higher heart beat, about his daily round of duty.

The winter is dead, spring comes and there is rejoicing among all creatures.

Success is easy. You just find a sweet and sensible woman, marry her, and let nature take its course.

You aren't a wicked rich man until your taxes are greater than the benefits you receive from tax money.

Ethics and scruples make you a gentleman, but they are a great handicap in fighting a man who has none.

It is a noteworthy fact that the more enthusiastic a man is about the "share-the-wealth" idea the less he has of his own to divide up.

Death can be held at bay, a scientist declares, and now we'd appreciate it greatly if science would toss a couple of hurdles in the path of the tax collector.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

OUR CRIPPLED CAT

See that cat over there . . . He's ours. I mean he lives in our house. We feed him and give him a place to sleep. We let him in when he jumps onto the fence and up to the window sill. We let him out when he starts prowling around and making soft noises at the front door. We do as he says. He's the boss. So, perhaps, it's hardly accurate to say he's our cat, when, in fact, we are merely his family.

But that's not what I started to write about. . . . I had something else in mind. . . . You look at him, and if you like cats you might say, what a fine-looking animal! What a sleek coat! What strength and dignity! What unobtrusive self-respect he seems to have! . . . You're right. He's a fine fellow, minds his own business, expects you to mind yours, lives a good life. (Our only criticism is the way he bullies the young dog. That puppy, for instance, is eating his dinner under the kitchen stove. In comes Sir Cat. He gives the dog one look, goes straight for him, orders him out of the way, eats the puppy's dinner. . . . We throw him out, reprove him, but he'll do it again tomorrow, will keep on doing it, as long as the young dog will stand for it.)

But that bold and independent cat has a crippled leg. You wouldn't know it, but he has. . . . One night he fell from a high place or was hit by an automobile. We found him the next morning with a broken leg and took him to a "vet." The animal doctor said he couldn't put the leg in a cast or in splints; it would have to heal by itself.

And in a fashion, it did. But it is twisted and if you look closely at our cat when he walks, you'll see that he limps. . . . But what I like about our cat is that it's only his leg that is twisted. His injury didn't tame him or embitter him. He has not a crippled spirit.

He is as fierce at times, as dignified as ever. It's true he doesn't go out of his way now to pick fights with strange dogs. It's true he isn't quite as active as he was. . . . But he han't allowed one painful and unfortunate experience to change him into a timid, sneaking animal. . . . That's why we keep on liking him.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

There is now a bill before Congress, which if passed, will give the Navy a model ship testing basin to replace the present outmodeled 35 year old basin now in use. To the layman a testing basin for model boats seems not much more important than the park pond where boys and girls sail boats. To the Navy, however, and commercial shipbuilders, a test basin is as important in producing a seaworthy craft as the technical skill necessary to complete the construction. The project includes a large deep water basin for work with models of ocean and lake type ships and with many new features for the testing of those models.

Bigger and better battleships are on the way for France, and one of the two 35,000 ton battleships authorized by the French Government last year is now under construction at Brest, France. The hull was laid down when the battle cruiser Duquerque was launched recently. The exact specifications of the two ships have been kept secret, but some idea of their dimensions can be made by comparing them with our two airplane carriers, the U. S. S. Saratoga and the Lexington, the new French vessels being five feet longer and about two feet wider than the American aircraft carriers. Construction of the second ship of the same size will begin shortly.

There are twice as many active members of the Boy Scout of America than there are active enlisted men and officers in the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps combined.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:12. Sun rises tomorrow 6:03.

Of course, automobiles make prosperity, and maybe another way to make us all rich would be for the government, or some supercorporation, to buy a car for every family.

Death dealing implements, ready for use in the next war, scientists say, will make those of 1914 seem primitive. For instance, tanks now will travel one hundred miles per hour. One wonders how much more improvement will be made on war weapons by the time we become fully civilized.

Everybody knows that capital and courage are needed to bring back business. The trouble now seems to be that those with capital lack the courage, and those with courage lack the capital. It's surely a queer situation and so far nobody has developed brains enough to solve it.

Women have their woes. The cute little thing is a self-reliant militant leader who hates to be petted, and the 240-pounder yearns to cuddle in somebody's lap.

Custom makes rights. Give a tramp a dime every day for a week and then quit and he will think you are stealing from him.

Giving people money to spend doesn't help business. Every dollar the pensioner gets to spend means a dollar less for the taxpayer to spend.

A California relief worker has received word that he is heir to a ten million estate left him by a relative in Louisiana. He's probably one of those fellows who are always talking about what they would do with their money if they were rich, now we wonder if he'll do it.

This age isn't so smart. A few thousand know how to make things and the rest of us know how to press a button.

In Pittsburgh there is a man who eight years ago "played blind" to collect money on the streets. Now he has actually gone stone blind. It's a dangerous thing to pretend to be something you are not, as this man has now found out.

Many European youths, born when their fathers were fighting in the World war, are now finding themselves conscripted by their respective countries. It must be encouraging to the mothers in those countries, to know that they are raising their sons for cannon fodder.

A Castle Shannon, Pa. couple who sought to educate their child at home have been ordered by the court to send him to school. The judge said the parents had exhibited "gross" conceit. The mother of the boy was a former school teacher, and felt capable of training him, but the law says the state must do the training, so that's that.

Correct this sentence: "It's just a post card," said she, "but it's addressed to you, so I didn't read it."

Only a woman's missing sense of humor has kept many a man from making a fool of himself.

THE IMPORTANT PART

A young man who wished to get married wrote to his father asking for his advice.

He waited anxiously for a reply. It came two days later. Feverishly he tore the letter ope. and began reading the parential advice.

"My dear son," it began, "both your mother and I would like to see you happily married. As I write this letter she stands by my side and urges me to point out the advantages of this blissful state. Consider them. A cozy fireside, a comfortable chair, slippers, pipe, with a charming wife beside you. I am proud to learn, my boy, that you have decided to settle down.

"From your loving father and mother.

"P. S.—Your mother has just left the room. Keep single, you darned idiot.—Father."

"Now suppose" said the teacher, "a man working on the river bank suddenly fell in. He could not swim, and would be in danger of drowning. Picture the scene. The man's sudden fall, the cry for help. His wife knows his peril, and hearing his screams, rushes to the bank. Why does she rush to the bank?" Whereupon a little boy exclaims. "To draw his insurance money".

Life to a good many people is only a "racket" in which many "love matches" are played in the "courts."

The Nazis have changed the name of November to Nebelung, which upon being translated literally means "in a fog." Nothing could be more appropriate. It seems to us as if most of the Germans are going about in a fog most of the time.

A happy man is one who wants only those things he already has and does not want anything he does not already own. Do you know anyone like that? Neither do we.

REALLY SLOW

The train, as usual, was crawling along at a snail's pace—and then stopped dead. "Conductor," shouted a passenger, "can I get out and pick some flowers?"

"I'm afraid you won't find any flowers around here," said the conductor, good naturedly.

"Oh, there's plenty of time," responded the jovial passenger. "I brought along a package of seeds."

Great Britain has launched an armament program so huge that nobody seems to have calculated the cost. Italy, Germany, and Japan are warned that the race is on and the cost is secondary. And all the while those countries owe us real money, and we can't collect a cent.

Life was easier in horse-and-buggy days. People didn't do without beefsteak to buy oats.

The reason farmers deserve so much help is that nobody is afraid of the city consumer's vote.

Old age pension schemes are getting to be as numerous as flies at a picnic on a hot summer day. Nearly everybody has some pet idea on the matter except those who will have the pensions to pay. Their main worry is how they are going to get on the pension rolls, but never mind, if this thing keeps up they'll know soon enough.

So the stomach registers emotion? It must register astonishment when it gets this popular mixture of ginger ale and ice cream.

We must have some attraction. Look at the number of grippe germs that moved in to spend the winter.

People hate liquor because it makes men lie, steal and kill. But money does the same thing and nobody hates it.

There comes a time in every man's life when he learns that about the only thing that will really stop falling hair is the floor.

From what we have been able to glean, more and more people are beginning to doubt whether the more the country owes, the more prosperous it will be.

Wrote Omar Kyam: "Four things come not back; the spoken word, the sped arrow, time past, the neglected opportunity." And—may we add—the lawn mower loaned last summer.

ASSURED ENDING

A new minister was about to preach his first sermon in a Scottish church. The beadle asked him: "Are you a 'paper' minister?"

The clergyman replied that he usually read his discourse.

"Oh, that's a' richt then. When a mon has a paper, we ken that he'll end where the paper ends."

The British film industry plans a campaign to take the lead away from Hollywood. Well, they might start by having everyone get a divorce.

The former German kaiser must feel terribly neglected. In the current European crisis, no one has blamed him for a thing.

ALL OR NOTHING

"If I had this wife of yours, my friend, there isn't anything I wouldn't do for her."

"I'll say there isn't. You'd wash the dishes, clean up the house, cook the meals, and do everything else she asked you, or know the reason why."

Siam is rapidly becoming Europeanized. That small nation now has a child ruler, and, as you know, most European countries have childish rulers.

As the condemned man said, when the executioner completed testing the rope: Good noose is sometimes bad news."

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL—My forthcoming marriage, which will take place very soon, is to be a double ring ceremony. I know the procedure for the entire ceremony, except that concerning the bridegroom's ring. Who buys it? Who carries it? When is it put on his finger—and what finger? Please give me the details relative to this ceremony. THE BRIDE.

Answer -- You must buy your bridegroom's wedding ring, and he must buy yours. The maid of honor may carry the bridegroom's ring or you may carry it yourself, if you prefer.

In the latter event, wear it on your own wedding ring finger or on your little finger over your glove. You will thus be sure to have it when the time comes for you to place it upon the third finger of your bridegroom's left hand. If you should carry it in your hand, you might, in your nervousness, lose it on your way to the altar.

When you make your wedding arrangements with your clergyman, be sure to tell him that yours will be a double ring ceremony, that he may let you know when during the ceremony you should place the ring on the bridegroom's finger. This is usually done just after the bride has received her ring.

It would really be more picturesque to have your maid of honor hand the bridegroom's wedding ring to you before you put it on, just as his best man will hand yours to the bridegroom before he places it on your finger.

The World At A Glance

No Flood Control Yet.
Many Regions Unprotected.
Control Of Ohio Held Useless.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

FLOODS AT JOHNSTOWN, PA., at Pittsburgh and elsewhere in the watersheds of the Ohio river disclosed that nothing has been accomplished in 30 years in guarding against flood disaster in 'the most dangerous flood area in America."

It was in 1907—29 years ago—that the "worst flood in history" swept Pittsburgh and it was in 1913 that a more devastating flood swept the lower Ohio and its cotributing valleys, causing loss of life and heavy property damage. Downtown Pittsburgh literally was covered in 1907 America's "greatest industrial center" suffered from water as no other large American city had previously.

Now, the same thing occurs.

It is true that flood waters from mountain streams, and even larger streams, such as the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, which meet at Pittsburgh to form the Ohio, cannot be cotrolled effectively. But it likewise is true that soil protection, forest planting and readjustment of man-made water channels would retard water—give more of a gradual sweep to the volume.

* * *

INSURMOUNTABLE?

Engineers have been of opinion for years that control of floods in the Ohio river basin is an impossibility. The volume of water is beyond the scope of man—and the swiftness of its accumulation in the mountain headwaters defies control measures.

Perhaps that is why nothing much has been done since the disastrous Johnstown flood of 1889 and the terrible Ohio river floods of 1907 and 1913.

Pittsburgh, with its metropolitan area of nearly one and three-quarter million persons, remains subject to sudden flood visitations. And the cities and towns in the valleys above Pittsburgh remain subject to constant threat.

As a matter of fact, since the previous floods, channels have been narrowed by encroaching industries. Water runs off faster than ever. And there is much more property to be damaged.

Until an engineering authority with supreme power takes the Ohio river flood sources under control, there can be no real start for a check on these recurring disasters.

But would property interests agree to necessary condemnation proceedings for the common weal?

* * *

MANY MILLIONS NEEDED

President Roosevelt was ridiculed by many at the beginning of his term when he urged that the national government spend millions for forests, prevention of erosion and diversion of waters.

Observers are beginning to wonder now whether he asked for enough money—and also are asking where the program is now. At least, a comprehensive program.

Engineers may not guarantee to stop such damaging floods as those at Johnstown and Pittsburgh, but they could make some headway toward alleviating the disasters.

Unless the United States adopts a thoroughgoing program of flood prevention and protection against soil erosion, predictions are made by authorities that damaging cycles of flood and drought will follow one another with increasing severity.

Not alone will there be increasing loss of life and damage—particularly to our most important industries—but more and more land will become useless for crop-raising. Thus the United States may follow in the path of China—and become a desolate land.

But, with American resources and American brains, there is no reason for that to occur—unless through stupid obstinacy.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A CHILD COMES DOWNSTAIRS

He came softly down the stairs
And he took us unawares
As we sat there very gravely
Talking over big affairs;
And he made a pretty sight
In his "jimmies" pink and white,
To his mother's consternation,
But I'll say to my delight.

Things were rather dull I'll swear,
And half dozing in my chair
I deplored the idle chatter
Till I saw him standing there!
Down the stairs he crept alone
And his little features shone
With a radiant look of rapture
As he made his presence known.

"Sonny boy!" his mother said.
"You're supposed to be in bed.
Don't you know the Sandman's waiting
For each little sleepy head?"
But we hailed him with delight,
For no lovelier a sight
Can the eyes of old folks witness
Than a little child at night.

And I thought as off he went
To his bed at last content
What so sweet a visitation
To us weary grownups meant.
For it broke the dullness there,
With a flash of beauty rare,
Just to see that little fellow
Standing smiling on the stair.

Tots Gather To Celebrate Third Birthday Event

Ronald Simkins Has Fourteen Little Guests At Afternoon Party

Fourteen tiny boys and girls helped wee Ronald Simkins celebrate his third birthday on Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4, as they gathered at the home of Mrs. E. M. Johnston on West Clayton street.

A merry time was had by the children playing with lots of interesting toys. The mothers spent the afternoon playing bridge.

Later a circle was formed and a birthday cake with three burning candles was brought in, after which a delicious lunch was served. Tones of green and white were carried out in the favors and other decorations. Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Harold Simkins served.

Before leaving, Ronald was given a collection of useful gifts in rembrance of that happy occasion.

O. R. C. Ladies Have Afternoon Meeting

Mrs. Harry Rankin, of West Cherry street, entertained the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railroad Conductors at her home Thursday afternoon.

At the close of the very enjoyable afternoon Mrs. Rankin served refreshments.

Ready Response To Red Cross Appeal

Mahoningtown deserves congratulations for its quick and enthusiastic response to the call of the Red Cross for food, clothing and bedding to be sent to the flooded areas.

Students of Mahoning school were notified at their classes and a number of mothers were called. Within two hours a truck load of supplies had been contributed and was taken to the Carnegie auditorium.

LOYAL WORKERS CLASS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkins entertained members of the Loyal Workers class of the Christian church at their home on Oakwood avenue on Wednesday.

Sue Park, the president, presided over the business meeting. Plans were made to have a tea in May, and the following committees were appointed:

General Committee—Mrs. Kenneth Walter, Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. E. M. Jones, Mrs. Frank Douds.

Program Committee—Mrs. Sephen Hutnick, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark.

Several guessing games were played later, followed by the serving of a tempting lunch. Mrs. Merle Davis was a special guest of the evening.

The next meeting will be on April 15.

JUNIOR CHOIR MEETING

The Junior choir of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, Newell avenue.

WESTMINSTER GUILD

Ugo Dostillia, of Mercer, Pa., brother of Mrs. Loretta Magee, of Darlington avenue, is showing improvement after his recent accident. He was hurt while at work in the mines.

Larger Number At Epworth Meetings

Attendance Returns To Normal Last Night With Better Weather

The inclement weather during the week has greatly handicapped attendance and interest in the special meetings of the Epworth Methodist church but last night there was a decided increase of the attendance, more than doubling the night before.

An excellent song service preceded the sermon of the pastor, Dr. J. A. Galbraith, during which selections were given by the Glad Tidings Quartet, including a bass solo by James MacKenzie. This evening the same quartet will have the first half hour beginning at 7:30 for a program of sacred music which will include a request solo to be sung by Mr. Stephenson, tenor.

Prayer service will be conducted at 7 p. m. The sermon subject will be "The Inescapable Christ." Special plans will be made for the Sunday services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., with the emphasis on music, the Glad Tidings Quartet assisting and evangelistic sermons by the pastor. These will close the present series of special meetings.

Liquor Stores In Flood Areas Ordered Closed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—State liquor stores, licensed liquor establishments and tap rooms in 18 Pennsylvania counties where serious flood conditions exist, did not open their doors today under the order of Gov. George H. Earle.

Pointing out the existence of "serious emergencies" in the 18 counties, the governor ordered liquor establishments there closed until further notice. Liquor in the state stores, however, the governor said, "is to be made available for medicinal purposes and when requested by relief agencies for treatment of persons suffering from exposure."

The counties listed as being in a state of emergency were Allegheny, Westmoreland, Armstrong, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Snyder, Union, Clinton Lycoming, Northumberland.

G. T. E. ACTIVITIES FOR CURRENT WEEK

Mrs. Wayne Sines and Mrs. D. Shields were special guests at the meeting of the G. T. E. club Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. George Price on East Washington street.

Cards were in play at several tables, the trophies falling to Mrs. Cecil Logan, Mrs. Jack Jones and Mrs. Wayne Sines. Refreshments, with Easter appointments, were served by the hostess and Mrs. Ray Muder, Jr.

On Saturday evening of this week, the club will have another party in the Muder home on Forest street, at which the husbands will be honored. The next regular meeting is dated for April 2, with Mrs. Jack Jones of Forest street.

Y. M. M. Club

Mrs. Thomas Sanfilippo, of Walnut street, pleasantly entertained Y. M. M. club members in her home on Thursday night.

Cards featured the evening's entertainment with prizes in 500 going to Miss Margaret Smith and Mrs. Harry Haggerty. A handkerchief shower, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Aaron Yoho, was another highlight. At an appropriate time, delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. William Finefrock assisting.

In two weeks, Mrs. Aaron Yoho, Florence avenue, will receive the club.

Re-Deal Club

Miss Constance Priestly entertained the Re-Deal Club at a downtown tearoom on Thursday evening.

They engaged in two tables of bridge and the prizes were won by Miss Clara Bernine and Mrs. J. H. Jones.

In two weeks Miss Emily Reynolds of Englewood avenue, will receive the club.

STYLE SHOW PLANS WILL BE COMPLETED

When the executive board of the New Castle Business and professional Women's club meets Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. the principal topic of discussion will undoubtedly be the card party and style show which will take place on Thursday night, March 26, at the Strouss-Hirshberg store. This has become an annual event and the proceeds go to the clinic and education fund of the club.

The presiding officer at the board meeting will be Miss Pearl Hockenberry, vice president, in the absence of Mrs. R. L. Boyd, president.

Mrs. Boyd and her mother are leaving for a visit in Texas.

B. C. D.-R. S. P. Club

The B. C. D.-R. S. P. club met at the home of Miss Frances Dean, Atkinson street, on Wednesday evening. Three tables of cards were in play and prizes fell to Mrs. Ralph L. Preston and Miss Laura Bacon. Miss Jean Casselman, a special guest, was presented with a gift; she was enrolled, too, as a new member.

Miss Theresa Critchlow, of Atkinson street, will welcome the club to her home on April 8.

Shamrock pins were used as table favors. Miss Dean was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. Paul Dean.

O. F. Club

Six members of the O. F. Club met at the home of Margaret Hogan recently, and elected the following officers: president, Margaret Hogan; vice president, Sara Theophilus; and secretary, Jean Kemp.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess and a pleasing program was presented.

On March 28 the club will meet at the home of Doris McGaffic.

SEMPER FIDELIS HAS DINNER DOWNTOWN

Mrs. Carm Sacco was a pleasing hostess to associates in the Semper Fidelis club which she entertained in a downtown tea room Thursday evening, as an innovation.

Dinner was served at 7:30 to a guest list of ten, who afterwards had an informal evening knitting, crocheting and playing games. Mrs. Sam Mooney won the prize for bingo and Mrs. Frank Calao was doubly fortunate as she captured the award for 500 and also the club token. Mrs. Carl Tranquillo won at brisco and later the group showered her with handkerchiefs. Special guests were Mrs. Grace Mancino and Mrs. Sam Mooney.

The next regular club session will be in the home of Mrs. Carl Tranquillo, 301 Hillcrest avenue.

Wesono Club

Miss Helen Malloy on Tuesday evening had the Wesono club at her home on Leasure avenue, for a St. Patrick's party.

Miss Margaret McGowan, whose birthday occurred on that date, was an honor guest of the occasion and a birthday cake had a prominent place in the menu served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. A. Malloy, and her sister, Miss Genevieve Malloy. Miss McGowan received two lovely gifts from the club. This was the first birthday to occur in the membership this year.

Bridge playing was enjoyed and the prizes were won by Miss McGowan and Miss Cordelia Edington. Mrs. Emmett Dagnon was a special guest of the club.

G. T. B. Club

The G. T. B. met at the home of Mrs. Robert Alexander, 624 East Lutton street, Thursday evening and enjoyed bingo and various other games.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Ray Nicholson, Mrs. Oliver Fleeger, Mrs. Howard Walker and Mrs. Lee Speer.

The table where the lunch was served was colorfully arranged with spring flowers and beautiful appointments. Mrs. Alexander was assisted by her two daughters, Miss Edna Brown and Mrs. Kenneth Boalick, in serving.

In two weeks (on April 2,) the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Boalick, 612 Lutton street.

Hy-Shy-Ny Class

The monthly meeting of the Hy-Shy-Ny club of Wesley M. E. church took place Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Bacon, Grandview avenue.

Devotions were in charge of Miss Dorothy Davies.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected: President, Vivian Houk; vice president, June Graham; secretary, Dorothy Davies; and treasurer, Dorothy Bacon.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Hazel Bacon.

Plamor Club.

Plamor club members were guests Thursday evening of Mrs. Anne Uram at her home on Terrace avenue. 500 was provided for amusement with the prizes presented to Mrs. Sue Seinkner and Mrs. Anne Ceplece.

In serving luncheon, the hostess was assisted by her sisters, Helen Yasko and Mrs. Pauline Maslyak, both of whom were visitors. Prior to their departure, the group showered Mrs. Pearl Yoho with dainty hankies in honor of her birthday.

On April 2, the club will be entertained by Miss Stella Kross of Charter street.

In Students' Recital

Bobbie Calvin was also one of the piano pupils of Albert Taylor who performed in a recital given on Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Berkheimer, on Hazelcroft avenue.

Fifteenth Birthday.

The 15th birthday of Elsie Lyons was observed Wednesday evening by a surprise party at her home, 929 Winslow avenue, attended by a crowd of young friends.

Elsie and a friend, Eleanor Book, had been dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Ben Lloyd, also on Winslow avenue, and upon returning home found the merry celebraters.

Games were played and a delicious birthday lunch, in St. Patrick"s colors, was served at a later hour by the mother of the honored guest, assisted by Mrs. Jean Friday and Mrs. William Hogue.

Special guests from out-of-town were Betty Friday and Florence Weingartner of Ellwood City.

Uniq-Cliq Club

Mrs. Charles Stritmater, Oak street, dispensed delightful hospitality in her home Thursday evening when she entertained Uniq-Cliq club members.

The hours were pleasantly whiled away playing bridge. High score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Harry Hitchings and Mrs. Glenn Chesney. At an appointed time, dainty refreshments were served, Mrs. Arthur Thompson assisting with the serving.

In two weeks Mrs. Fred Thompson, Beckford street, will entertain the club.

O. E. A. Club

Mrs. Elmer Tinstman on Wednesday evening had the O. E. A. club members at her home on Wilmington avenue, and a special guest, Mrs. Glen Johnson.

The prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. Walter Waid and Mrs. C. E. Armstrong.

St. Patrick's season colors prevaded the luncheon decorations, and Mrs. Ralph Davis assisted the hostess in the serving.

Mrs. Frank Fehl, Northview Ave. will have the club at her home on March 30.

S. A. S. Club

S. A. S. club members enjoyed their regular meeting at a downtown tea room, Thursday night. Following a delicious dinner, the group whiled away the hours playing cards. High score prize was awarded to Mrs. Sue Flynn, the door prize to Mrs. Anna Murray and special trophy to Mrs. Eleanor Skundor.

Special guests were Mrs. Toots Nicholson and Mary Ellen Davis. In two weeks, Mrs. Anna Murray will entertain the club, the place to be announced.

Spaghetti Supper

At the close of class Thursday evening in the Mahoning school adult education program, under the WPA, the group of literacy pupils went to the home of the teacher, Mrs. Florence Mangus, 844 Franklin avenue, where a most appetizing spaghetti supper was served.

Covers were arranged for twelve, with St. Patrick tones adding a touch of color to the table decorations.

After supper there was a period of sociability ere the group departed for their homes.

Dessert-Bridge

A meeting of the Whyle-Away club was held in the form of a dessert-bridge Thursday afternoon at 1:30 in the home of Mrs. J. J. Hennicheck, on Emerson avenue.

The two small tables were prettily arranged for a tasty dessert after which the group played cards. The awards were captured by Mrs. Joseph W. Campbell, Mrs. J. J. Hennicheck and Mrs. G. S. Jenkins, the latter winning the galloping trophy.

The next meeting will take place April 2 in the Jenkins home on Junior High street.

Moonlight 500

High score awards were captured by Mrs. George Schlumberger, Mrs. Harry Leathers and Mrs. W. R. Mears at the meeting of the Moonlight 500 club Thursday evening, with Mrs. Francis H. Johnson, of Allen street. Sweets were served throughout the evening which was delightfully informal.

For the next meeting in a fortnight, the club will assemble in the home of Mrs. William Mitchell, on Spruce street, to honor her birthday.

Round-Up Club

Mrs. Walter Lichtenstine, of Garfield avenue, was a charming hostess Wednesday evening to the Round-Up club members at her residence.

The prizes for 500 were won by Mrs. Gomer Griffith and Mrs. Dan Fulkerson.

A tasty lunch was served after the games. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Morrison, Delaware avenue, in two weeks.

T. O. T. Party

Thursday night's party of the T. O. T. club proved a most delightful event. After a delicious dinner, in a downtown tea room, the group enjoyed a show. On next Thursday night, Miss Louella Hartzell will act as hostess, at a theatre party.

Tally-Ho Club.

Miss Mabel Smith welcomed to her Lutton street home Thursday evening the members of the Tally-Ho club and two special guests her sister, Miss Wilda Smith, and Miss Jane Steen.

Bridge was the interesting activity and the high score prize was won by Miss Dorothy Love. Miss Steen received a lovely guest prize.

S. J. N. Club

Mrs. John Jendrysik, Elmwood street, was hostess to members of the S. J. N. club, Thursday evening.

Sewing and monopoly were the popular pastimes. Prizes were won by Josephine Soho and Mrs. Helen Gorgacz. Delicious refreshments were served during the course of the evening.

On next Thursday evening, Mrs. Helen Gorgacz, Fern street, will entertain the club.

Gad-About Club

Gad-About club girls enjoyed the regular meeting Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Price, on Galbraith avenue. "Cootie" furnished informal entertainment with Freda Crowthers and Grace Strobel winning the favors.

Refreshments were served as a later issue and plans were discussed for the next meeting April 15, with Mrs. Ciolla Price, of Electric street.

M. and N. C. Club

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Donnell, of Ashland avenue, had as her houseguests on Thursday afternoon the members of the M. and N. C. club.

Mrs. Earl Wallover and Mrs. C. A. Weaver won the bridge prizes, awarded at the end of play at the three tables.

In two weeks the hostess will be Mrs. Hattie Nowling.

A. G. P. Club.

Mrs. A. R. Pitzer of Shaw street entertained members of the A. G. P. club in her home Thursday afternoon. During the afternoon three tables of 500 were in play with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Howard Robison and Mrs. John McWilliams.

It was decided that the time and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

BOY SCOUT Activities

LATE TROOP FLASHES

News briefs of the various troops: Troop V-21 has established a troop library with Scouts Stevens and Murray in charge. It was organized at this week's meeting of the boys in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church.

First aid was studied and the merit badge show of next week discussed when Troop 3's boys met this week.

A new patrol, to be called "Cobra", was organized by a group of east side boys who belong to Troop 55, this week. Charles Ruby was named patrol leader. Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church, its sponsor, talked stamps wtih the scouts this week . He invited the group to his home some future night to view his own stamp collection.

Troop 12's Flaming patrol met this week at the home of Edward Knoblock to help him celebrate his birthday. First aid and compass was practiced. There was a short recreation period and then refreshments were served.

At the First Baptist church, Troop 2 met this week. The guest speaker was Capt. George F. Mitchell, commander of Troop F of the national guard, who recently became a member of the troop committee. Mitchell gave the boys drill practice.

Troop V-15 assigned its boys to the various merit badge booths at its meeting this week with Scoutmaster James Bowman. Part of the evening was given over to rehearsing a play which the troop expects to give shortly.

No Cause For Any Flood Worry Here

New Castle has been fortunate in escaping any effect of the flood disaster that struck a large portion of the state. There is no occasion for any alarm in this city on any score.

Likewise, according to a statement of J. L. Matthews, Superintendent of the New Castle Water Company, there is no occasion for any worry over an adequate water supply in the city, or as to purity of the water.

When the family try to "run" their meal ticket, they usually end by running it into the ground.

Worst Flood At Hartford

Thousands Homeless And Property Damage Is Gigantic

RIVER REACHES STAGE OF 35 FEET

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn., Mar. 20.—With at least four dead and thousands homeless and property damage mounting hourly, Hartford and other communities in the Connecticut River Valley today were in the grip of the worst flood in their history as the swollen water mounted to the 35-foot mark.

National Guard, Coast Guardsmen in seven craft which came here from New London, naval militia, state police, American Legion and Red Cross aided in thrilling rescues as rain continued to swell the menace.

In addition to hundreds of homes under water in the East Hartford meadows, Commercial street and Front streets sections and the thousands of acres near the Colt Park plant which were inundated when a dike weakened, many streets in the business district were flooded.

Traffic was virtually paralyzed, business was at a standstill, telephone service was operating on emergency storage batteries which may give way any moment and the electric power plant at Dutch Point is isolated.

Similarly hard hit was Middletown, where hundreds were driven from homes by swirling waters which threatened the huge Middletown-Portland highway and railroad bridges.

Many sections of this city on higher levels, were without power intermittently as flooded streets raised havoc with cables.

Trolley transportation in Hartford was suspended. Wherever possible busses were used.

Hospitals reported a number of births and emergency operations performed under emergency lights when power lines failed.

Street lights were out and most homes in darkness last night.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 22 is Luke 12:1-59, especially verses 22-34, the Golden Text being Matt. 6:33, "Seek ye first his kingdom and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.")

Has any previous age been endowed with greater wealth than this age? or with greater ability to create additional wealth? Has any previous age enjoyed more creature comforts than this age enjoys? Have not the commonest folks comforts and privileges of which kings never even dreamed in former times? Has any previous age had more attractions, diversions, entertainments than this present generation? And notwithstanding all this, has any age been as restless, as dissatisfied, as miserable as this generation? Is this not because we have misplaced the "center of gravity" of our lives from the abiding spiritual values to the things that perish and that can never satisfy even while they abide?

Christ And The Two Brothers

As Jesus was teaching "one out of the multitude said unto him, Teacher, bid any brother divide the inheritance with me. But he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you? And he said unto them, Take heed and keep yourselves from all covetousness; for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Therefore, he attacked their problem by going directly at the underlying cause of the malady instead of tinkering at symptoms. That basic fault in both brothers alike was covetousness.

The Rich Fool

To further illustrate the curse of covetousness and the paganism that mistakes material abundance for the abundant life, Jesus told the story of the rich fool, whose whole concern was "my fruits", "my barns", "my grain", "my goods", all of which he felt assured were his "for many years. that he might take his ease, eat, drink and be merry". But God, the sole owner of all those things, instituted foreclosure proceedings against him that very night and dispossessed him, saying, "Thou foolish one, this night is thy soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, whose shall they be?" This same folly characterizes every materialist whose interest centers in things instead of in God. "So is he that layeth up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God." "Make for yourselves purses which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth destroyeth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Let that center of gravity be in God instead of in "these things": "Seek ye his kingdom, and these things shall be added unto you."

Westfield Grange Planning Dinner

Tureen Dinner On Monday Evening Will Be Followed By Meeting

Arrangements have been completed by the Westfield grange for a tureen dinner on Monday evening, March 23, in the grange hall at 7 o'clock.

The dinner will be followed by a meeting of the subordinate and juvenile granges.

Plan Benefit For Red Cross

Following the tradition of the B. P. O. E., to help in times of need, Lodge 69, the local unit of the Elks is planning a community card party, the proceeds of which will go to the Red Cross for relief purposes in flood areas.

Exalted Ruler Bertram Davis stated today that a meeting will be held in the Elks home on Saturday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of arranging the details and every citizen interested in helping is asked to attend the meeting.

Harry Alexander will be the general chairman of the event and by the co-operation of the citizens it is hoped to raise a sizeable sum of money for relief.

STREET PAVING PROJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

Council Gives City's Attitude

Wants Assurance That Projects Will Be Completed If Started

W.P.A. WORKERS HAVE CONFERENCE

Indications At Meeting That Fund Is Not As Yet Formally Cancelled

A large majority of about 100 WPA workers who conferred with city council and John Ely, assistant to J. Vale Downie, WPA district director, Thursday indicated that the attitude of council was proper, in not approving a street paving program here unless the WPA assured the city that the street paving project was completed.

It also developed during the meeting that the officials of the local WPA had not as yet cancelled the allocation of funds for the A program of street paving. Further, speaking for the WPA, Ely said in reply to questions directed by Councilman J. D. Alexander that the WPA could not assure the city the projects, if started, would be completed.

Want Assurance Of Completion

The city council placed itself on record as stating that if they were assurred that should the WPA assure the city that the street paving program, A. B. and C would be completed they would approve the project. Lacking this, they said through Councilman Alexander they did not desire to have projects unfinished and the city bear the liability for their completion.

The meeting was called by the men, for whom Lawrence Kahrer, was spokesman. He told the council the purpose of the visit, namely, a statement by District Director J. Vale Downie, Tuesday, in which he said he had cancelled the fund allotted for the A program which was reported at about $248,000.

Mayor McGrath said that before approval of the program could be given the council had things to consider. He cited the petitions were several years old and that some properties had changed ownership and there was a legal question as to whether or not the petitions now are valid.

He said another factor was whether council would be just in assuming a $40,000 debt and the WPA assume nothing but the payment of wages while the work was under way. He ascertained the number of property owners in the crowd to which some of the men stated they paid taxes.

Completion Of Work Issue

The mayor informed the assembly that if the WPA did not finish the program the city would be responsible for its completion. He told property owners on 29 streets signed for the improvements then pointed out those who signed for the A program will pay $1.65 a foot front and the B and C program petitioners, $2.50 a foot front.

"If the property owners for B and C programs have to pay higher than those who petitioned for the A programs they have a right to ask the question 'Why'" the mayor stated. He said the city has many projects in view, some of which have been approved, others started but not completed and other proposed projects not yet approved by the WPA.

In reply to his question as to whether the men cared where they work, the majority replied they did not, although one of the spokesmen said they prefer working in the city, rather than the county.

A man in the assembly, who's name was not ascertained, told Mayor McGrath and the audience that "Last night Downie said he would give council 48 hours before he cancelled the allocation of funds." The man said he received the report. It was stated that Mr. McGill had been reported as saying, "the money would be held until Friday."

Strange Situation

Mayor McGrath then remarked: "Would it not seem strange? Mr. Downie sat with council and a group of civilians to 5 p. m. Wednesday and did not tell us about this. He left at that time saying he had to leave town immediately. Doesn't this word, sent out at 9 p. m. on Wednesday night seem rather strange?

"This is the first information we have received."

At this point, John Ely, assistant to Mr. Downie, spoke and said: "I am here to answer any question."

"Do you know about the report being made at the WPA?" the mayor inquired.

"No, officially no word was sent out," then asked: "Word of what type?"

"Word about the holding up of the cancellation of the project," the mayor responded.

"I believe you are in a position to answer that question as to how long he would hold open on the return of the fund to Harrisburg," Ely stated.

"The only thing I knew was the report Mr. Downie had cancelled it. Wednesday he admitted (at the council-WPA-civilian informal meeting) he had not sent in the letter but Mr. Beltz said the letter would go in at 5 p. m. on Wednesday," the mayor remarked.

"The money is still available. The notice has not yet been sent to Harrisburg," was the information then announced by Ely.

"Why make the statement now and these gentlemen (the audience) knew it last night?" the mayor inquired.

Not On Witness Stand

"I am not on the witness stand."

"I have a right to ask this question because you were in the meeting," the mayor said to Ely.

"I don't know where he (the man who told the mayor a report had been made the night previous about the delay in canceliation) got the information."

"The information came out last night," the mayor thundered.

"I know no one from the WPA made it," Ely responded.

Joseph Mulcahy said to Ely: "If it was a rumor, you now say it is a fact."

"It is a fact," Ely replied.

"Was it known to you?" the mayor asked.

"Yes. The information about the allocation not having been returned to Harrisburg was known to me. I talked to you but you did not talk about this," Ely said to the mayor.

Adolph Di Gennaro took the floor and said he had heard the rumor about the fund not being cancelled Wednesday night from a man in a meeting held by WPA employes at city hall and believed the project could be saved. He believed it meant something.

Councilman B. F. Butler said there are many projects started and not completed. "Have we any assurance this one will be finished. If the WPA money runs out the city will be forced to bear the liability and we cannot get the money to finish it." He cited some projects left incomplete.

"Passing The Buck"

V. V. Livermore took the floor and charged the WPA with "passing the buck." He said he was active in the WPA and everytime he went there with a grievance he was told to "get after council." He charged the WPA does not finish jobs and pointed to the Willow Grove job.

"If you can show me a dollar's worth there do so," he said and the workers applauded his statement.

Di Gennaro then asked: "If a program is three-fourths finished isn't it a saving?" to which the majority of the audience shouted "No!"

"You are all citizens. You are meeting the mayor and council. You have no reason to believe council has done anything detrimental to you or acted unjustly against any citizen," he declared, whereupon the audience shouted "No!"

"Would you authorize us to enter into a contract without assurance of a job not being completed and would you underwrite it at our expense?" he asked and the assembly again replied negatively.

He said he and council want to transact business in a businesslike way and added that "I do not believe the people want me to do any business without feeling for their welfare," he stated.

Ely then said that "I did not come here to convince anyone of anything in connection with the street program. I did not believe I was to come here to hear the WPA policy 'panned.'"

Here To Tell Position

Mayor McGrath turned to Ely and said: "You now are in our position. We were asked to tell our position."

Councilman Butler explained that the entire street program involves about $900,000. "They allocate half of it then quit and want us to be responsible," he added.

"That statement is based on assumption and is not true," Ely retorted.

"We have asked you if they will give us more than an assumption. I asked Mr. Downie to deny his statement about the cancellation in The News and he wouldn't," the mayor said.

At this juncture Councilman Alexander turned to Ely and said:

"Mr. Ely, you represent the WPA. If you will agree to finish B and C programs on the same conditions as the A program we will go through."

Mr. Ely replied: "You know the rules and you know no one in the WPA can answer that.

Mr. Alexander next asked: "Have we any assurance of completion by June 30 and enough money allocated to do it?"

Ely replied: "Council has no assurance."

Alexander turned to the assembly and asked: "Do you believe we would be right to approve it?" to which came a chorus of "No! No!"

Alexander then informed the men "we have plenty of projects pending approval. Lots of things can be started but we will not approve them unless we are assured the jobs will be completed."

Di Gennaro then called for a vote to show council how the men stood. He appeared in favor of council approving the A program. The upraised hands showed that those in favor of the approval by the city without assurance by the WPA of completion was not favored and Lawrence Kahrer, who called the meeting, said:

"I believe council has given us their answer on this question. I believe it to have been thoroughly answered," after which he dissolved the meeting.

To prove council's contention that only a few of the projects started were completed, Mayor McGrath later issued a list as follows:

Completed: Pipe street, Montgomery street to Sewage Disposal plant; Schley street grading; parapet at Municipal Golf Course; Center street sanitary sewer (aided by city); Water street wall; Reynolds street storm sewer and Croton wall (three years in construction.)

Started but not completed: Martin street storm sewer; Butler avenue wall; engineers' project; stone gutter; street signs painting; Crawford Run riprapping and Municipal buildings' repair.

Projects not approved: Cascade Park drainage; sewing project; traffic survey; fire hazard survey and Croton avenue wall (along the level part of Croton avenue, from tool house north.)

W. C. T. U. ASKED TO HELP FLOOD VICTIMS

Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, Lawrence County W. C. T. president, asks all of the unions to cooperate in alleviating suffering in the flooded zones by donating clothing and bedding to the Red Cross.

Donations should be taken to the Carnegie auditorium or the Cathedral. If food is given it should be in cans. All cash should be sent to the Red Cross office.

Community Supper To Be In Benefit Of Flood Sufferers

Volant Community To Have Emergency Supper On Tuesday Evening

An emergency community chicken supper is planned for Tuesday evening, March 24, from 5 to 8 o'clock in the Volant M. E. church and the proceeds are to benefit the sufferers in the flooded areas.

Donations of food for the supper will be solicited. The News is told by Rev. D. K. Kerr, Volant Presbyterian minister, and the people of the community have been asked to bring additional supplies of food and clothing to the church. These will be sent to the flood sufferers along with funds secured by the supper.

Name Directors At Hotel Meeting

Annual Meeting Of The Castleton Stockholders On Thursday Evening

Meeting in the Castleton Hotel Thursday evening the stockholders of the New Castle Hotels Association elected directors for the coming year. The meeting was presided over by Hon. George T. Weingartner and was not an extended meeting.

Directors for the coming year re-elected are O. P. Brown, M. J. Donnelly, P. J. Flaherty, T. H. Hartman, A. C. Hoyt, C. H. Johnson, Jr., R. C. Love, J. K. Love, T. F. Morehead, D. S. Pyle, F. L. Rentz, George T Weingartner.

T. F. Morehead spoke briefly upon the business done during the past year and showed that business had been good and that each year had shown an increasing patronage from the travelling public. Thomas M. Boyle, manager of the hotel spoke briefly and thanked the directors for the interest they displayed in the management of the hotel.

A vote of appreciation was given Mr. Boyle for his excellent work as manager of the hotel. Officers will be elected at a later meeting of the directors.

Help Needed In Flood Areas Of Renovo, Lock Haven

(International News Service)

CARLSTADT, N. J., Mar. 20.—"I am located at Emporium, Pa., and here am making a very urgent appeal for help to be sent to two towns, the towns of Renovo, Pa., and Lockhaven, Pa., who have been under water for the past three days and are in need of food and especially medical supplies very badly....I am located 34 miles north of Lockhaven."

This dramatic message was received at station WEEW here early today from station W8OYK, name of operator unknown.

SEND BROTHER TO JAIL TO CURE HIM OF HEROIN HABIT

SHANGHAI—A Shanghai Russian woman has caused her brother to be sent to prison to cure him of the drug habit.

When N. Ternozouboff appeared before a local court on a charge of stealing a wrist watch and bronze statue belonging to his sister, the judge tried to persuade her to withdraw the charge.

With tears in her eyes the sister refused, declaring that her brother had frequently taken away her belongings to pawn them to buy heroin.

It would do him good, she said, to go to prison.

Sentence of one month's imprisonment was passed.

As the culprit was being led away to serve his term his sobbing sister handed him a box of cakes and fruits.

FEARING A FOUL

The Movie Director—Here's where you do a little rough boxing with a bear. When you get tired you can stop it by going down for the count of ten.

The Star—Fine! Are you sure the bear can count up to ten?

To prevent the juice in fruit tart from boling over mix a little cornstarch with the sugar before adding it to tart filling.

RICHMAN BROTHERS

FINE CLOTHES MAKERS SINCE 1879

YOU GET MORE THAN YOU PAY FOR

You've often heard the expression, "You get what you pay for." We're sorry this is not always true. Very often you get less than you pay for. Once in a while you get more.

Richman Brothers Clothes are a good example of actually getting more than you pay for. The materials are finer than in many makes of clothes sold at higher prices; and the same is true of our style, fit and wear.

In the clothing trade, that is a well known and oft-mentioned fact. We mention it here because we believe that you ... the clothes buyer ... have a right to know it, and why we are able to do it.

We are the tailors as well as the retailers. You save the middleman's profit. We specialize in clothes of one quality, one price, and have a background of 57 years' experience. We have no wholesale selling expense, no credit costs or losses. We figure no hidden interest charges, and we have absolutely no delivery overhead.

You get more for your money at Richman's, and our clothes prove it. Come in and be convinced.

Benefit Dance Being Planned

Committee On Arrangements Is Called To Meet Today

FLOOD BENEFIT SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Mayor Charles E. McGrath today wound up machinery which will result in a benefit dance for flood victims being staged at the Cathedral next week. He hastily named a committee and issued a call to them to convene in council chambers, city building, at 7:30 o'clock tonight where plans for the dance will be completed.

According to the mayor, the WPA orchestra will provide the music and the Cathedral has been donated for the occasion. It is believed that through this medium a considerable fund will be raised for flood sufferers.

The names of the committee called together tonight are as follows:

Y. W. C. A. Notes

TRUE BLUE CIRCLE

On Tuesday evening the True Blue Circle met in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium for their regular meeting.

A basketball game was called at 8:45, with Mrs. Jennie Ostroski as referee and Miss Dorothy Stewart as scorer and timekeeper. The Circle team with Radan and Belancin as forwards, Kwiat and Seinkner as centers and M. Saloki and E. Milton as guards defeated the Lincoln-Garfield girls with Dado and Johns, forwards; Kubick and Saul, centers, and Walte and Ginsberg, guards, to a tune of 30-8. The score at the half was 14-0. Substitutes were Ida Milton and Ann Fey.

On Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. gym the True Blue Girls play the Elm Street Y. W. C. A. Girls at 8:30 o'clock.

MAHONINGTOWN GIRLS

Mahoningtown Girl Reserve club had a pleasant meeting Thursday after classes in Mahoning school.

The president, Dorothy Thompson, called the meeting to order and devotions were in charge of Erma Feliz. The secretary, Martha Mauck, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

Members are planning to have flower gardens during the summer, to be followed by a flower show in the autumn.

Games, "Right Bumpity Bump," "Kiss the Blarney Stone," "Air, Earth and Water" and "Lucky Spot", were played under the supervision of Mary L. Jolly and Edith Ryan.

Later refreshments were served, bringing the meeting to a close.

ARE YOU AN ODD FELLOW?

Mutual assistance is one of the fundamental laws of Oddfellowship. This does not necessarily mean in cases of accident or sickness alone. Where members of our family are in distress, we are bound by our obligations to take notice and to render to our members such assistance as we are able to under the circumstances. It is our duty to point out and protect the rights of our members and their families where the rights of others are not violated. For that reason, we claim the right to watch over the conduct of our members, not only in the lodge room but in their intercourse with the world at large. We expect them to be good citizens and to observe the laws of the land as well as our own good and wholesome laws.

The money will be directed as the local chapter arranges.

It is possible to be saved "by the skin of the teeth", according to a recent report, which states that this "skin" is a delicate membrane which covers and protects the enamel of human teeth.

Consistory Body Will Aid Members

Appeal Is Made To Membership Of Valley Of New Castle For Funds

When it was found that many of the members of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, AASR, were among the victims of the flood which swept the state early this week, Commander in Chief John E. White and officers of the local body immediately took steps to help their stricken members.

An appeal to the membership went out in the mails today, asking them to contribute money, which will be handed personally by the officers of the lodge and who will see that it is judiciously distributed.

There are a number of members of the order residing in Johnstown, who have lost their entire possessions, some of them having been business men. It is for assistance to such as these, that the fund is being started.

The Bride said:

Avoid Strong Soaps—Let pure gentle IVORY give your hands beauty-care in the dishpan

Why not change today—from coarse kitchen soaps that rob your hands of beauty-giving oils and make them coarse and old? Especially when pure gentle Ivory Soap costs so little for all your dishwashing. Actually, Ivory Soap costs less to use than strong package soaps! Of course you know, Ivory's the soap which doctors advise even for a baby's sensitive skin. Just think how kind and soothing this same Ivory will be to your hands.

With Ivory in your dishpan—every dishwashing becomes a beauty bath for your hands. Just watch them smooth themselves out—grow pretty, and young, and smooth again. And the giant "Large Size" Ivory costs you only about 1¢ a day for all your dishwashing! It's economical, as well as beneficial to your hands, to change to "Large Size" Ivory today.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

SELL POOR PRODUCERS TO HELP FLOCK INCOME

When egg prices go down, the highest producing birds in a laying flock produce the largest profit. In many flocks the low producing hens may lose as much money as the good producers make.

Some of this loss can be checked by selling off for market purposes the hens that have indications of being poor producers. These poor producers can be picked out on the basis of pigmentation in yellow skin birds. If a flock has been producing well and hardly any birds have been molting, the good producers will have bleached beaks and the shanks will start to fade. Yellow legged birds have laid only a short time. This principle does not apply to flocks that have been in heavy production and that have molted.

Other birds that can be marketed are hens that have gone broody and birds that do not have bright and distinct eyes. Birds with grayish eyes and indistinct pupils usually do not hold up well for late summer and fall production. Heavy persistent layers usually have brown pupils and there is a distinct line where the pupil and the iris of the eye meet.

PASSING YEARS BRING CHANGES IN ALFALFA

Alfalfa growing has changed.

The old idea was to start an alfalfa field, often at the trouble, risk, and expense of sowing the alfalfa alone in August. Once established, the farmer expected to harvest alfalfa for many years. This plan seldom worked very well. Even if the alfalfa was a success and often on new fields it was not, it usually thinned out badly after 3 or 4 years, and breaking up an old alfalfa stand made the plowman thoroughly disgusted with the crop.

Most of our alfalfa today is grown more or less all over the farm in the regular rotation, as a substitute for part or all of the clover. At first some clover and timothy should be sown with the alfalfa to insure against its failure. Such mixtures make excellent hay and will be alfalfa and timothy after the first cutting.

Some timothy is nearly always advisable since it helps to prevent heaving of the alfalfa roots and covers any spots which may be too wet or sour for the alfalfa. The presence of the alfalfa promotes early cutting of the timothy and early cut timothy is good cow hay. In growing alfalfa in the rotation it is generally sown at the same time and in the same manner as the clover if there is a drought the first summer.

Two things are essential for alfalfa: first, inoculation with soil or culture when first sown, and secondly, a thoroughly sweetened soil. Soil samples can be tested at the Agricultural Extension Association Office to determine whether lime is needed. Where the soil is sweet, well-drained, and fairly fertile, four quarts of alfalfa seed per acre, along with about half the usual clover and timothy seeding, and sown with or on a nurse crop of grain gives excellent stands. Where the soil is not completely sweetened a quart of inoculated alfalfa per acre along with the clover may produce a nice sprinkling of alfalfa plants, and help to get the soil thoroughly inoculated for a real stand of alfalfa after more lime is applied at the next seeding.

CONTROL CRABGRASS, ENEMY OF FINE TURF

Crabgrass, the scourage of fine turf, can be controlled. Some practices encourage its growth while others discourage the crabgrass.

Among the bad practices which encourage crabgrass are close clipping of the turf all season or close clipping in the spring and raising the mower in mid-summer; spring scratching, raking, and reseeding; late spring and summer application of fertilizers; light, frequent superficial sprinkling; removal of clippings; low soil fertility and thin turf resulting from impoverishment.

There are several practices which discourage crabgrass. When the grass is clipped high, one and one-half inches or more, throughout the season, sufficient shade will be produced to kill the young plants soon after the seed germinates.

Seeding and reseeding in the fall is another good practice. Weeds are greatly encouraged by spring operations on the lawn. Spring-seeded grass is at a disadvantage when hot weather comes, which is when weeds, especially crabgrass, are at their best.

Half-rate early spring and full-rate fall fertilizing is recommended. Spring application of fertilizers should be made early as soon as the grass begins to show green after the frost is out of the ground. Full-rate fertilization thickens the turf after crabgrass is dead.

Heavy, deep, infrequent soaking with water benefits the deeper-rooted permanent turf grasses and encourages deeper rooting and thicker turf.

Additional information on "Lawns" which is Extension Circular 160 can be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Association Office, No. 206 Post Office Bldg., New Castle.

SAVE GIRDLED TREES BY BRIDGE-GRAFTING

Tree injury from girdling by mice is in evidence in Lawrence County orchards this year.

Trees completely girdled will eventually die as a result of the injury unless the orchardist takes steps to repair the damage. Partially girdled trees will be injured or killed, depending upon the percentage of total trunk circumference from which the bark has been removed.

Trees thus injured by mice may be saved by bridge-grafting. Though the operation is tedious, it is distinctly worthwhile on valuable bearing trees. In the case of young trees two or three years old, it may be better to remove them and replant, rather than bridge-graft.

Although the best season for bridge-grafting will not begin for several weeks, it is important at this time to go through the orchard and determine the amount of injury, so that adequate preparation may be made. The work may be started as soon as the bark slips in the spring, and should be completed as soon thereafter as possible. If necessary, however, the grafting may be continued into early summer with satisfactory results, provided the scion wood has been cut while dormant and kept in cold storage packed in moist sand.

At this time it is advisable to mound up dirt around the base of the tree, or apply liquid grafting wax to the injured areas, thus preventing the injured portion from drying out until such time as the injury may be permanently repaired.

Too often the grower fails to look for the injury at this season but has it called to his attention by the sickly appearance of the trees in midsummer. At that time no dormant scion wood is available and the trees has already suffered severely.

Trees which would show little injury if properly grafted at the right time will be slow to recover or may die if the bridge-grafting is delayed for one season. For this reason it is highly important that any girdling be observed now, so that the orchardist may plan to repair the damage at the proper time this spring.

SPRING STYLES ALLOW EVERY WOMAN A CHOICE

Spring styles are a study in contrasts. In all this variety it will be possible for every woman to select garments and colors which enhance her best features and minimize her shortcomings, says Miss Mary Vogle, home Economics Extension worker.

An important change is the return of the broad-shouldered look. This is usually done by the addition of fullness at the top of the sleeves, but it also is obtained by more intricate cut at shoulder and sleeve line, by yokes, shoulder bands, or epaulets and wide collars. Strangely enough, and here is the first contrast, if you wish a smooth-fitting shoulder you may have it and be as smart as your broad-shouldered sister.

Thirteen inches from the floor is the new skirt length. However, if this makes the skirt look too short for the figure, 11 or 12 inches should be the choice.

For the slender figure the pencil-slim skirt may be chosen, but more women will find a skirt with pleats (the newest fullness) or godets more flattering and practical and at the same time equally desirable from the fashion point of view.

Never has there been a greater variety of suit fashions: jackets may be short, nipped in at the waist, belted with a short peplum, or short full swagger. For the extremely tailered type, the man-tailored suit is the extreme of fashion. As a contrast to this is the short bolero.

Skirt and jacket may be of contrasting material—an idea for improving upon a garment you already have, and making an ensemble.

Fullness is made by soft gathers on the yokes, by trucks inside or outside, dart tuck, and pleats—knife, butterfly or box pleats.

JUST LIKE A CLUB

Percy—Did you notice what great interest he is taking in girls these days?

Reggie—I should say so; he told me he wants to get a girl this winter whose father has a large supply of coal and cigars where he can spend his evenings in a warm parlor.

Telephoning from a moving train is possible. Practical tests have been made where communication was effected at speeds up to 60 miles an hour.

DRIVERS HAD DUEL WITH THEIR CARS

(International News Service)

DENVER, Colo.—Dueling pistols and swords being definitely "dated", more modern lethal weapons were called into play to settle a personal grudge here recently.

Police came upon Theodore Bennett, 38, and Ora D. Nicholson, 56, repeatedly ramming their automobiles against one another's bumpers at a downtown street intersection.

Placed under arrest, the two participants in the strange contest insisted they were attempting to settle a "private quarrel", which was no business of police.

Got 90-Day Term For His Health

(International News Service)

PAWTUCKET, R. I.—Michael J. Hurley, 40, with a hopeful countenance, pleaded guilty to a charge of over-tippling and asked for 30 days in jail, adding he thought he would have my health back then."

"I think 90 days will do you a lot better," said Clerk Treanor of the Tenth District court.

"Thirty will be plenty," said Hurley, a bit alarmed.

"Ninety days," repeated Clerk Treanor.

Council Votes For Canal Proposal

Council met in the city building Thursday and adopted a resolution in which three members placed themselves on record as being in favor of bearing the expense of terminal facilities here providing the Lake Erie-Ohio river via the Pittsburgh-Ashtabula route canal is built.

The resolution, presented by Councilman B. F. Butler, requested the army board of engineers for rivers and harbors to approve this route and have the canal constructed immediately. Councilmen Butler, Alexander and Rice voted for the measure, Mayor McGrath and Councilman Fink did not vote on the resolution. The cost of the municipal facilities it was learned would be approximately $25,000.

Whereas, industries of the city, one of the largest manufacturing centers of the third largest steel producing area of the United States are endangered with virtual extinction as a result of high transportation costs, and

Whereas, all of the competitive steel producing areas of the United States employ rail, highway and water transportation, the latter of which New Castle does not have, and

Whereas, either water transportation must come to this district to supplement our rail and highway facilities or many of the producers will find it necessary to move their plants to new locations, where this advantageous type of transportation now exists and as a consequence this district will rapidly lose its position as a steel producing area and therefore jeopardize the whole economic structure upon which it is founded to the extent of ruination, and

Whereas, the construction of this project will not only furnish the vitally needed additional transportation facilities but will also serve to prevent floods in the Mahoning and Beaver valleys; will help to further benefit the much needed domestic and industrial water supply; will benefit the sewage and sanitary conditions in these valleys, and will provide for improved recreational conditions in this highly industrial area, and

Whereas, the district and divisional U. S. army engineers for rivers and harbors in this area of which New Castle is a part, have recommended the construction of the Lake Erie-Ohio river canal, via the Pittsburgh-Ashtabula route, as a means of relieving this district and for the benefit of the United States as a whole, therefore

Be it resolved, that we, the city council of the city of New Castle, Pa., in session this 19th day of March, 1936, do heartily concur in the report and recommendations of the district and division engineers and most urgently request the board of engineers for rivers and harbors to approve the recommendations of the district and division engineers, and take the necessary steps to have the Lake Erie-Ohio river canal via the Pittsburgh-Ashtabula route constructed immediately and

Be is further resolved, that we, the city council of the city of New Castle, Pa., hereby agree to furnish proper municipal terminal facilities for use in the operation of this canal."

After the resolution had been presented Councilman Butler stated that the chamber of commerce had approved the resolution.

"Is the last paragraph of the resolution to be included? Are we to commit ourselves regarding the expense for terminals?" Mayor McGrath asked.

"Yes, in the resolution as formulated by the chamber of commerce," Butler responded.

Louis G. Genkinger, president of the chamber of commerce, present in council assembly, in reply to a query by the mayor as to whether the city was committing itself to bear the expense of the terminals, said the council was. He said a former council had approved such a formal resolution.

"Is this council in favor of the full resolution and of carrying with it the expense (meaning the land and docks for terminals)? Has council the money? Is council committing itself to something we cannot fulfill? It was explained that if the canal were built the probable expense to the city would be $25,000.

On the roll call Councilmen Alexander, Butler and Rice stood together as favorable for the full resolution. Mayor McGrath and Councilman Fink did not vote.

FINDS LOST WATCH THROUGH THE NEWS

A highly-valued white gold watch which F. G. Fraser, 607 Highland avenue, lost this week was back in his possession a short time after The News classified ad page had heralded the fact.

Mike Apecelli, Duquesne avenue, found the watch and returned it to Mr. Fraser after discovering the owner through the "lost and found" column of The News.

My New York By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—This Loony Town: An ad in one of the metropolitan papers says, "Associated Ghost Writers, Articles, Fiction, Etc." An office address is attached, but I prefer not to visit the Associated Ghosts; my illusions would certainly be cracked by workaday office furniture and maybe a few bright-eyed young men just out of school picking up an honest penny writing other people's masterpieces.

I prefer to think of the Associated Ghosts as romantic beings, moved, truly, by the divine afflatus and rather shadowy. They are, as I see them, too talented for the usual forms of literature. They must inhabit a cloudy world of pure creativeness, with perhaps a victrola or an old violinist to get them in the right mood. Maybe the machine age has them daffy.

A client demands a sonnet while he waits—in a luxurious anteroom. The Associated Ghosts convene in the Seance Cubicle next door and presently one of them floats off on a magic carpet of literary ectoplasm to the Inspiration Chamber. There he has the Old Violinist play something sad—perhaps a tune from "Thais"—while he hammers on his portable.

Twenty minutes later a flunky delivers the sonnet, all neatly inscribed with the customer's byline, and says sweetly: "The charge will be ten dollars, please."

Also in the classified section: "Treasured Love Letters Wanted for Radio Purposes."

You might think that if love letters were treasured the recipients wouldn't care to have them read over the air, even for a price. But a little reflection recalls that the constitutionality of the breach-of-promise law has been challenged.

Perhaps some hard-headed little girls will be able to realize something, if not a fortune, out of those little bundles tied in pink and blue, after all. And it won't even be necessary to dress up for the jury.

Sharp-eyed observers are noting that the Coney Island influence—flea-circuses, hot-dog stands and pin marble salons—is abaiting in the purlieus of Times Square. A more restrained mien is slowly but surely spreading over the Rialto. This is not innate and defiant dignity but rising rents.

Once upon a time, in the dip years, store space around Times Square rented for $700 a front foot and less. Owners had to be satisfied with the fly-by-nighters on occasion, in order to get any return on their investment at all. Now owners can pick and choose from a waiting list of would-be lessors and see that they get responsible business men rather than concessionaires in a midway.

The demand for electric signs has boomed hugely and the Great White Way will necessitate dark glasses next winter if blindness is to be avoided by wide-eyed visitors. Your reporter has ordered his pair.

The expression "born with a silver spoon in the mouth" derives from the medieval custom of presenting a godchild with silver or gold spoons.

GRANGE LADIES MEET

The Big Beaver Grange Ladies club met on Tuesday afternoon in the grange hall. Mrs. J. C. Brittain, Mrs. Jennie Davenport and Mrs. Thomas Miller the hostesses for the day served delicious refreshments, following the regular routine of business conducted by the president, Mrs. W. G. Shannon. Rev. J. Greer Bingham was guest speaker, using as his subject Holdfast Pennsylvania. The roll call was answered by naming a former governor of Pennsylvania.

An interesting St. Patrick's program arranged by the February hostesses was presented, with Mrs. Viola Baker, chairlady. The program contained a number of good readings and vocal solos and group singing. Guests included Rev. Bingham, Rev. Doak, Mrs. Wahn, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. John Brittain and daughter Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson.

The next meeting in April will be held in the evening. The families of the members will be special guests. A basket dinner will be served.

LEARN OF DEATH

Word was received here by relatives of Mrs. Robert H. McCaughtry at her home in Chippewa township, Beaver County, Sunday afternoon, March 15, following a few days illness of pneumonia. She was 78 years of age. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Floyd Hamilton of Big Beaver township, Lawrence County; and three sons, Charles at home and Albert and Herbert of Beaver Falls, 13 grandchildren, three brothers, C. B. McCarter of New Waterford, O., Frank McCarter, of Pittsburgh; Ed, of Beaver county; and one sister, Mrs. Olive Beatty, of Oklahoma.

Funeral services were held from the home on Wednesday afternoon.

BEAVER TOWNSHIP PERSONALS

Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson of Homestead is visiting her cousin Mrs. Jennie Davenport of Little Beaver.

PLAN TO ABOLISH PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS

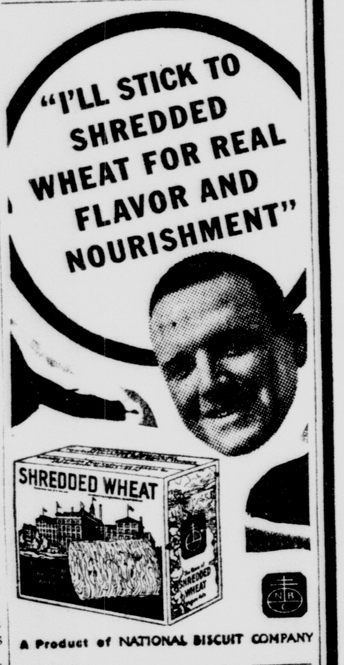

(International News Service)

HOBART, Tasmania, Mar. 20.—A definite move towards the abolition of public examinations is being made in Tasmania.

According to prospals being put forward a headmaster would give his pupils a certificate of efficiency, and they would not have to sit for an examination.

At the request of Mr. G. V. Brooks, the director of education with whom they originated, the proposals are shortly to be discussed by the University of Tasmania.

Girl Scouts Are Asked To Donate To Flood Victims

Mrs. W. H. Hanger, Girl Scout commissioner, issues the following statement to the New Castle Girl Souts:

"Attention Girl Scouts: Please gather up as many old clothes as possible both from your own home and from friends and neighbors and take to the Cathedral or the Red Cross office to be sent to help clothe the flood sufferers. The Girl Scout council knows the girls will welcome this opportunity of community service."

METROPOLIS SEEKS FREEDOM OF CITY

(International News Service)

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Mar. 20.—Sydney, second "white metropolis" of the Empire, feels that her hospitality to distinguished visitors is sadly limited, so she is applying to Great Britain for aid.

She wants to be able to grant the "Freedom of the City" on suitable occasions, and she cannot do this under her general charter.

Accordingly, the city council are to consider taking an application to Great Britain for permission to include a new clause in the charter.

In cities able to grant the Freedom it is the custom to present the visitors with an inlaid casket or an ornamental scroll.

The gesture also confers certain privileges within the city boundaries.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna announces that those who want their state personal income blanks filled out had better get in as soon as possible, as the time is now short. All blanks must be in by March 31.

County commissioners have arranged with Thomas Edmunds, clerk of the permanent registration bureau to keep the bureau office open at night, beginning March 23, and continuing until the 28th, the last day for registration of those who would vote at the spring primary. The office will be kept open each evening until 9 o'clock. This is for the benefit of those who work during the day, or persons who for any reason are unable to get to the office during the day. Those who have already registered and have not moved, need not again register.

Records from Harrisburg show a great variety of occupations among those who have filed nominating petitions for various office. There are many women candidates, some listing themselves as housewives and others as stenographers or clerks. Included in the list of male candidates are doctors, dentists, lawyers, school teachers newspaper publishers. Some of the unusual professions included a parking lot operator, radio announcer and restaurant operators. One district delegate filing as a Democrat for committeeman listed himself as unemployed.

The next session of court will be held on March 26 when Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham, will hear divorce applications. There are forty cases on the list, one of the largest ever known in divorce court here.

An old deed made on March 2, 1817, and said to be a missing link in a chain of title for a farm in Washington township, was placed on file at the register and recorder's office by former Judge R. L. Hildebrand yesterday, representing present owner of the farm, Robert B. Jordan. At the time the deed was made Washington township formed a part of Slippery Rock township, and was then in Mercer county. The deed was from George Hettenbaugh, or Hattenbaugh as it was spelled on the deed, to Henry Jordan. The description covered one hundred acres, and the price named in the deed was $225. The deed was made with an allowance of six per cent for roads.

The deed showed that the land had been surveyed in pursuance of a warrant issued March 18, 1794, and granted to Jacob Thompson. The land had afterwards been sold by William Byers, sheriff of Mercer county, as the property of John Nicholson, who by deed dated November 19, 1805, conveyed it to Nathaniel Bedford and Peter Money. They conveyed it to George Hettenbaugh by deed dated June 14, 1814. It was conveyed from Hettenbaugh to Henry Jordan, who conveyed it to present owner, Robert B. Jordan. The original deed from Hettenbaugh to Jordan had never been recorded and completes a chain of title.

Owing to a lack of funds nothing in the way of granting old age pensions, further than the investigation of cases can now be done by the Mothers' Assistance board which has the administration of the fund. Some four hundred old age pensions have been granted in the county, with seven or eight hundred more applications. When a person who is now receiving a pension dies, another one may be put on, but no new ones. It is expected that provisions for taking care of more of the applicants will be made at the next session of the legislature.

Legion Of Honor Discusses Relief

Veteran Organizations Will Organize Emergency Flying Squadrons

At the meeting of the Legion of Honor at the Cathedral last evening, discussion of the formation of a flying squadron of ex-service men, who would be available in case of any emergency, such as exists in other localities, was discussed.

A motion was passed authorizing Commander Clarence S. Jarrett to confer with the commanders of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, where a plan would be worked out so hat members of these organizations would be speedily mobilized in case of such an emergency in the local district.

It was decided to postpone Family Night from April 10 to April 17, because of the fact that the former date falls on Good Friday.

Plans were furthered for the dinner for golfers and members of the Legion of Honor, which will take place at the Municipal Course club house, Thursday evening, March 26.

THIEF SNARED BY BULLS-EYE CAMERA

It happened this way. Walter Simonazzi, buck private in Mussolini's army, went to a rifle range where, as an attraction to customers, there is a special camera that snaps a picture of a marksman if his bullet hits the bulls-eye.

Simonazzi hit the bull. But when he went to pay for his cartridges he found his pocket had been picked. The picture did the rest. When he showed the photograph to the police they recognized a man beside Simonazzi as he fired as Salieno, a well known Naples crook. Now Salieno is under arrest.

CYCLONE GAVE HER RIDE ATOP HENCOOP

(International News Service)

PURUGIA, Italy, Mar. 20.—A peasant woman near here experienced a unique joyride when a terrific cyclone struck this region.

She was about to feed her chickens when the tornado came along. Frightened, she clung desperately to the chicken coop, which had been constructed around the base of a tree.

The cyclone uprooted and carried away tree and chicken coop, with the woman hanging on for her life.

The flying tree, with its squawking chickens and peasant woman for passengers, was carried a distance of several miles before it finally fell to the ground.

The woman was uninjured except for some bad bruises and scratches.

Troop Arrives At Sharpsburg In Good Shape

Find Deplorable Conditions Existing In Flood-Stricken District

ARE QUARTERED IN SCHOOL HOUSE

Troop F. arrived at Sharpsburg yesterday afternoon at 1:30 and immediately took up their duties of aiding the victims of the flood in the Sharpsburg-Etna district, which was one of the worst affected by the high water in the Pittsburgh district.

The men have been quartered in the Sharpsburg school and will aid in distributing clothing and food to the flood victims and in maintaining order and preventing looting.

Word was sent back by the troopers that deplorable conditions were found there. Many people are homeless and suffering. While only ordered out for three days of service, the men may remain longer, until relief workers take over the task of relieving the stricken area.

Describes Conditions

Howard Gross, one of the drivers of the Pennsylvania Power Company trucks, which took the men to Sharpsburg, described conditions there as tragic.

They were unable to get into the flooded area, the water still being quite high in Sharpsburg. Two story homes were still completely submerged, they were told, and while the waters were starting to go down, the evidence of the damage was to be seen on every hand.

Prices of food and commodities were sky-rocketing and racketeers were in the district selling necessities at double their prices, he stated.

A whole row of houses had taken fire in the flood district, and the smoke could still be seen arising from the ruins.

The school house in which the troopers were quartered, still had its cellar filled with water, the building having been built with its first floor quite a distance above the ground. The water had risen to the sixth step before it subsided.

Mr. Gross stated that he had not seen any victims of the flood as they were evidently being taken care of in homes of the section. There were many sightseers about on the higher ground above the flooded area.

Rural Eighth Grade Pupils To Take Examination

Preliminary High School Entrance Tests Will Be Given March 27

All eighth grade pupils of the county schools will be required to take the preliminary high school entrance examinations, which will be given in the different schools of the county on Friday, March 27, County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling stated today.

The examination papers have been prepared and now available. Teachers who are able to call at the county superintendent's office and secure their supply are requestd to do so by Mr. Syling.

South Side Board Of Trade Responds

Donates $100 To Red Cross To Aid Flood Suffers In District

A check for $100 from the South Side Board of Trade has been dispatched to the American Red Cross to aid flood sufferers in the district.

This move was authorized at a special meeting of the organization held on Thursday evening, in the office of Eighth Ward Alderman B. J. Biondi, 114 East Long avenue.

During the session, the following committee was selected to solicit additional funds for the cause: H. J. Clark, Maurice Markley, William C. Druschel, Hartzel Huston, I. Samuels, James Merrilees, John Wajert, Joseph Frengel and Harold Lebo. Any persons desiring to donate money for the purpose are requested to forward it to the office of Alderman Biondi.

Any persons desiring to donate food or clothing are asked to call Frengel Coal and Supply. A truck will call and deliver the donations to the Red Cross, President Frengel announced.

PRO-INDUS CONTRIBUTES

Members of the Pro-Indus club, meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night, voted a $5 donation to Pittsburgh flood relief sufferers. The check this morning was turned over to the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter.

Williamsport Flood Ravaged

Community Is Reported In "Bad Shape" By First Rescuers

STATE PATROLMEN ARRIVE AT CITY

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—State highway patrolmen have gained access to flood-isolated Williamsport—the first patrolman entering the stricken city by a northern route from Berwick—the state highway patrol reported here today.

The department of revenue said the city, ravaged by flood and fire, was under patrol of National Guardsmen mobilized from the Williamsport troop and that the community was in "bad shape."

Highway patrolmen from the Berwick sub-station, it was reported, are moving into the city by the northern route. Both the southeastern and western portions of the city, it was said, are inaccessible from the outside.

General Edward C. Shannon, commander of the Pennsylvania National Guard, declared that while guardsmen were "cooperating with local authorities," martial law had not been established there or in any other Pennsylvania city.

Says Situation At Williamsport Is Well In Hand

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Gov. George H. Earle's office announced today that Insurance Commissioner Owen B. Hunt had arrived at Williamsport and found the "situation severe but well in hand."

Hunt, reporting he had reached the flood-ravished Susquehanna river community yesterday afternoon, further telegraphed the governor:

"No disorder of any kind. Philadelphia medical unit of three doctors and nine medical students arrived here at 3:30 p. m. and it is already organized and cooperating with local authorities.

"Following supplies urgently needed: 2 motor boats 14 feet long, 1,000 cots, 2,000 mattresses, 5,000 blankets. Have Dr. Dexter (Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, state health secretary) send us up enough sanitary and disinfecting material to cover area ten square miles.

"Send as many oil stoves as possible. Have Warren Van Dyke (secretary of highways) keep highway open from Hazleton to Bloomsburg. Route 864 from Clarkstown to Farragut in bad condition. Rush WPA repair crews at once. This highway should be patrolled and kept open. It is the only line of communication to Williamsport from the east. Have highway police all highways leading to Williamsport to keep out all sightseers."

The highway patrol is already policing roads to Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Osborne and children, Mrs. James Osobrne, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hoagland, son Paul and Mrs. Jos. Bowen attended the Sample Fair and social at Neshannock Presbyterian church in New Wilmington Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs.. Lyle Garner and son of Mercer, and her mother Mrs. Jessie Osborne, of this place, were visitors at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. William Frantz, at New Castle. Mr. and Mrs. Garner went on to Mahoningtown and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Garner.

Old Man Winter surely staged a come back on Tuesday. Every road, lane and yard in the country was snowed full. The schools are all closed, the milk trucks are out since Tuesday morning. The mail man has not been out since Monday but thank goodness, we still have the telephone. There is a snow drift in the writer's front yard 4½ feet deep. Everyone can surely remember St. Patrick's Day of 1936.

Flood Relief Funds Asked

Congress Is Requested To Make Appropriation To Meet Situation

ELEVEN STATES ARE AFFECTED

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20—With eleven states ravaged by record floods, Congress today wrestled with the problem of immediate emergency relief while plans were sped for broad flood control legislation to banish the menace of future devasting inundations.

Returning from a hurried survey of the stricken Pennsylvania sector, Rep. Ellenbogen (D) of Pittsburgh, presented a bill to the house calling for immediate appropriation of $50,000,000 for relief of flood victims.

The fund would be expended under the president's direction in all the states affected. Ellenbogen conferred with administration leaders and reported them "favorably disposed." Pending action until full extent of the flood damage can be determined, Ellenborgen appealed for WPA aid in restoring streets in Pittsburgh and other hard hit centers.

Staggering Damages

He estimated damage in Pittsburgh alone will reach the staggering sum of between fifty and one hundred million dollars.

"The flood is probably the worst in recorded history in Pittsburgh," Ellenbogen said. "Thousands there are homeless and in need of food, shelter and clothing. Electric and gas lines have been crippled and the water supply nearing exhaustion. The situation is almost unbelievable in a modern metropolis."

Ellenbogen said he had been told by the Red Cross that the appeal for public subscription of $3,000,000 would care for immediate needs but he feared that as the waters recede ravaged cities and towns will find the burden of caring for the homeless and rebuilding destroyed areas beyond their pocketbooks.

"The need for sufficient funds being made immediately available to feed, clothe and shelter the flood victims is urgent," he said. "Local and state governments cannot meet the demand. Only the federal government has sufficient cash resources to step in quickly."

Ellenbogen said it has been a traditional policy of the federal government to appropriate funds for flood or drought relief.

Rep. Moritz (D) of Pennsylvania, introduced a joint resolution asking for an appropriation of $5,000,000 for relief of flood sufferers in Pennsylvania's Allegheny county. County funds, he said, are "seriously impaired."

In the senate, Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania, called for a $5,000,000 appropriation and his colleague, Senator Guffey (D) asked for $10,000,000 from relief funds. Both sums to be administered by the Red Cross. Davis told the senate the floods is the "worst catastrophe of its kind in 50 years."

"Conditions in Pittsburgh and Johnstown are unspeakably bad," he said. "This flood condition is not local. It extends from New Hampshire and Vermont to Virginia and from Pittsburgh to the coast."

No Services At Tifereth Israel

Because of the illness of Rabbi Pinchos Katz there will be no regular Sabbath services at the Tifereth Israel synagogue tonight.

Food Trucks Get Through

First Time In Three Days Food Trucks Get To Scranton Area

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Mar. 20.—Food trucks are "getting through" for the first time in three days to Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Binghamton and Elmira,, N. Y.., according to Pat Baron of the American Carrier Corporation.

Baron announced that refrigerated trucks carrying various kinds of foods are moving into the four flood areas today.

W. B. A. ASKED TO HELP SUFFERERS

Any member of the Woman's Benefit Association having food or clothing to donate for the flood sufferers are asked to get in touch with the financial secretary, Mrs. Nell Knox, 'phone, 2549-J, who will see that they are collected.

AH—THE JUICE!

"Tom," said Mrs. Smith, "what shall I do? I've nothing for dessert but brandied peaches, and the minister is coming to dinner. I never thought about him—you know he's such a strict teetotaler."

Smith said he was sorry, but that they would have to trust to luck.

They did—and luck did not fail them. For when it came to the dessert, the minister evidently enjoyed the peaches. He said he had never tasted anything half so good. And when Mrs. Smith asked him, "Could she not have the pleasure of serving him with another peach?" he replied, "No, thank you, but if you don't mind, I'll take a little more of the juice!"

A French scientist reports that well-fed cats will catch more rats than will hungry cats. He cites this as a reason for the statement that English cats are better rat catchers than are their neighbors across the channel.

Coast Guard Boats Arrive In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 20.—Five Coast Guard boats arrived here today from the station at Erie to engage in rescue work.

Two of the boats were assigned immediately to make surveys of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers after which they will be pressed into rescue work along with the three others.

Some of the stores are showing spring outfits consisting of one jacket and two skirts, one wool, the other silk. Although these have been introduced in pastel shades for southern wear they are very practical for late spring and summer wear.

How to get extra value for your money

Food for food, it's hard to beat the economy of baked products. And in baking, it's hard to beat the economy of quality. Baking your family won't eat is expensive.

Just say "Occident" to your grocer. If you don't win compliments from your friends and family on the difference in your baking, we're the losers because we guarantee (offer enclosed in each sack) that you and your friends will notice the difference—or we refund your money.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

New Lineup To Doom Selassie

Believe Mussolini's Support Against Germany Will Spell Fate Of Ethiopia

ETHIOPIA HAS LITTLE SUPPORT

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Rhineland situation is spoken of by diplomatic folk in Washington as having spelled the finish of Haile Selassie, however it may develop outside Ethiopia.

Representatives of powers like France and Britain do not admit in so many words that their governments have had to buy Benito Mussolini's support against Germany by abandoning their opposition to his campaign in Africa, but what they say cannot be otherwise than so interpreted.

Until Herr Hitler took something dangerously suggestive of the warpath the league countries were formidably aligned against Italy.

Il Duce kept his Ethiopian activities going, indeed, but there is no doubt that the league's persistent threats of sanctions (threats are all that they really amount to) have worried him badly.

* * *

FEAR TO THREATEN

Now the more potent of the league nations are afraid to continue even to threaten him.

If he lines up with Hitler the alliance will be hazardous.

It is not so much a question:

Who can lick whom?

The question is:

What will start another world conflict?

Hitler may not be able to start another one alone. Nor may Mussolini. But, combined, who knows?

* * *

DANGEROUS COMBINATION

What the British, the French and perhaps the Russians and some smaller countries are desperately anxious to prevent is such a combination, precipitating a clash, on the allied dictators' theory that they will "get away with something" under cover of the confusion, even at the sacrifice of civilization.

On this basic they are disposed to yield a modicum of his demands to Mussolini, to keep him from uniting with Hitler.

They have not much hope of blocking an amalgamation of Germany with Italy, if it can be effected, for Germany needs Italy more than Italy needs Germany. But they think they may be able to influence Italy, which can't profit greatly by German assistance.

* * *

ETHIOPIA HELPLESS

Ethiopia, then, has no genuine league support.

On moral grounds the league of nations ought to protect it.

The league was disposed to do so, while the quarrel was between comparatively picayune Italy and microscopic Ethiopia.

Germany having entered into the equation, Ethiopia goes into the discard.

* * *

MAY CHANGE AGAIN

It is a temporary situation, to be sure.

Just now France is in a "state of mind" because Germany is encroaching on the Rhineland, backed by Britain.

But, a few months hence, Britain will be yelling that Italy is encreaching, in Ethiopia, on the headwaters of the Nile, jeopardizing the irrigation of British Egypt.

* * *

GOODBY, HAILE

In the meantime Haile Selassie will have lost his throne, as a result of clashes between major powers.

Good night to Haile Selassie, in Abyssinia!

The tonnage passing through the Detroit river, which connects Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair, exceeds in volume that passing through any other river in the world. Yet the Detroit river is closed to navigation during the winter and part of the spring.

POLISH SILVER without Rubbing

10c—25c AT YOUR GROCERS

Would you like to have sparkling, shimmering silverware, without time-wasting rubbing and scouring?

Then place a teaspoon of CLIMALENE in a pan of water . . . boil silver for two minutes. Longer if badly stained. Rinse. Now you have silver free of dull soap film . . . glistening with shop window newness . . . always "ready for company".

THIS NATURAL FOOD GENTLY REGULATES YOUR SYSTEM

Furnishes Needed "Bulk" for Regular Habits

Your doctor will tell you that keeping healthy depends far more on proper diet than on drugs, that common constipation is usually due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, and that patent medicines give you only temporary relief.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gently acting "bulk" which corrects the cause of common constipation.* This "bulk" takes up moisture, forming a soft mass which helps to cleanse the system.

ALL-BRAN gives your body the regular internal exercise it needs to prevent sluggishness. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Studies on normal men and women have shown that this delicious cereal is perfectly satisfactory. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Consult your doctor if you do not gain relief this way. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GAS AND BLOATING PAINS OF THIS PENNSYLVANIA LADY GONE NOW, THANKS TO INDO-VIN

"No Gas, No Dizziness Now;" Testifies Mrs. Benard. "I Feel Better Than I Have In Years—and I Think Indo-Vin Is A Blessing to Sufferers."

Sufferers from stomach trouble such as gas and acid, sluggish liver and irregular bowel action are finding quick relief for their trouble at the Eckerd Drug Store here in New Castle. If you are rundown, sick and ailing, by all means consult the druggists at this store where they are personally talking every day to hundreds of persons seeking relief.

The formula for Indo-Vin is different from any previously known medicine. It is new and scientific. Testimonials from grateful former sufferers are pouring into the drug store and every day many persons stop in personally to thank the druggist for getting them to try Indo-Vin for their ills.

Here is a most interesting letter just received from a reputable and widely-known lady of McDonald, Pa., Mrs. Julia Benard of 401 Barr St. She writes about her relief from suffering through Indo-Vin as follows:

GETS QUICK RESULTS

"I used to be a regular sufferer from indigestion and was in terrible misery after every meal. My food would turn sour and cause me to have gas pains and make me so sick that I hated to see meal-time arrived. This condition went on for years and I guess I tried everything without any real relief. Then I got Indo-Vin and it helped me more than everything else put together. That sourness left my stomach and I don't have the gas pains like I used to. I can enjoy my meals now and don't feel sick and upset like I did before. I have a real appetite now and feel so much better that I want others to know about this medicine."

WHAT INDO-VIN IS

Indo-Vin is taken after meals and mixes with the food in the stomach; often acts in less than ten minutes to stop gas pains, sourness and bloating. It contains seventeen of the purest medicinal ingredients and not one a habit-forming drug. It will aid the liver by stimulating the flow of fresh bile, so necessary in helping Nature digest your food, and it will further aid in the removal of intestinal impurities that may have been the cause of your headaches, biliousness, dizzy spells and worn-out feeling.

WHAT INDO-VIN WILL DO

First of all, Indo-Vin acts on the liver and helps stimulate the flow of fresh bile; it will cleanse your bowels gradually, gently and thoroughly without the usual pain and griping that often comes from the use of cathartics. Indo-Vin will bring out gases and intestinal impurities that may have been inside of you a long time, causing your trouble.

It will help make the digestive organs sweet and clean.

It will give you a lively appetite; more desire for food than perhaps you have had since you were a healthy boy or girl.

It will aid in clearing up skin eruptions caused by the impurities in the digestive organs; it will help overcome the sallowness or "muddiness" that is due to sluggish liver.

Indo-Vin will make your STOMACH, LIVER and BOWELS more active, build you up in general and make you LOOK, ACT and feel like a different man or woman.

Don't neglect constipation. Don't think an occasional "cleaning out" makes things right. Between times, the blood stream and kidneys are loaded with impurities. Indo-Vin helps avoid this.

Indo-Vin is a real, genuine medicine for a person to take and we are selling large quantities of it.

Dead Man And Still Found In Borough Home

Frank H. Homziuk Dies From Acute Alcoholism—Three Arrests Are Made

MASH AND FINISHED LIQUOR ARE FOUND

Frank H. Homziuk is dead from acute alcoholism and three men are in the county jail today, following the discovery of a still in the house of Leon Tarasek, Gilmore street, South New Castle borough Thursday evening.

The case was brought to light when a telephone message came to Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, that a man had died suddenly in the Tarasek home. Sheriff Pritchard turned the case over to Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor who called Coroner Orville Potter.

Arriving at the Tarasek home they found that Homiziuk had probably been dead for some time. After investigating the circumstances surrounding the case Coroner Potter decided that the man had died from acute alcoholism. Homziuk was 49 years of age, and was born in Poland. Funeral will be held on Saturday.

While investigating the case Deputy Taylor and Coroner Potter discovered a still, six barrels of mash, and some finished liquor. Taylor called Deputies Jess Kennedy and Connie Wardman, and the investigation was continued. In the cellar of the Tarasek home they found a part of the still on a hot plate. In a shed in a rear of the home the balance of the still was found and five gallon of liquor secreted under several bales of hay. High Constable, Mrs. Dibley of the borough arrived and assisted in the search.

The still, liquor and other paraphernalia were brought to the sheriff's office, and Leon Tarasek, Steve Tarasek and Mike Tarasek were lodged in the county jail. An information will be made against them for manufacturing unlawful liquor.

Woman Uses Plane To Reach Hospital

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Mar. 20.—She said she would never take a plane ride, but . . .

Came the flood, and she did.

Mrs. W. I. King, an elderly woman whose home is at Rosslyn Farms Boro, 15 miles from flooded Pittsburgh, arrived here today aboard a TWA plane enroute to Boston for an operation.

Mrs. King said that for the past three days she used a 25-year-old oil lamp for her daily Bible reading.

LETTERS THAT TURN THE TRICK

A large firm found that one of its otherwise good customers very rarely paid his account until the final registered letter had been sent. One day the cashier went out of his way to call upon him, and asked him outright why he always withheld payment until the last minute.

"As a matter of fact," came the reply, "I find your letters so excellently worded that I use them as models to write to my own customers; and," he added, "they are most efficient."

Public Hearings For WPA Probe

Sweeping Senate Probe Into Charges Of WPA Graft Will Be Started

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20—A sweeping senate inquiry into charges of graft, waste and politics in administration of the WPA throughout the nation appeared certain today as Democrats joined with Republicans in seeking approval of the Davis resolution.

The inquiry was endorsed unanimously by the senate committee on expenditures in the executive departments.

Public hearings will be started soon after the senate approves the resolution introduced by Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania. In deference to Davis, the committee first will investigate the WPA situation in Pennsylvania.

First demand for the investigation was made months ago by former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania. He charged WPA relief rolls were used in that state to build up a Democratic political machine. Later, Senator Vandenberg (R), of Michigan, charged a Democratic country chairman in Indiana county tried to collect campaign funds from WPA workers. Later still, in a magazine article, Robert L. Johnson former Pennsylvania WPA head charged the WPA being operated for political purposes and wastefully.

NEW INVENTION WILL ANIMATE NEWS IN PAPER

(International News Service)

PARIS—Newspapers of the future may issue strips of paper of which will be printed a series of pictures of news events. By passing these strips through an inexpensive instrument, the reader will be able to see a moving picture of the event as well as reading about it.

This is the claim of the inventor of a "newspaper newsreel," M. Louis Damblanc, a French scientist well known for his experiments in aerodynamics and with postal rockets.

He is said to have been struck by the fact that animated drawings on the screen are more entertaining than the "stationary" comic strips in newspapers. This led him to experiment with a simple device by means of which drawings printed on strips of paper could be made to resemble a film.

The inventor is now reported to have achieved satisfactory results, so that it may soon be possible to pay a penny for a few score yards of paper newsreel and watch a moving picture of the big events of the day as you sit by your own fireside.

Scots Will Tell King He's Using The Wrong Title

(International News Service)

LONDON.—King Edward VIIIth will soon receive a complaint that he is using his wrong title.

Scottish Nationists have met in solemn conclave and decided to launch a petition to the King pointing out that his correct title should be "King Edward VIII of Great Britain and Edward II of Scotland."

They base their claim on the fact that before the union of the crowns of England and Scotland there had never been a King Edward of Scotland, and that Edward is only the second King bearing that name since the union. His grandfather, Edward VIIth, was the first, Edward VII never used the Scottish title, and it is unlikely his grandson will accede to the wish of the Scots.

Half Length View Of King On New English Stamp

(International News Service)

LONDON—For the first time in history the postage stamps of Great Britain will carry a half-length portrait of the sovereign in place of the customary profile picture when the first stamps of King Edward VIII are issued at the end of this year.

It is understood that, by his own request, the new king will appear on all British stamps in naval uniform and bare-headed. The portrait will extend to the waist.

Ever since England's first adhesive stamp was issued in 1840 the sovereign has been represented by a head and neck portrait only.

Injuries Fatal To Prize Fighter

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Tony Scarpati, 22-year-old local lightweight boxer, died today from injuries received Tuesday night in a bout with Lou Ambers.

8,000 TABLETS REMIND ITALY OF SANCTIONS

(International News Service)

ROME—Eight thousand marble tablets permanently embedded in the facades of every town hall in Italy will remind future generations of the economic siege which 50 nations imposed on Italy in 1935.

Mussolini personally examined various models submitted. Then he sent orders to the prefects of Masso Carrara, world famous marble region, and of Lucca, to cause eight thousand tablets to be made according to the model selected by him.

The tablets will be simple in design. A fascist lictor's emblem will flank on each side the inscription: "November 18th 1935—Italians, Remember!"

Program Hurt By Exorbitant Bids

Entire PWA Program May Be Wrecked By Bids On Materials

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Exorbitant and identical bids on materials for relief projects caused by the basing point price fixing system may wreck the PWA program, Secretary of the Interior Ickes said today.

Ickes testified before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, holding hearings on the anti-basing point bill.

Describing bids received by the bureau of reclamation he said: "It might not be out of place to remark that as a result of identical bids, the work of the bureau of reclamation has been seriously hampered.

Act As Trustee

"The bureau is acting as a trustee in building irrigation works for the farmers, who will pay the cost of construction in the end.

"They are able to meet their payments only by great industry and self-denial and it costs go beyond a certain point, it will become necessaiy to give up the building of such projects.

"I might add that in the circumstances there does not seem to be much reason for continuing to ask for bids. If all prices are identical, we might as well bargain with a single firm.

"The purchasing records of PWA, the Indian service and national parks all tell the same story."

Basing Point System

"Do you attribute these high and uniform prices to the basing point system used by the manufacturers of these materials," asked Senator Minton D) of Indiana.

"Yes," replied Ickes, "especially is this a fact in the purchase of cement and steel."

Ickes added that high material costs have "definitely slowed up" the PWA program because of the identical bids that have been received in "so many instances."

TRUE TO LIFE

"Now, boys," the teacher queried "after what I have explained of the lion's fierceness, strength and daring, can any one of you name a single animal of which the king of beasts stands in awe?"

Up shot little Willie's hand. "Well," the teacher asked, "which is the animal?"

Blast Shakes Capital City

Fifty Cans Of Carbide Explode In Harrisburg, Fire Is Controlled

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Flood-bound Harrisburg was temporarily threatened by fire in its mid-town section today when 50 cans of carbide exploded in a storage shed and brought out all available fire fighting equipment in a general alarm.

Although hampered by three feet of water in surrounding streets, firemen succeeded in quenching the resultant blaze with chemicals. The storage shed was blown to bits and windows within a quarter-mile radius were shattered by the blast.

No injuries were reported. City and volunteer firemen returned to their flood patrol stations as the city relaxed from momentary panic.

When other nations conquered the heathen, that was progress. When Italy and Japan do it, they are wicked aggressors.

Sanitary Engineers Head For Harrisburg

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 20.—An emergency staff of nine sanitary engineers was hurriedly sent by automobile to Harrisburg, Pa., today, following a request to the U. S. public health service from Pennsylvania state officials for aid in flood rescue work.

Dr. William F. Draper, acting surgeon-general, previously had offered the facilities of his organization to communities in the flood areas.

Four Lose Lives At Punxsutawney

(International News Service)

CARLSTADT, N. J., Mar. 20.—An unidentified radio amateur at Punxsutawney, Pa., had this to say today in reporting the death toll there:

"Four persons of one family in morgue here. It was their own fault, for they had plenty of time to get out of flood area."

The message was intercepted by station WRH here.

Would Provide Billion Dollars For Flood Work

Congress Asked To Expend Huge Sum By Rep. Dunn Of Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20. — As homeless flood victims of eleven states faced hunger, cold and the menace of pestilence, congress was asked today to appropriate $1,000,000,000 to succor the ravaged areas.

A joint resolution calling for the huge emergency relief expenditure was introduced in the house by Rep. Dunn (D) blind Pennsylvania congressman.

Dunn declared the billion dollars, to be expended under direction of the president, is necessary not only as an emergency measure to take care of the hundreds of thousands of homeless, but to rehabilitate them after the destructive waters recede.

No Politics In Reduction

Cutting WPA Force Not To Have Political Basis, Is Notice

In the 15 per cent reduction of WPA forces in district 14, political affiliations are to be forgotten, according to notices received from State Director Edward N. Jones by District Director J. Vale Downie. In explaining the situation Mr. Downie said:

"In making selections of the 15 per cent reduction of WPA workers who are to be released on or before March 31, foremen have been instructed to disregard completely the political status of the worker," said J. Vale Downie, director of district 14, today. "The question of how a worker is registered as to political faith or whether he is registered at all shall have no effect in determining whether or not he shall be released from the WPA payroll. Instructions have been issued covering a method of selecting the persons to be discharged. The first group to go will be those who are physically unfit for labor on our projects. The second group will be those who have no dependents and who may have other family income than that earned under WPA.

"All WPA workers in district 14 were referred to us by the employment office without any suggestion of political discrimination, and whenever, because of the curtailment or completion of our operations, it shall be necessary to reduce our forces, we shall follow the same rule as regards political considerations as was observed by the employment office in referring the men to us in the beginning. Any foreman or supervisor who can be clearly shown to have violated this rule will be dismissed.

"I have received the following administrative notice from Edward N. Jones, state administrator, issued from Harrisburg March 16, 1936, and I have caused the notice to be brought to the attention of all WPA workers in district 14":

All district directors are hereby instructed to post in the district office and to deliver to every project foreman an exact copy of the following regulation:

No employe of the Works Progress Administration, either administrative or engaged on a project, is required to make any contribution to any political party.

No Works Progress Administration employe's job will be in jeopardy because of the failure of said employe to make such contribution.

No employe of the Works Progress Administration shall at any time solicit contributions for any political party and evidence of such solicitation will be cause for immediate discharge. The question of whether or not to contribute to any political party is a matter entirely for the voluntary decision of said employe.

No person shall be employed or discharged by the Works Progress Administration on the ground of his support or non-support of any candidate of any political organization.

EDWARD N. JONES,
State Administrator.

Change Old Hens Into Pullets By Using Lipstick

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 20.—Lipstick has been blamed for many things, but English farmers in the Yorkshire district think they have found a new one.

They allege that lipstick is being used by unscrupulous chicken dealers to turn old hens into temporary pullets.

Every chicken breeder knows that the age of fowls is partly judged by the freshness of the comb. Aged hens may be told because of the faded appearance of their combs.

Now the Yorkshire farmers, at a meeting of the West Riding Farmers' Union at Leeds, have been warned that lipstick has been found on the combs of "pullets"—and that when the lipstick was removed the "pullets" were revealed as hens of mature vintage.

Connecticut Now Has But One Town Of Indian Origin

(International News Service)

NAUGATUCK, Conn., Mar. 20.—The Connecticut Yankee remains, but the Connecticut Indian is almost extinct. Only one town bearing an Indian name remains in Connecticut.

Naugatuck, (Algonquin for "one tree,") is the only town that is officially known by its Indian name.

In colonial days, over 40 towns of the present 169 bore Indian names. Such names as Pyquag, Mameaug, Pattaquaset, Quinnipiac, and Suckiag have all disappeared. In their stead the towns now bear the names of Wethersfield, New London, Saybrook, New Haven, and Hartford, respectively.

Naugatuck, incorporated from Bethany, Oxford, and Waterbury in 1844 took its present name after being called Salem parish and Salem Bridge.

Missionary Has Trying Experience In South America

Rev. William Hammond, who left New Castle last September to go to South America as a missionary, had quite a trying experience in Brazil, it is learned here.

The truck carrying four thousands pounds of baggage for a party of missionaries of which Rev. Hammond was a member was struck and the baggage was thrown out and scattered along the road.

At about this time a rainstorm broke upon them, mosquitoes were thick and Rev. Hammond spent a sleepless night in the open, lying on a damp mattress while his companions walked to a town seven miles away.

Party Off, Flood Victims Will Get Cash Of Employes

Employes of the New Castle Dry Goods store today abandoned all plans for a gala party next Tuesday night and voted the $200 set aside for it to the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter's fund for relief work among flood sufferers.

Clothing and other merchandise valued at almost $100 was collected by the store force and turned over to the Red Cross.

Baby Born After Trip In Rowboat

STEUBENVILLE, O., Mar. 20.—The first "flood" baby was born here today as the Ohio river reached a stage of 52.5 feet. Mrs. William Luby, the mother, was brought to the hospital by rowboat and truck from her home in Costonia. The child was born a short time after her arrival. Attaches said both mother and baby were doing nicely.

When the philanthropist says there is no gratitude, it is because he expects $40 worth of gratitude for a 50-cent favor.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CONDUCT OF STUDENTS

During this time of year—and later, there are many school groups taking trips—athletic teams, school orchestras and excursions.

From a hotel official I have learned that whereas many hotels used to give special rates to athletic teams, some do so no longer, since the loss from property taken away or destroyed is becoming so great. A certain college dean, in a college noted for its winning teams, told me he was ashamed to admit the large figure paid out by the alumni athletic association of that college—a condition he was trying to correct—on bills sent by hotels for breakage and theft by the team. And yet we like to think of athletics as one of our best character and citizenship builders!

Who has not sat under the spell of the athletic coach appealing tearfully to the students of the assembly to support the team and help them win? Have you ever heard one of these coaches make a like appeal to the members of his team to conduct themselves while on a trip in such a way as to win honor for their school through good citizenship when not on the athletic field? Unfortunately the latter is not his chief concern? Will he ever make it so?

About the groups of high school boys and girls going together, a hundred or more of them to a group, on an educational excursion. The objective is excellent, and the gain for most of these youths must be wholesome. Not so for all.

Conduct Good?

While in a hotel one spring evening, in a city most noted for its school excursions, I was so pleasantly impressed with the conduct of the high school boys and girls I watched dancing and moving about the lobby, that I felt impelled to write their school principal whom I did not know, to tell him of the good impression his students made on me. I have on several occasions done so concerning good conduct of student-groups.

Naively I began expressing my enthusiasm to a bell boy standing near me. But his response discouraged me.

"Some of those right there you call so fine, you should have seen last night about 2 o'clock." And what he told me of the promiscuous relationships of many of those boys and girls in many of the hotel rooms the night before, is hardly fit to print. I later questioned several other bell boys of that hotel, only to find their reports corroborating the first bell boy's.

I had occasion that evening to go to a second hotel where there was another mixed school excursion. I heard almost the same as I had in the first.

Any parent of a high school student reading this, having learned what I did, would hardly be enthusiastic about sending his boy or girl on such an excusion. They would, however, if the groups were only boys or only girls and at different times—in which case few would go. Chaperones of school excursions, mixed groups, are usually not worth a pinch of salt. They kid themselves and cause the parents to do likewise.

COAST GUARDS AID SUFFERERS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Commander Martinus P. Jensen, head of the Fourth District Coast Guard, announced he had received a long distance telephone call and a radiogram from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., apprising him of the fact that 300 rescues had been effected in that vicinity by 40 coast guardsmen sent to the flood area late yesterday.

Music Program Heard By Women

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Mar. 20.—The Association of American University Women met Thursday at Browne Hall, Westminster College, with a program of music furnished by the Conservatory of Music.

The double trio, composed of Bernice Turner, Farrell; Margaret Parke, Sharon; Sally Enos, Wilkinsburg; Florence Marriott, Erie; Ruth Stewart, Hubbard, O., and Comfort Spelman, Kent, O., will give several selections, accompanied by Janet Bailey, Ford City.

Miss Ada Peabody, Conservatory of Music, will speak on "Folk Music"; and Professor E. H. Freeman will play a group of three folk dances.

The meeting will be in charge of Miss Peabody.

Father, Mother, Son, Suddenly Become Insane

(International News Service)

ROME, Mar. 20.—A curious case of collective insanity manifested itself in this railroad station when Antonio Oliva, 51, his wife, Maria Antonia, 40, and their eleven year old son, Guiseppe, suddenly became insane at the same instant.

They had been waiting for a train when they jumped up from their seats and began a mad chase of each other around the waiting room table, with weird screams for accompaniment.

Fascist station militiamen were called to the scene to restrain them. When a physician arrived, he declared it a case of collective insanity and the family of three was taken to the local hospital here where they are being held for observation.

The father and mother had been traveling on a French passport and had been about to return to France when their symptoms appeared.

WORSE AFTER FLU THAN DURING ATTACK

Housewife Finds Weakness Led To Agonies Of Indigestion

"The flu left me so weak that I could not attend to my ordinary household duties, my head remained stuffy and my stomach was so uncertain that I was afraid to eat," said Mrs. Ruth Hill of Ambridge, Pa., to her neighbors, in discussing her quick recovery when she found the right medicine. "You know how that left my household. I was worried about it, for my children were not properly taken care of, and though I had to get help in my home it was never the same as it was when I was able to take care of it. When I would get around for a day or two I would have to remain in bed the next two or three days, because I would get so weak and dizzy I could not stand, and if I ate a good meal I would suffer agonies for days afterward, as I would have to take different physics to get my bowels to move, and my stomach would swell up with gas, and I would belch up sour gas. This indigestion seemed to poison my whole system, so that I was really worse off three months after the flu than I was during it.

"I tried a number of medicines. They would sometimes help me for a few days, and then I would find myself flat on my back again. This continued until one day my husband brought home a new medicine that he said was brought from various parts of the world and was different from other medicines as it did not require pills to get the bowels to move, and the men in his shop had been talking about it. It was called World's Tonic. I began taking it, and the very first bottle cleared up my dizziness and my stomach trouble and gave me an appetite. I was almost afraid to eat, but I was so hungry all the time that I began to eat three meals a day. To my great relief and delight they digested perfectly. Of course that give me strength, and I began to feel like myself. In about three weeks the catarrh and stuffiness in my head was gone, and since then I have been able to do my own work, set things to rights, and enjoy my new-found strength. I got well almost as quickly as I got sick, thanks to this good medicine." World's Tonic can be had of Eckerd's, Paisley's, or of any other first class drug store. (B-32.)

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

But this $765* buys the most efficient type of straight-eight engine in the world—the Buick valve-in-head straight-eight.

This $765* buys the safety of tiptoe hydraulic brakes combined with the overhead protection of the solid steel "Turret Top."

This $765* buys Knee-Action, plus weight-balanced springing, plus freedom from backlash and vibration through torque-tube drive.

This $765* buys acceleration from 10 to 60 in 20.7 seconds, thrifty gas mileage, and a lightness of handling that's the answer to a woman driver's prayer.

And this $765* buys a car engineered in Buick's own matchless manner, which means not only smoothness and steadiness and road-hugging evenness at every speed—but the sort of tough-fibred stamina that makes cobwebs grow in the repair shops!

A car like this at a price like this is news worth knowing any day in the week—but for the real surprise let us show you how it figures out in weekly payments.

The new GMAC 6% Time Payment Plan cuts the cost of buying a car on time. Why not use these savings to get the kind of car you've always wanted?

HAUL 407 TONS OF GARBAGE

City trucks hauled 407 tons of garbage from homes to the incinerating plant last month, according to the report of Howard Phillips. Garbage collecting was handicapped by the weather and snow. More than 100 loads were hauled by non-city employes to various places.

Packing foods for domestic pets is said to be the second largest canning industry in America, more than 25,000,000 cases of cat and dog food being packed in 1935.

Let's see, now, just when was that car of yours greased last?

Philadelphia Is Sending Help To Rest Of State

Philadelphia Generously Giving Money, Doctors And Food

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 20.—Mobilizing on all fronts, Philadelphia today engaged in a wholehearted outpouring of its resources to aid Pennsylvania victims of the tragic triumvirate—flood, fire and pestilence.

Under Mayor S. Davis Wilson's supervision, supplies of all kinds were being collected at the 103rd infantry armory. Not an hour of the day or night has pased since Wednesday that food and medical supplies, physicians, nurses and other volunteers did not leave on their missions of mercy.

Take Up Collections.

Today the finance committee of city council was considering a motion to appropriate $100,000 for the benefit of flood sufferers. Meanwhile, Philadelphians privately responded generously with cash donations, mostly collected from audiences in motion picture theatres.

Hoisted from the Delaware river, two Philadelphia harbor patrol boats were shipped to Sunbury in response to frantic calls for help from the inundated Wyoming valley area.

On the heels of a donation of 125 tons of foodstuffs from Philadelphia commission markets, the city's bakeries announced they would send on their own trucks 100,000 loaves of bread to the flood victims.

Teachers Home From Flood Area

High School Faculty Members Back Home After Being Marooned In Homestead

Miss Marjorie Rhodes, assistant principal of the Senior high school, and Miss Eleanor Galbreath, a member of the faculty, have returned home from Homestead, where they were marooned by the flood.

They had gone to Pittsburgh to see the basketball game and were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Connor, of Homestead, over Tuesday night. When it came time for the bus containing the basketball team to pull out for home, they were unable to cross the Monongahela river, which flows through Homestead and had to remain there until early afternoon yesterday.

They were able to see much of the devastation wrought by the flood in the district outside Pittsburgh.

Some Highways Reported Open

Motor traffic to the east is open today, according to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club. After a host of telephone calls Mr. Hanlon has established the fact that motorists can get through to Philadelphia on the Lincoln Highway.

Pittsburgh can be reached by way of the Perry Highway, through Millvale and across the Fortieth Street bridge. There is a little mud at Aetna but it is not impassable.

Route 22 is not open but Route 30, the Lincoln Highway is. To get to Harrisburg take the Lincoln to Chambersburg and then up on Route 11.

GARDNER

ENTERTAINS CLASS

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Derr at Gardner was the scene of a pretty party last Saturday afternoon, when Josephine Derr was hostess to her classmates of the Sunshine class of the Gardner Sunday school. Miss Dorothy Hay, the teacher of the class, directed the games and laid plans for an Easter program. At a suitable hour eight girls sat down at a tastefully decorated table, which was gay wtih St. Patrick colors, and feasted on the tempting good things served by Mrs. Derr.

GARDNER NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Clark of the Butler road went to Clairton the first of the week to visit their father, Henry Ohl, and brother, Van Ohl.

Mrs. Carrie Wade of North Washington is visiting for a few days at the home of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wade on the Butler road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Robison and children of the Mt. Jackson road spent Sunday afternoon at Gardner with Mrs. Clifford Robison and family.

Rev. Norman K. Cunningham preached on Saturday night at Ellwood City and is sojourning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gillespie on the Beaver Falls road.

Mrs. Harry Gibson of Gardner went to West Middlessex on Saturday evening and brought her mother, Mrs. Scott Mayrs of Nevill Island, to the Gibson home for a two weeks' visit. Bobby Gibson was out of school all last week but has gone back.

Little Carl Johnson of Gardner is recovering nicely from scarlet fever.

Attorney C. W. Fenton, grand master of I. O. O. F. for Pennsylvania, visited the lodge at Kittanning on Monday night and will visit other lodges this week.

Mrs. Howard King of Shenango Stop spent some days last week visiting at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Schmider of Erie.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaffer of Gardner have enjoyed a visit of nearly a week from their aunt, Mrs. Agnes Shubert of Oil City.

"With 7 children I need Chipso—the double-job soap"

...SAFE for NICE THINGS!
...QUICK-WASHING for HEAVY, DIRTY THINGS!

SAYS MRS. HOMER CLARK, BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

HERE'S MRS. CLARK'S MONDAY WASH!

FINER THINGS	HEAVY LAUNDRY
2 rayon bedspreads	21 blouses and shirts
8 dimity or print dresses (Marian, Doris, Elizabeth)	10 wash shorts and slacks
2 linen dresses (for self)	12 wash suits (for Bobby and Charles)
3 colored luncheon sets	14 bath towels
1 bridge set	2 seersucker bedspreads
2 guest towels	9 sheets
2 prs. fine net curtains	18 pillowcases
4 silk slips	2 ordinary tablecloths
8 sets women's underwear	18 napkins
4 pr. pajamas	14 hand towels (very soiled)
25 prs. socks (colored tops)	7 dish towels
20 colored handkerchiefs	10 sets underwear (boys, husband)
1 blanket	5 pr. pajamas
1 bath robe	20 handkerchiefs
	18 prs. socks
	1 rag rug

SAFE — Chipso keeps colors in QUICK — while it takes dirt out!

Here's what Mrs. Clark says:

"I give credit to this modern soap—it certainly does get the dirt out. Why, Chipso leaves me scarcely any hard rubbing to do . . .

"But the reason I'm so crazy about Chipso is that it does more than save me rubbing. It's more than just a 'dirty-clothes' soap . . . it's a 'nice-clothes' soap, too! Believe me, there's a real difference in the way our clothes look since I've used Chipso. No faded dresses or suits. And no more of those tiny holes appearing in fine handkerchiefs or sheer curtains."

AROUND CITY HALL

Earl Wimer, controller and who by virtue of his office is the official auditor of the city of New Castle, has provided some interesting facts concerning the original appropriations, the net appropriations and the expenditures charged to the various departments of the city during the administration of last year. The audit shows that only three departments confined their expenditures within the original appropriations.

The statistics provided by Wimer shows the department, the original appropriation, the net appropriation and the expenditures charged, in order named, as follows:

Streets and Public Improvements (B. F. Butler, superintendent) $49,-665.00; $65,231.00; $64,817.47.

Parks and Property (Joseph D. Alexander, superintendent) $35,-798.00; $48,252.50; $46,534.70.

Repair shop—$3,800.00; $4,259.00; $4,176.47.

Listed under "special payments", Wimer shows: Bank loans paid $80,-000; two per cent fire insurance paid to paid firemen, $1,967.79; two per cent fire insurance paid to volunteer firemen, $1,967.78; payroll certificates redeemed and relief project certificates redeemed, $74,-528.92, or total, $158,464.49. Total payments by cash and certificates, $620,571.96, less payments made by certificates included in budget figures, $40,737.66, which shows an actual cash disbursement during the 1935 fiscal year of $579,834.30.

The term "original appropriation" means the amount fixed by council when they compiled the budget for the operation of the various departments for 1935. The "net appropriation" means the final amount allocated to the department after various transfers to and from the original amount appropriated. Some departments required more and in some cases less than originally appriated. The expenditures charged shows actually what the city spent.

By way of explaining the transfers in the public affairs department the transfers to certain items were less than transferred from certain items. For instance there was transferred to salaries $240,-$150.00 for keep of prisoners and $53.03 for books, etc., while there was transferred from salaries of police $2,593.03 and $1,150.00 from stationery, etc. In other words if council originally appropriated a certain sum for a certain item and it was short, the money had to be transferred from some other item or department.

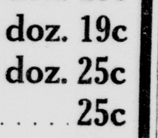

There was added to original appropriations of the streets department after the budget was made and during 1935, $8,666.00 for street maintenance; $3,400.00 for trucks, scraper, rent of buildings; $10,-050.00 for salaries; $4,150.00 for sewer repairs and $700.00 was transferred from the $1,250.00 fund for contingent purposes.

In the department of parks and property the transfers to various items amounted to $14,194.50 as against $1,740.00 taken from certain items in this department. An itemized account of the transfers to original amounts follows: Care of parks, $550.00; $5,775.50 to municipal golf course; $7,209.00 to Cascade Park; $400 to printing and advertising and $260 to insurance. Originally only $1,200 was set for Cascade Park.

Included in this transfer to Cascade Park were receipts for the year amounting to $5,729.00. Included in the transfer to the golf course were the receipts of the year amounting to $4,025.50.

CONTAGION REPORT

There were 35 cases of contagion reported to the city health department last month. High was claimed by scarlet fever and one person suffered from diphtheria. There were numerous tests by the health officer of water and milk and 64 persons who handled foodstuffs received a medical examination and their health certificates.

Hear Evidence In Lewis Trial

Members Of Election Board Are Heard In Court Thursday

RICCIARDI IS CHIEF WITNESS

Technically wrong but honest in purpose sums up the description of the workings of the election board in the first precinct of the Fifth Ward in the November, 1935, election. The board took several short cuts in counting the ballots, according to the testimony of board members, but at no time was there any dishonesty in the compiling of the returns, they said.

The testimony was adduced Thursday afternoon in court room number one in the trial of former Alderman Richard R. Lewis, on trial for alleged ballot tampering. One witness, Anthony C. Ricciardi, the minority clerk of the board, was on the stand for a good part of the afternoon and under examination by counsel went into detail as to the manner in which the election returns were compiled.

"30 Or 40 Watchers"

Ricciardi startled counsel for the defense when he said that there were "30 or 40 watchers in the polling place when the returns were counted."

"What," said Attorney A. M. Shumaker sharply, breaking in on the direct examination of Attorney George W. Muse.

For a moment it appeared that there would be a discussion between the lawyers but Ricciardi went on to explain that every one of the persons present had watcher's certificates.

He then went on to explain that when the board started counting the ballots, that he (Ricciardi) counted the Sunday movie ballots himself. He explained that he called them off and two of the board tallied them.

After that he said the board put the regular ballots in two piles and that he called off one set and John Mash, the judge of elections, called off the other. This meant that an outsider, not a member of the board, acted as a tally clerk. Examined on this, Mr. Ricciardi said he was aware that it was not entirely legal, but that there were so many ballots to count that they wanted to expedite the work. He also said that they used the backs of sample ballots to make the count instead of the tally sheet and when they were finished put the totals on the tally sheet.

"Didn't you know this was illegal?" asked Attorney E. K. Logan.

"Yes, but it was honest," said Ricciardi, "and it is done by 99 out of 100 election boards.

Picard Leads Golf Tourney

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, S. C., Mar. 20.—Turning in two par-shattering rounds Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., defending champion and medalist, today was apparently well on his way to capture the $3,000 Charleston open golf tournament for the second straight time.

Picard added a 69 yesterday to his first day's 67 to take a five stroke lead over the field of the nation's top-notch linksmen with a 36-hole total of 36.

Ask Odd Fellows' Help For Victims

Donations of the Odd Fellows may be left with Clark Buell, Greer mill; J. R. Hodge, 107 Wallace avenue; Carnegie auditorium, the Cathedral and the Odd Fellows home.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT

Fred De Fiore, 603 Pearson street, reported to police that yesterday his car and one with Pennsylvania license A108 collided at North and North Mercer street. He reported the operator of the other car said he would pay for damages incurred.

pots if citizens will stop them as they are making deliveries about the city.

Truckers are donating the use of their trucks, gasoline companies and stations have donated gasoline, and hundreds of citizens have offered their services to help out in the emergency. The response has been overwhelming from citizens wanting to work on this effort and while the Red Cross has been unable to use all who have offered their services, they express their deep appreciation of the fine spirit shown by citizens.

Imposters At Work.

Over 1,100 finished garments, which were produced by the WPA sewing unit at Hillsville were delivered to the Red Cross yesterday and were among the garments sent to the flood zone.

Imposters are already at work here, it was learned today and Chief of Police John F. Haven today issued a warning to residents not to contribute to any appeals made in this manner. The American Red Cross and American Legion post do not have any solicitors out collecting money for the relief of flood sufferers. Contributions are being accepted only at the Red Cross office, or by accredited workers at the receiving stations.

Chief Haven warns against giving money to anyone unless the person is known personally to the donor. If you subscribe, secure a receipt. Receipts are given to each donor at the Red Cross office. Should you be approached by anyone asking for contributions, report this fact to the police at No. 8.

Many Contribute.

In addition to the large contributions of money, those who have considerable quantities of foodstuffs included 1000 loaves of bread from Emanuel Shenkan, 200 loaves of bread from the Mahoning Citizens club of Hillsville, while H. L. Allen this morning telegraphed from Florida to have 500 loaves of bread baked at Axe's market for delivery tomorrow morning.

The Atlantic Refining company contributed 100 gallons of gasoline for the use of trucks engaged in the delivery of supplies, and 25 gallons was contributed by Waddings North street service station.

Through Mayor McGrath, 500 cotton blankets were purchased by funds raised yesterday, and were among the clothing supplies which were sent to the flood zone today.

Flood Control Bill Rushed

Start To Work On Omnibus Flood Control Bill Of $400,000,000

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Backing up emergency measures for relief in the present flood crisis, army engineers today set to work whipping into shape an omnibus flood control bill.

They had a stripped-down framework of last year's old $400,000,000 omnibus bill to work on, the result of a four-hour session of the senate commerce committee held as the eastern floods approached their peak.

Senator Copeland (D) of New York, asked the engineers to return the big bill within a week, and told International News Service he had no doubt that congress would rush the bill through to passage.

WATER SCARCITY BEING BATTLED IN PITTSBURGH

Water was exhausted this morning in the vast Squirrel Hill residential section and almost at the vanishing point and dwindling rapidly in other sections. City officials gloomily predicted water supplies could not be replenished for another 48 hours.

Indicating there apparently was no escape from a water shortage, James H. Kennon, managing engineer of the bureau of water, asserted positively pumps at the Ross station, heart of the city's system, could not be repaired before Saturday night.

Must Dry Machinery

"I am thoroughly familiar with the situation," said Kennon. "The motors, generators and electrical work must be taken apart and dried. It will take until tomorrow to dismantle, another 24 hours to dry. We'll be doing well to get the plant in operation by Saturday."

Supplies in that section, it was estimated, will take care, temporarily at least, of about 100,000 residents.

By midnight, it was feared, the whole city will be without water for drinking, washing and sanitation.

Flood Subsiding

A grain of comfort came with announcement that the flood waters that poured into the lower sections of the city, inflicting at least $25,000,000 loss, were slowly subsiding.

As the flood waters receded, Pittsburgh, despite the new threat of water famine, went doggedly about the task of restoring some order to its civic, industrial and commercial life.

Light and power services were still virtually paralyzed and there was no definite indication when either could be restored.

A few street lights flickered on early today as repair crews worked frantically to restore service, and in a few scattered sections light was restored to residential buildings. The city as a whole, however, had neither light nor power.

Telephone service was slowly being restored to a semblance of normality as pumps threw thousands of tons of water out of telephone company buildings and one by one additional exchanges were put into service.

Trains Being Restored

Transport was still hampered by lack of power in the area. The Pennsylvania Railroad, however, announced it was putting one train into service for New York with connections for Chicago. Air lines said they expected to operate on pretty much a normal scale. A few street cars resumed operations in the East and South Hills section, but elsewhere there were no public conveyances.

Business and industry cannot be restored to anything approaching normal for a week, it was estimated.

The Westinghouse electric and manufacturing company said its huge plant here would be idle at least until Monday. The giant steel mills, stretching for miles along the river fronts, were at a standstill.

Morale throughout the stricken area is excellent, the Red Cross, in charge of relief work, reported. Citizens were cooperating generously with authorities and order was maintained easily.

Police said crime apparently had called a truce in the city to stand against the common enemy of flood and privation. Despite the chaotic conditions in the flood section there were few reports of looting, robberies, hold-ups or other crimes.

Fires Reported Out

Fire officials added their bit to the encouraging news when they announced early today for the first time since Wednesday there were no blazes in the city. All fires, including that at the Waverly Oil Company, which taxed every resource to control it, were reported out.

Fears of a food shortage were said to be unfounded by Col. W. R. Dunlap, in charge of the National Guardsmen on duty here. Plenty of food is on hand for every one, Col. Dunlap said, and new supplies have arrived in the vicinity and await only clearing of railroad tracks to be brought in. If necessary, most of these additional supplies can be trucked into the city.

An army of workmen invaded the famous "golden triangle" as the lower portions of towering buildings slowly emerged from the subsiding waters that had arisen as high as second floors.

Hotels, banks, theatres, stores and restaurants were partial ruins, their interiors wrecked by the turbid waters and buried under deep deposits of mud. Silt and muck a foot deep lay in the streets as workmen tackled the job of clearing the section.

Scores were taken from the Roosevelt Hotel where they had been marooned since St. Patrick's Day, huddled in rooms and lobbies, cooking meagre meals over fires fed by smashed furniture. From other buildings refugees emerged singly and in straggling groups, bleary-eyed, unwashed, unfed, bedraggled but joyous.

Down the Ohio, which today was pouring its accumulated waters in one oily torrent over the West Virginia and Ohio shores, hundreds were still marooned in smaller communities, without adequate food, water or shelter.

From other sections of western Pennsylvania, cut off from here for days, other reports of death and devastation began to seep in as communications were restored. Kittanning, Vandergrift, Apollo, Leechburg, Tarentum, New Kensington, Greensburg and dozens of other communities along the Allegheny and Monogahela reported widespread destruction. Tarentum reported "terrific flood damage"; five were reported dead at Vandergrift where more National Guardsmen were requested to stem looting.

Death, injury and ruin became commonplaces. Districts heretofore unscathed by high waters, were stricken. Hourly it became apparent the full story of the flood toll will not be told for days possibly weeks. Disrupted telephone and telegraph communications, blocked highways and silent radios made coverage of the flood area a nightmare.

Ballots Shown To Jurors In Election Trail

Ballot Box Brought Into Court In Trial Of Former Alderman Lewis

In the trial of Richard R. Lewis, former fifth ward alderman, for alleged irregularities in connection with the election in the first precinct of the fifth ward, Judge James A. Chambers this morning directed Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard to bring into court the ballot box used in the district. This action was taken in order that the jurors may examine the ballots.

Among the witnesses called this morning was Miss Dora Greco, majority inspector at the election. She testified that there had been 778 ballots in the box, according to a count after the polls had closed.

She told how the ballots for judge had been sorted out and placed in two piles, and gave details regarding the count made by the election board. She said that everything by the board had been done in the usual manner.

Edmund Whiteman, a Republican watcher, also gave testimony as to the counting of the ballots. He said it had been done in the regular way.

Attorney Frank Moretti, who was a member of the board appointed by former Judge R. L. Hildebrand, to make the recount, told of opening of the ballot box, described the condition in which the ballots were found, and gave the figures connected with the recount.

The recount showed that Lewis had won by about two hundred votes, whereas the count made by the election board had shown that Sam Bassano had been elected.

Governor Would Borrow Million For Flood Victims

Asks Opinion Of Attorney General On Legal Right To Act

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Gov. George H. Earle today asked the state attorney general's office for an opinion on his legal right to borrow $1,000,000 for use in providing relief for Pennsylvania's flood victims.

The governor's drastic action was taken just before he took off on a flight over the stricken upper valley of the Susquehanna in the vicinity of Wilkes-Barre.

As the plane being used in his aerial survey waited, the governor telephoned his request to the office of Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti at the capitol.

In a word, it asked first, if he had the authority to borrow the million dollar fund, and second, what legal method would be best used for that purpose.

Drastic Plan To Tax Income Of Foreigners

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—A drastic plan of imposing a 33⅓ per cent tax on all dividends and other income received by foreigners from American corporations has been tentatively adopted by the House Ways and Means subcommittee, it was disclosed today.

In a second effort to extract taxes from billions of dollars of foreign investments in this country, the subcommittee also has tentatively adopted a flat corporation income tax rate of 22½ per cent on foreign corporations operating in this country.

Plan Party For Red Cross Fund

New Castle Lodge Of Elks Will Give Benefit Party In Near Future

In order to assist victims of the flood in the Pennsylvania district, officials of New Castle Lodge No. 69, B. P. O. E., are planning a large card party under their auspices, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the American Red Cross.

A meeting of officers of the lodge and officials of the Lawrence County Chapter will take place Saturday evening to make plans for the event.

Where To Leave Wampum Donations

Any donations may be left at Repman's store or sent to the public schools through the children. Anyone unable to send or bring donations is asked to call Mrs. C. B. Morrow or send word to teachers in schools, and trucks will call for them.

RELATIVES SAFE

Sister Superior Constance and Sister Anette, instructors at St. Mary's parochial school, North Beaver street, have received word that relatives in Johnstown are safe but that their homes and furnishings have been washed away.

Makes Traffic Survey

O. W. Wilson

O. W. Wilson, above, police chief of Wichita, Kas., is making a national traffic survey as an assistant to Dr. Miller McClintock, director of the bureau for street traffic research at Harvard university. Information obtained by Wilson, who was granted a five-month leave of absence from his duties in Wichita, will be compiled in a book to be titled, "The Best Methods of Police Traffic Administration." Wilson is one of the few police chiefs who is a college graduate.

Bus Drivers Carry Relief

Three Young Men Fill Buses With Supplies And Hasten To Williamsport

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Three young Pennsylvania 'bus drivers, stranded in New York for three days and out of touch with their families in the flood area, are burning up the roads to their homes in Williamsport, Pa.

They are driving the three buses in which they brought passengers to New York. But today those buses are filled with food supplies and clothing purchased by their own money, and the trio hope to reach their families late today. Williamsport has been cut off from the outside world for two days.

The three are Marshall Reams, Richard Spotts and Willis Swales. They do not know whether their families have survived or not. Radio engineers of the National Broadcasting Company informed them that the roads were passable as far as Shamokin, Pa., which is sixty miles from Williamsport.

Gathers Supplies In Seventh Ward

Residents Asked To Take Articles To Cherry Street Fire Station

Seventh ward residents today were urged to take clothing, food and other flood relief articles to the Cherry street fire station this afternoon and tomorrow by Ralph F. Davis, first aid director of the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter.

"Boy Scouts tomorrow will collect material which seventh ward residents cannot take to the fire station," Mr. Davis said.

"The potatoes are needed greatly. We must act right away," Davis declared.

Boy Scouts of many New Castle troops were riding the collection trucks making rounds through the city. They were assisting, too, in arraning the clothing for shipment to Pittsburgh.

Mails Are Now Going Through

Hundreds Of Valuable Pouches Are On Way After Halt Here

MOTOR TRUCK FLEET MOVES "RUSH" MAIL

Locked tight in New Castle for hours by Pittsburgh's flood waters, hundreds and more hundreds of husky pouches loaded with precious first-class and registered mail and parcel post bound from key cities in the east to those in the west and bound from key western cities to those in the ~~east, moved~~ toward Pittsburgh this morning in a motor truck fleet organized by Postmaster Richard A. Steen.

Steen said he had contacted Pittsburgh and notified the postmaster there of the fleet's approach.

Train service into Pittsburgh resumed shortly before noon on a restricted basis but Postmaster Steen said it was likely that no mail would be accommodated by rail today.

The four trucks the postmaster obtained were loaded down with as much of the "rush" mail as they could carry, and guards were sent along to protect the shipment.

Remaining mail pouches which the fleet could not carry will be shipped into Pittsburgh by rail on Saturday, it was indicated today. The postmaster believed that the first few trains would be transporting passengers alone.

The fleet which took part of the mail jammed here into Pittsburgh was to carry New Castle-bound mail from the steel city late this afternoon. It will be delivered tomorrow.

Many business offices reported today that some eastern mail was reaching them today, routed into the city by roundabout rail lines.

The postmaster asked the public here to be patient today and tomorrow and promised it the best of service possible.

"We're getting some mail through and we'll get the rest through tomorrow, probably," Mr. Steen declared. "We ask residents and businessmen to be patient in this crisis. It is a real emergency, and the post office is doing its best."

That was dramatically demonstrated in the mailing rooms of the local post office where weary clerks were handling the unexpected mountain of mail which was in storage here.

The post office said that all mails should be moving from east to west and west to east by late tonight. Some of the shipments, however, will not be on schedule, but they'll be moving closer their destinations.

Fire Develops At Harrisburg

Firemen Battle Blaze In Flooded Section Of Capital City

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—An explosion that shattered windows for blocks rocked downtown Harrisburg today and started a fire in the flooded central city area.

Firemen who struggled through water waist deep to reach the scene of the blast said a carbide tank had exploded. It was feared two other tanks might let go.

A general alarm was sounded and fire apparatus was rushed to the scene. Two of the three fire trucks were partly submerged in flood waters of the district.

Streams of water played on the blaze from nearby roofs were failing to reach the burning shed. Authorities were fearful the blaze might spread through the flooded district.

State Supreme Court Schedule Is Transferred

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 2.—Chief Justice John W. Kephart of the Pennsylvania supreme court today suspended the two weeks session of the tribunal scheduled to open in Pittsburgh next Monday and transferred to this city the 125 cases listed for argument.

The jurist explained that flood conditions in the western Pennsylvania metropolis prompted his order, and added: "if counsel in a particular case is unable to get to Philadelphia, we will give him a hearing at a later date."

Seek Homes For Flood Victims

Residents Here Who Can Take Care Of Flood Victims Should Notify Red Cross

Homes are being sought for victims of the flood in the Pittsburgh district, the Red Cross here was informed today, and local residents who are willing to accommodate sufferers from the flood until they can be rehabilitated, are asked to notify the local chapter.

A great number of people were made homeless and places are being sought where they may stay until they can secure homes again in their own districts.

Damp tobacco will probably weigh from 10 to 20 per cent more than dry tobacco.

Intense Suffering At Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Waters Receding But Light Power May Fail, All Gas In City Is Shut Off

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Mar. 20.—Although receding flood waters in this district dropped to 32.88 feet today from their crest of 33.06 feet, cold weather and inadequate supplies threatened a panic-stricken populace.

All gas was off in the area, and with electric power weakening there was question as to how long light service could be maintained. City steam in Wilkes-Warre was also off.

With the number of persons evacuated from flooded homes now estimated at from 20,000 to 30,000, and a death toll of seven, the population last night realized for the first time the seriousness of their plight. All six hospitals in the district were taxed to capacity and food supplies were nearly exhausted.

SAFE AT JOHNSTOWN

From Johnstown word has been sent that Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, daughters Joan and Patricia, former New Castle residents, and W. James Richardson, of 531 Lyndal street, who underwent an operation sometime ago in Johnstown, are safe in the flood striken district.

FORGERY CHARGE FACED BY GIRL

Charged with larceny and forgery of government checks, Jean Peterson, arrested last night at Meadville by a postal inspector, was to be arraigned before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing this afternoon.

An information of forgery was placed against the girl by Jacob Marlin, while two informations of larceny, one signed by V. D. Burlingame the postal inspector and another by Findley K. Boyd, were also sworn against her.

The Peterson girl was returned from Meadville last night by Constable Frank C. Conner and Sergeant M. J. Young, of the city police force.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Material Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

ESSAY WORK BEGINS

This week another of those helpful bulletins, "Highway Hazards — Their Cause and Cure" was distributed to the pupils of the high school. This bulletin dealt with the tests that are given by the highway department and explained just what these officers look for when a person takes his examination.

In addition figures were presented which showed just what type of accidents caused the most deaths and injuries; 696,780, a number greater than any of the others was given as the number of accidents caused by automobiles while driving straight ahead, turning left was the next leader with 56,450 accidents resulting in deaths or injuries. Other figures of interest follow. Turning right 22,930, slowing down or stopping 26,460, car parked or standing still 28,220, skidding 35,280, backing 13,230 accidents, and miscellaneous 2650 accidents.

These bulletins were distributed to all of the students and will be used in connection with the essay on safety which must be written in co-operation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

The Senior High Girl Reserves had an enjoyable meeting Monday evening, March 9. In the absence of President Peggy England, Vice President Geraldine Getty had charge of a short business session, after which the evening was spent in singing old and new songs under the direction of Mrs. Replogle.

IN THE EASTER PARADE

It will be interesting to note that the girls in the advance sewing classes are making their own swagger suits for the Easter parade under the direction of the sewing teacher, Miss Burry.

JUNIOR CHAMBER CONTEST

In coordination with the safety drive from March 16 to April 1, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering a cash award for the best essay on the subject: "How Can We Prevent Young Drivers From Being Reckless Drivers?" The contest is open to all high school students. The essay must not contain more than 200 words and must be turned in to the office before April 1. The best papers will be sent to a committee designated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This topic deserves special attention as it is of vital importance to everyone and it will be well worth the student's time to try for this prize.

COOPERATE IN CAMPAIGN

The art classes of Senior high school are cooperating this week with the local Junior Chamber of Commerce safety campaign by making drawings and cartoons relating to the various phases of safety. This has proved a very interesting lesson both from the standpoint of free expression and also making the students more safety-minded.

CAPITOLA WRITES SONG

Today comes the report of the class song committee composed of Teresita Cosgrove, and Bob Brest, and headed by Anna Mae Holmes. Their report states that the song which will be adopted by the graduating class has been chosen.

Sometime ago a contest was started among the seniors which required each to submit a song, one of which would be used as a class song.

PASS SPEED TESTS

The 60-word test: Eleanor Ambrose, June Fisher, Geraldine Weisbaker.

The 80-word test: Eleanor Amborse, Elizabeth Boughter, Grayce Clark, Jeanne DeLillo, Marjorie Howard, Thelma Kienast, Vivian Kenna, Angleine Miscimarra, Margaret Naples, Clara Niemczyk, Sadie Othites, Madelyn Shaklee, Viola White, Ted Warso.

The 100-word test: Kathryn Parfitt.

POSTERS BEING MADE

Emilio Tomasello, a student of Mr. Thomas' mechanical drawing class, has been making beautiful posters for the library.

The posters may be a recommendation to some grade book, or they may be a description of some incident. A different poster is exhibited every week, and much time is spent to make them attractive.

TRACK CANDIDATES CALLED

On Wednesday morning a general call was sounded by the athletic department for track candidates. This meeting was called in the auditorium and instructor George F. Thomas conducted the business of the meeting. He states that about 150 boys have signed up and were present at this meeting. Names and general information was secured preparatory to calling practices as soon as weather permits.

Anyone else who is interested in track but was not able to be present at school due to the weather has been instructed to get in touch with Mr. Thomas as soon as possible.

CLASSES SEE FILMS

On Monday and Wednesday of this week, pictures were shown in the Physics 2 classes of Mr. Margraf. These pictures pertained to lead acid and Edison alkaline batteries.

They are a part of the regular work and more pictures will be shown in the future.

STUDENTS SEE FILM

Tuesday morning, third period, an assembly for the Senior A and Senior B commercial students was held in the auditorium.

A motion picture entitled "Your Tomorrow," which was furnished by the Pittsburgh School of Accountancy, was shown by Messrs. Marquis and McNally from the school.

PRAYER GROUP MEETING

Every day during the lunch period a group of Bible students of the high school gather in a room on the second floor of the building where they conduct a prayer circle, and discuss many Bibical subjects. Each day a different member of the group takes charge of the meeting, speaking on some subject of interest which in the end turns into a general discussion with all taking an active part. This group has the entire support of the faculty members who assist them in any way possible.

GIVE OPERETTA TONIGHT

The following is a list of persons who will usher for the operetta "Lelawala," which will be presented tonight in the auditorium of the high school by the music department under the direction of Professor Joseph Replogle, and sponsored by the Citizens and Parents' Music association. They will work under the supervision of their captain Dave Rowland and his assistant Dale Grove. A meeting of this group was held on Wednesday morning of this week.

Bob Young, Bill Kimmel, Bill Strobel, Rod Davis, Bob Mackie, Merrill Walls, Kenneth Enoch, Lester Jenkins, George Hahn, Edward Eakin, George Hawkey, Jack Rupert, Willis Raney, Wilbert Grossman.

Phillip Wimer, Jack Waddell, Jim Lent, Harry Paul, William Thompson, Jack Higgins, Don Rae, John Manos, Johnrae Earl, Jay Jennings, Bill Shilton, Lester Triplett.

WILL ORDER "DINKS"

Members of the senior A "Dink" committee have announced the fact that they are now working on styles, endeavoring to choose the dinks which will be worn by the graduating students this coming June.

The committee is made up of the following persons: Arthur Gilchrest, chairman, John Capitola, Anna Mae Holmes and Katherine Ganoe.

INSPECTION TOUR MADE

On Tuesday afternoon there was a short meeting of the inspection squad in study four. Under the direction of Mr. McKenzie, the members of the squad worked out a plan to keep the study hall desks free from waste material. In this plan the students themselves are held responsible for the desks they occupy. A similar plan was used with success last semester and should, with the students' co-operation, be successful this semester.

HI-Y SESSION HELD

Monday evening, March 16, the Hi-Y club met at the Y. M. C. A. for a short business meeting. Henry MacNichols led devotionals in the form of a discussion on "Guidance." This was the last of a series of seven similar discussions. Next week the club will review these discussions, and the following week the members will take tests for the Bible study contest sponsored by the state Y. M. C. A.

There are seventy-two clubs representing schools with enrollments between 1500 and 2000 entered in the contest in this section.

Last week the New Castle Senior Hi-Y club held first place in this contest but will probably drop into second or third place due to poor attendance at the last meeting. The Benjamin Franklin Hi-Y club holds second place in this contest and the Washington Hi-Y clubs holds third place, so it's almost certain that a New Castle club will win this contest.

The winner of this contest receives a valuable silver plaque with the names of the club's officers and the name of the member making the highest score in the test engraved on it. The Senior Hi-Y club would like very much to win this plaque as no other New Castle Hi-Y club has ever received this honor.

NE-CA-HI PERSONALS

Miss S. E. Williams has been confined to her home all this week due to illness. Her place has been filled by Miss Jane Holland, one of the cadet teachers.

Miss Clara Elliott returned to school this week after a week's illness at which time she was confined to her home in New Wilmington.

Bill Hoffman returned on Monday of this week after an illness of two weeks' duration.

NEW CASTLE-SHARON PREPARE FOR BATTLE

Ancient Rivals Will Clash In P.I.A.A. Battle

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Looks For Tough Battle Saturday

Game Will Be Played At Beaver Falls High Gym, Starts At 7 P. M.

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" basketball team again finds Sharon High School floormen barring the way to state championship possibilities. The matter will be corrected Saturday night in a P. I. A. A. semi-final battle at the Beaver Falls High gym. The game is scheduled for 7 o'clock. There will be but one game. There are only 2,000 seats available at the valley floor.

The New Castle high "flood refugees" resumed practice yesterday afternoon at Washington high floor and looked impressive. The trying experience of being caught in the flood at Pittsburgh apparently has not dimmed the shooting eyes of Covelli, Adams, Carik, Mumford, Nocera, Strausbaugh and the others.

Expect Tough Battle

This game tomorrow night looks like the best of the tourney in Western Pennsylvania. Here is the set-up. Sharon high blasted New Castle's title hopes in 1927 at State College and then folded up to Steelton high. Sharon has long been a thorn in the side of New Castle athletic teams. The Mercer countians always have a cracker-jack team. Sharon will advance on Beaver Falls tomorrow with a team of fighting floormen and they would like nothing better than to avenge the defeat handed them at New Castle earlier in the year, 27 to 18.

The New Castle boys are not letting the first Sharon defeat "get them." Coach Phil Bridenbaugh realizes and so does the boys that Sharon is a lot better today than they were on December 9. Of course, New Castle has improved a lot, too. It's a battle royal that is being cooked up for the valley floor and those who miss it will have regrets.

The winner of the game Saturday will play the winner of the Franklin Borough-Boswell game. There is a lot of interest in this New Castle-Sharon game. The two teams were to have met in Sharon a week or so ago on the regular schedule. A return game to the one played here in December, but when New Castle kept winning in the W. P. I. A. L. tourney they were forced to cancel the Sharon game. It's quite a coincident that the two teams are now meeting in the semi-final of the state championship play.

Each Lost Four

Sharon high, like New Castle, has lost only four games this year. The teams that turned the trick were New Castle, Grove City, Farrell and Warren. Sharon high has won 18 games. New Castle lost to Beaver Falls, Butler, Aliquippa and New Brighton. New Castle has won 20 games.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, of Senior high, has placed 1,000 tickets on sale here at the Sporting Goods Store and the New Castle high school. When this supply is gone there will not be any more. Sharon also has 1,000 tickets to sell.

Prices Changed For Floor Game

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today announced a change in the list of prices for the New Castle-Sharon High game tomorrow night at Beaver Falls High gym.

Adults tickets will sell for 75 cents if bought here in New Castle.

Student tickets in New Castle will be 50 cents.

These prices have been set by the State P. I. A. A. league.

Tickets will be available at the Sporting Goods Store until 5 o'clock Saturday night and at Senior High until 12 o'clock noon on Saturday.

Olympic Floor Trials Cancelled

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 20.—The District 2 Olympic basketball trials, scheduled for Penn's Palestra tonight, were postponed today because of the University of Pittsburgh's courtmen are marooned by Western Pennsylvania's floods.

Pitt is scheduled t play St. John's of Annapolis, and Temple to battle Franklin and Marshall, with the winners playing for the district championship.

Yankees Look Like Third Place Team

Joe DiMaggio, Of California, Is Sensational Young Rookie

Yanks Still Have One Of Best Pitching Staffs In Baseball

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 20—Outside of Joe Di Maggio, there's nothing new about this Yankee Ball Club, with its seventy million dollar ownership, its 80,000 capacity stadium and its third place infield.

Di Maggi is one of those grave young men, who offer no personal problems and comfort themselves in such a manner as to indicate their belief that the best way to reach a given point is to get there. He threw a man out at the plate in a practice game the other day and later got four hits against the Cardinal pitching staff. He's big and moves well in left field. He has an air of big league poise.

The rest of the combination will be Ben Chapman as yet unsigned, in centerfield and either Selkirk or Roy Johnson in right. I think it will be Johnson.

Dickey All Right

The catching is all right, although Bill Dickey had a bad year. The pitching is excellent. Its the infield that causes Mgr. McCarthy to toss fitfully far into the night. He knows Tony Lazzeri can't go all the way from April to October at second base.

In addition, shortstop Frank Crosetti has a demountable knee. Lou Gehrig is still among the great first basemen of the generation and Red Rolfe is more than adequate at third.

Through trades, McCarthy got an outfielder who hits both ways—meaning left handed at the plate and both handed at the hotel—and a few pitchers. But he didn't really need pitchers that badly—not with ruffing (a holdout) who won 17; Broaca who won 15; Gomez who was and will be much better than the 12 he won; Murphy, Brown, Vito Tamulis and a few more, including a young right hander he likes, Jim Tobin, from Oakland.

Winter Sports Program Will End Saturday

GROVE CITY, Mar. 20—The winter sports program at Grove City College will be concluded Saturday in the local gymnasium, when intramural teams will come here from Thiel College to compete in basketball, volley ball, handball and swimming. Sports days of this type have been held previously with Slippery Rock and Allegheny.

Between 200 and 300 boys will enroll soon for the spring intra-mural program. In addition, complete schedules or varsity competitions have been arranged by Athletic Director R. E. Thorn in golf, track and tennis.

Committee Will Meet Tonight

The members of the membership drive committee of the Keystone A. C. will meet tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the club rooms for a special session. The meeting has been called by Rocco P. Viggiano, general chairman of the membership campaign.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Pittsburgh flood forced cancellation of the Tait Littman-Vic Willetts boxing bout there tonight.

St. Joseph floor team of Pittsburgh was eliminated in the first round of the national Catholic tournament at Chicago last night. Columbia academy of Dubuque, Ia., won 46 to 26.

Managers of teams which want franchises in the Lawrence county baseball league are now rounding up available stars.

Important Game Carded Tonight In Church Loop

The church AA basketball league at the "Y" will end tonight. The feature game on the bill will start at 8 o'clock and will have the First Christians battling the Epworth M. E. team.

If the First Christians win it will mean a clean-cut championship for the Sacred Hearts for both halves of the league. If the Epworths beat the Christians it will be a deadlock for the second half between Epworth and the Hearts and will necessitate a playoff battle.

There are two more games on the bill for tonight, the Central Christians meeting the St. Nicholas team in the second game and the First Baptists meeting the Sacred Hearts in the third battle.

Risko Wants Big Sum For Services In McLarnin Bout

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., Mar. 20.—Babe Risko, ruler of all the world's middleweights, wants $30,000 to defend his championship against Jimmy McLarnin, ex-welterweight king.

That was the ultimatum issued today by Risko's manager, Gabe Genovese, when he was informed Boston, Mass., promoters would like to match Risko and McLarnin.

It likewise would cost the same to get Risko into a ring with Barney Ross, who relieved McLarnin of the welterweight title, Genovese said. Philadelphia is reported to be anxious to stage a Risko-Ross scrap.

Sports Review Just At Glance

(International News Service)

Well, its definite now...Joe Louis and Max Schmeling will hold their little fuss in New York and not elsewhere, according to Promoter Jacobs.

Boston Bruins won themselves a sure third position in National Hockey League's American group by tying Toronto Leafs, 2-2, at Toronto.

Other hockey scores: Americans, 4, Canadians, 1, Red Wings, 5, Hawks, 3.

Exhibition baseball: Cubs, 5, Houston, 4; Phillies, 5, Newark, 1; Baltimore, 3, Senators, 0; Athletics, 9, Red Sox, 8; Browns, 22, St. Paul, 12; Giants, 19, Nashville, 8; Yankees, 13, Reds, 8; Dodgers, 10, Tigers, 6.

Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., took formidable lead in $3,000 Charleston, S. C., golf tournament ...Dick Metz of Chicago second.

At Fair Grounds, Heart Break won 5½ furlong feature.

Undecided About Ringside Prices

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Mike Jacobs is wavering between a $25 and a $50 top for his Louis-Schmeling fight. . . . with the odds favoring the higher figure . . . because Mike already has received some 3,000 orders for tickets . . . and fully a third of them asked "for the best ringsides" and no question about price.

Joe (Yussel) Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, is considering training camp sites for Max at Stroudsburg, Pa., Amityville, L. I., Saratoga Springs, Ramapo, N. J. and Haverstraw, N. Y.

Rookie Pitcher Suffers Injury

(International News Service)

FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 20—Rejoicing over the A's 9 to 8 defeat of the Boston Red Sox, a team to which Connie Mack sold $400,000 worth of players during the winter baseball recess, today was tempered by a gloom over the loss of Al Veach, a promising rookie pitcher. Veach received a fractured shin when he was struck by a line drive and probably will not be able to play again this season.

Casey Stengel Is Quite Optimistic Over 1936 Season

Thinks That Brooklyn Will Be In First Division This Year

Has One Of Best Flinging Staffs In National League Today

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

SARASOTA, Fla., Mar. 20—After twenty four hours in the company of Brooklyn's happy harlequinade, one's resistance naturally is a little low and becomes subject to strange fancies. So probably that accounts for my lamentable impression that matters have so arranged themselves for 1936 that when the Dodgers lose, which will happen with some regularity, they'll do this so decisively that nobody will remember to blame the manager.

The manager is Mr. Stengel, a man who has the open, ingenuous countenance of a cabbage just coming to flower, set off by a pair of ears with the alert air of a beagle. He also has a glib tongue and a sixth place ball club.

"Sixth place?" he echoed, astounded, before today's meeting with the Red Sox. "Who's going to finish third, fourth and fifth, hey? Don't pitching and hitting win ball games, or are they playing another way this time without letting me know? I've got the pitching to stop the other guy and my hitters will make you think they're playing cricket—you know, 156, not out.

Good Pitchers

"Say, every time I think of Mungo, Earnshaw, Frankhouse, Clark, Brandt and those other guys of mine buzzing them by the opposition's bosom, I just shudder and avert my gaze. It's going to be frightful." He shook his head in mild wonder that such things should be. "Frightful," he added, absently.

It was only a coincidence of course, but three or four of his infielders passed at the moment Mr. Stengel shuddered. They haven't got around to it yet but, when they do, they're going to be very frightful. All they need to make the act complete is sliding Billy Watson.

Briefly, I'd say the set-up, speaking both technically and personally, is something like this: hardened, elderly pitchers with plenty of control, is so that at least everybody has a chance to finish the game the same day; infielders with young legs who can run out and help bring the ball back from Albany; a centerfielder who can catch three-base hits. The catching staff is made up of guys named Berres, Millies and Phelps. It's strictly saskatoon, but Phelps can hit.

Depends On Rookies

In other words, the ball club has exchanged substance through its middle-namely Lopez and Cuccinello—for a few frills, with no harm done. The Dodgers were going to finish sixth, anyhow; so now they'll do it with a little more excitement.

Linus Frey is the holdover at shortstop. Vince Sherlock wasn't bad in a few games late in 1935 but the jury's still out on that one. Jimmy Jordan is still around.

Buddy Hassett is supposed to be the first baseman, but Stengel talks more about Dick Siebert, from Buffalo. Either way, it's possible for the club to wind up with two first basemen who won't do. It may be that Randy Moore, listed as one outfielder, will play first base and that Jim Bucher, listed as another will play third base.

Stripp Missing

Meanwhile, the club has a third baseman, Mr. Joe Stripp, who is wintering in New Jersey. Mr. Stripp, as I get it, is not esteemed, because he has marked limitations. All he can do is play baseball. He'll probably be playing it when the season opens. Frank Skaff, up from Peoria, is doing all right for himself here but doesn't seem to figure largely in Mr. Stengel's plans.

These latter, as I've explained, call for a centerfielders who can climb in among the customers. The man in question looks like Johnny Cooney, the reformed pitcher. Nobody wanted Cooney because he's 35. But he hit .371 for Indianapolis and looks and acts like 25. I'll be surprised if he isn't still playing centerfield for the club in 1937. Freddie Lindstrom still ought to be good, but I don't know. By this time, neither does Freddie. He's hitting well here.

Yankees Defeat Reds Team 13-8

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 20.—Monte Pearson and Johnny Broaca will hurl for the Yankees against Paul Derringer today when the McCarthymen meet the Cincinnati Reds here in the second of a two-game series. At St. Petersburg yesterday the Yanks defeated the Reds 13-8.

On Jan. 15, 1831, the first regular passenger service on an American railroad was instituted. The name of the locomotive was the Best Friend, and was on the Charleston and Hamburg railroad.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Market Turns Irregular After Strong Opening, Outlook Hopeful

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—The Stock market turned irregular today, after early strength on the more hopeful outlook abroad and alleviated conditions in most flood areas.

Steels, rails, coppers and aviations drifted toward lower levels, while alcohols, building shares, chemicals and motors were features on the upside.

In alcohol shares Schenley, National Distillers and American Commercial Alcohol moved about a point higher.

General Motors continued a leader although losing part of the early point gain that had lifted the stock to 65, Chrysler, though, lost nearly a point at one time.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem dipped fractionally. Losses in the rails ran to nearly a point, with Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio hardest hit. Both these roads have suffered unestimated damage from the floods.

American Telephone slumped 4 points at one time.

U. C. governments recovered sharply after recent weakness in heavy dealings. Grains were slightly lower, but cotton was steady.

PHILLIES WIN GAME

(International News Service)

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 20. The Phillies sought revenge today as they lined up against the Washington Senators, who defeated them in a Grapefruit league game last week. At the same time, the Phils were after their third straight training camp victory, having trounced the Newark Bears, 5 to 1, yesterday behind gilt-edged hurling, an airtight defense and timely hitting.

Americanism: Praising the Civil Service merit system; killing 44,598 Civil Service jobs and appointing 233,739 new job holders in three years.

ELLWOOD MOBILIZES FOR FLOOD RELIEF

Huge Army Of Workers Making Complete Canvass Of City For Necessities

ORGANIZE TO AID THURSDAY NIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Concerted action of all agencies in Ellwood City responded to the human cry of relief and need to the flood victims of Beaver Valley and the Pittsburgh district today. A united drive of fraternal, patriotic, civic organizations, Boy Scouts and high school students, was launched early this morning for a complete canvass of the city, to obtain food, clothing bedding, shelter, shoes and other necessities.

This was the result of a special meeting held last night by the Chamber of Commerce in their rooms after instigation of their booster committee to start a relief fund drive. Representatives of the above organizations as well as borough and school officials were present. Paul N. Grannis, president of merchants' division of the chamber, presided on the occasion. J. S. Bowater was elected as the relief treasurer who will be responsible for all donations of money received. The ten local councilmen were in charge of the drive in their own ward. They are William McGlincey, J. P. Meneice, A. D. Henderson, Frank Biordi, Clyde S. Hill, Haryr Caplan, President A. J. Howell, P. N. Harlan, Paxton R. Fike and Ernest J. Reinheimer. The People's National bank will be the depository for money donations.

Each of these were allowed as many cars as necessary to canvass their ward. All the local garages, other concerns, and interested citizens donated cars. All the Boy Scouts of the city and the entire Senior A Class of the high school started the canvassing this morning. An empty store room formerly occupied by Crawford's on Lawrence avenue is the general headquarters. O. J. Kemp is in charge of canvassing the business houses and Mr. Bowater the manufacturers. Mr. Shearer is in charge of the bakeries who were to collaborate in sending a truck load of bread to Pittsburgh this morning. He stated that there is a shortage of flour in town as the stock got caught in the flood. Councilman Harry Caplan then came forth and donated five barrells of flour for the cause. Mr. Caplan is the owner of the local Premium Supply Company. C. E. Sankey, representing the local Tube Plant offered the bedding facilities of the old Shelby rooming house on First street and Fountain avenue. It is hoped that some oil or coal stoves can be secured as this is a great need. If these are carefully labelled it is assured that they will be returned.

The solicitations are scheduled to close at noon Saturday. Citizens are requested to neatly wrap their donations and place them on the porch until the arrival of the canvassers. If anyone is overlooked and it is inconvenient for them to bring their donation to the general headquarters, they can call 800, 500, 135, 203M or 3-J, and a car will call. J. Nelson Runyan is in charge of the transportation facilities. The outlying districts will also be combed. Money donations can be left at Eicholtz's in Ewing Park, West Brothers in the Fourth Ward, Grannis Cleaning Co., Chamber of Commerce, Burgess R. T. Sitler, People's Community Loan and the Building and Loan.

The appeal of Burgess Sitler for aid at the meeting last night was greeted with a marvelous response today. There was a flood of donations and the streets of the city were lively with workers. In a truck donated by C. H. Smith the Council of Jewish women sent a box of clothing and the B'nai B'rith 100 loaves of bread to Pittsburgh this morning.

Cleveland School Seeks Denny Schill

Offer May Be Made For Ellwood High Athletic Director To Go To Cleveland

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Strong efforts are being made to induce Russell J. "Denny" Schill, athletic director of Ellwood City high school for the past year, to accept a similar position at the Shaw high school in Cleveland, O., according to reliable information received here today.

It is understood that Schill heads the list of many applicants and that there is every reason to believe that the post will be offered to him. The Cleveland school board does not meet until April 6. John Snavely, who held the position at Shaw high school for 14 years, is the retiring coach.

In a telephone conversation with the writer this morning, Coach Schill wos more or less non-committal. He did not deny that he did not discuss the situation at Cleveland last Saturday. Although Coach Schill did state, "I have not received any word of their offer as yet."

It is very unlikely that school authorities will leave Schill go from Ellwood City without a battle, and are expected to take some action in the near future.

Officers Elected By Ladies Aid

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church held its regular quarterly meeting last night in the church rooms, with a good attendance present.

After a delicious tureen dinner an important business meeting was held. The annual election of officers was held which resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Paul Winter; vice-president, Mrs. Clyde Hill; secretary, Mrs. Paul Reynolds; treasurer, Mrs. Jake Welling.

The feature of the evening was an interesting address by Mrs. Graham of Sewickley. Some plans for flood relief were discussed after this. The next regular meeting of the society will take place on April 16.

King's Daughters Elects Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, March 20.—King's Daughters Bible class of the U. P. church held a tureen dinner last night with 25 present.

Mrs. James Liebendorfer was in charge of the business meeting. The annual election of officers was held. Mrs. T. D. Jones was elected president; Mrs. Fred Duncan vice president; Mrs. James Moyer, secretary; Mrs. John McKim, treasurer. Plans were discussed to aid flood victims. A social time followed.

On April 16 the class will meet again.

B. And P. W. Club Has Social Meeting

Club To Give All Facilities To Aid Flood Relief Victims In Vicinity

ELLWOOD CITY, March 20.—Last night the Business and Professional Women's club held a social meeting at the Hostess House on Glen avenue. Miss Mabel Gemmill, Miss Mary Humphrey and Mrs. Anne Wilkoff were hostesses.

Mrs. Laura Herge and Mrs. Edith Barnhart attended the Chamber of Commerce flood relief meeting. After their report the club pledged its aid, Miss Louise Barton and Mrs. Catherine Charles will assist at the general headquarters on Lawrence avenue.

The sending of several members to the state convention at Erie in the near future was discussed. Remainder of the evening was spent in chat and monopoly. Lunch was later served.

On April 7 the club will hold its next meeting in the form of a dinner meeting at the Hostess House.

Rotary Club Has Farmer's Night

Interesting Talks Given By County Farm Agents Here Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20—It was farmer's night at the weekly meeting of the Ellwood City Rotary club Thursday in the First Presbyterian church. Each Rotarian brought a farmer friend as a guest. Storm conditions did not hinder any of the local people from attending, but made it impossible for Kenneth Hook, State College, to be present and give his address.

The program was in charge of W. H. Goehring. Addresses were given by Ross M. Gridley, County Agent for Beaver County and Harold McCullough, County Agent for Lawrence County, Mr. Gridley compared the pioneer farmers in this area with the farmers of today. Whereas, the farmer of the early days produced most of the things which he used on his own farm, the farmer of today exchanges the produce of his farm with the products of our industrial system, scattered over the whole country.

Mr. McCullough said one of the items of debt which the city owed the farm was that of the constant stream of young people going from the farm to the city. The city has a 6 per cent smaller birth rate than death rate, and the country and small towns a 30 per cent larger birth rate than death rate. He said it was estimated that it cost $2500 to raise a boy or girl to the age of fifteen. He also gave interesting figures showing the average wages of farmers and city people to be about the same, about $1.30 a day for a family of five. The meeting throughout was an enthusiastic one. Dr. W. H. Shields had a replica of a section of barn in miniature, showing how the structure is braced.

Dorothy Lee Ullom Dies After Illness

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Dorothy Lee, eight year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Ullom of Park avenue passed away yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock after being stricken with diphtheria for a short period.

Besides her parents the deceased leaves one brother, James at home. A private funeral service took place this afternoon at 2:30 from the late home. Burial took place in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Special Meeting Held By Council

Set Funds Aside For Construction Of New Municipal Building Here

Property Offered For Ellwood Airport; Local Policeman Resigns

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20.—Suitable property for an Ellwood City airport was offered the borough council at a special meeting in the city building last night. This was done through Borough Manager Lowell W. Monroe who stated that the Hart farm, one and a half miles from the city was favorable for this purpose.

The property was found adaptable if council would sponsor the project. It was stated that it would cost the borough very little. Councilman P. R. Fike's motion to quash the move was passed. The property is located near Belton.

Council passed a resolution offered by J. P. Meneice to transfer the sum of $16,945 from the electric light fund to the Special Building fund, to take care of preliminary expenses to the construction of a new municipal building in Ellwood City. This is in addition to the $55,000 that the borough must borrow from the federal government.

The resignation of Edwin A. Clarke, patrolman on the police force was received and accepted at this time. The resignation was dated March 16. Mr. Clarke accepted a position as a guard at the local Tube plant.

Geneva Glee Club Presents Concert

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 20—Last night the Geneva Girls Glee Club presented a program of music and drama at the First Presbyterian church.

Opening with a group of college songs and closing with the Alma Mater, the group varied the presentation with sacred music, solos and a one-act play, "This Is So Sudden." Though weakened by the absence of several members the club performed capably under the direction of Miss Evelyn Rose.

Miss Marjorie Doak sang two outstanding solos, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from "Samson and Delilah," and "I Loved a Lassie." Miss Mabel Rhodes also sang an excellent solo the Twenty-Fifth Psalm. Miss Betsy Ross played as well a piano solo.

Three Ellwood girls, Misses Jane Stevenson, Bessie Burrows and Amelia Sirianni are members of the Glee club. They have sung throughout this district.

'Eat The Negus' Italian Pastime

(International News Service)

ROME.—"Eat the Negus!" has become Rome's favorite after-theatre pastime.

It began when an enterprising confectioner here devised an ice-cream shaped after the head of Haile Selassie. He put a sign in his window:

"Eat the Negus—One Lira." First, out of curiosity, people paid the lira for the privilege of "eating the Negus." But it was such good eating that sales mounted rapidly.
